HEAVY DOWNPOUR OF RAIN DOES MUCH DAMAGE IN LOWELL

Streets Gutted and Cellars Flooded All Over City—Sewers and Catch Basins Unable to Cope With Miniature Floods—More Than 600 Telephones Out of Commission

Hundreds of cellars were flooded, gravel streets and cinder sidewalks were ripped up and gutted to a depth of several feet, hundreds of dollars worth of garden truck was ruined, more than 600 individual telephones were ripped up and gutted to a cars were stalled and sewers and catch basins were rendered practically useless yesterday when the entire city was drenched for more than two hours by a downpour of rain that reached torrential and cloud-burst proportions when at its peak at about 11.30 a. m.

Heavy Precipitation

Almost an unprecedented precipitation of 3½ inches was measured at the Pawtucket dam by officials of the Locks & Canals Corp., but this means little or nothing when compared to the great concentrations of flood water in practically every section of the city.

The heavens seemed to split wide open at about 10.30 o'clock although from sunrise the day had been showery. From 10.30 until noon, however, the city was literally deluged with water and in no time at all, sewers and catch basins had backed up, entirely unable to cope with or carry off the huge volumes of water that were being sent toward them.

It was then that the real danger of the rain began to be apparent. From gutters the water spread over paved roadways and rose rapidly to inundate curbings and sidewalks. It stretched over lawns and began to run into cellars. Gravel streets, particularly those on which there was a grade, were washed away with alarming

Recognize Patterson as Champion

PARIS, Sept. 5. (By the Associated Press.)—The French Tennis Federation recognizes Gerald Patterson of Australia as the grass court tennis champion of the world, despite his defeat last week in the Davis cup matches at Forest Hills by William T. Tilden 2nd, of Philadelphia, it was said today. The French Federation also will consider Henri Cochet as the hard court champion by virtue of his victory early this summer in Brussels. The Federation reserves liberty of action with regard to the suggestion recently made that the world championship tournaments be held alternately in America and England, with the Davis cup matches to be played every four years. It is suggested that this matter be referred to the international lawn tennis federation.

Lawrence Strike Officially at End

LAWRENCE, Sept. 5.—The Lawrence strike is officially at an end. The Everett and Patchogue-Plymouth mills, the last of the plants to grant a return of the old wage scale, were reopened today with many workers going back to their jobs, and the Pacific mills, the first to give in, reported a large gain in the number of workers this morning. None of the mill officials would state in numbers how many were working. It will be several days, they said, before all the departments can operate, however rapidly the workers may return.

"Mother" Jones Recovering From Illness

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—"Mother" Jones, leader in many industrial battles, is recovering from the effects of her recent illness and may soon be expected "back in the ranks," according to her friends.

Found Guilty in Kidnapping Case

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 5. (By the Associated Press:)—Col. Enrique Goldbaum Padilla was found guilty, early this morning by a military court martial of usurpation of authority in connection with the recent kidnapping episode of A. Bruce Bielaska, former head of the bureau of investigation of the American Department of Justice. Col. Padilla was sentenced to 10 years imprisonment.

Bishop Samuel Fallows Dead

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—Bishop Samuel Fallows, presiding bishop of the Reformed Episcopal church, famous as preacher, soldier, author and lecturer, died today, at his residence, after an illness of less than a month. He was approaching his 87th birthday. He fell ill of pneumonia last winter and to that was attributed the beginning of his fatal illness.

GROWING LIST OF OUTBREAKS INCIDENT TO RAIL STRIKE

Injunction Universally Condemned By Union Leaders—Gompers Calls Writ Unconstitutional—Federal Court Action in Cases Growing Out of Arrests for Alleged Violations of Injunction

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—With the convening of the senate and house after the Labor day adjournment and a meeting of the cabinet today, the government was again centering its attention on the coal and rail situations. Return of officials and labor leaders who left town to spend the holiday or to fill speaking engagements, was expected to further bring to a focus the industrial situation after the brief lull in developments.

The administration bill to prevent profiteering in coal prices was still before the senate today. Chairman Cummins of the interstate commerce committee was prepared to continue his efforts to have the senate substitute its own bill for that already passed by the house, which he has stated, he believes goes outside the jurisdiction of the federal government by undertaking to regulate intrastate movement of coal.

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—With the government's rail strike injunction universally condemned by union leaders in Labor day messages yesterday, impending federal court action in cases

Sen. Reed Confident Miners Convention Will Approve Settlement

Predicts Production of Hard Coal Will Be Well Under Way Next Week

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Confidence that the agreement reached in Philadelphia Saturday night will be ratified by the anthracite miners' convention tomorrow in Wilkesbarre, was expressed today by Senator Reed, of Pennsylvania, in a conference with President Harding. The production of hard coal will be well under way by the end of next week, Mr. Reed predicted.

ACTRESSES TRY TO END LIVES

One Unable to Rid Herself of Addiction to Drugs Takes Poison

Another Made Second Attempt at Suicide Because of Failure to Make Good

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Two actresses attempted suicide today by swallowing poison.

Miss Dennie Harrison, 20 years old, leaving a note saying she was desperate because she was unable to rid herself of addiction to drugs, was found unconscious in her bed which had been set afire by a cigaret. Her condition is serious.

Mrs. Vera Maynard, 32 years old, a widow, who was discharged from Bellevue hospital, two weeks ago after an attempt to end her life, told detectives that she made her second attempt today because she realized that she could not achieve success as a motion picture actress. She added that she would try suicide again if she recovered.

Mrs. Maynard, whose condition is not serious, was picked up at a street corner by two men who took her to a hospital in an automobile.

HAD VERY NARROW ESCAPE

Opera House About to Be Sold When Somebody Hollered "Hold"

Mr. Somebody Then Presented Receipt for Taxes and Sale Was Off

Just as the auction block was being pushed into place and the telltale hammer was ready to "knock down" the Lowell Opera House to the highest bidder this forenoon, someone hollered: "Don't let that hammer fall, mister, things is all right; the old place ain't ready to go just yet."

"How come?" queried the man in in front of the red flag and added, "Where's your proof?"

"Right here," replied the unknown as he pulled out a certified receipt for $1418.90, paid this day to the city of Lowell for taxes of 1920.

"That's proof enough for me, gentleman," announced the auctioneer. "All bets are off; the old place stays just as she sits."

And that's that.

Yes, sir, the old Opera House did not fall ignominiously under the hammer as advertised, for representatives of the holding company got under the municipal wire just a scant nose ahead of the hammer, plunked down the amount of the outstanding obligation, $1418.90 and hastened back to block the sale.

So, the venerable stage that bears the footprints of Southern and Marlowe and countless other theatrical luminaries of yesteryear, still stands, ready for another season if its present owners deem it wise and the chances are they will, according to a statement made today by J. W. Schaake, manager.

VISTED LOWELL MEN AT DEVENS

Despite the rain many Lowell people went to Camp Devens yesterday to visit the boys of M Co., 181st Infantry, now on a tour of duty at the Ayer cantonment. Mayor George H. Brown made the trip, representing the municipal government. It cleared sufficiently early in the afternoon to make the visit well worth while and Capt. George H. Crowell and the men of his command were kept busy greeting friends from home.

TARIFF FIRST THEN BONUS

Conferees Refuse to Side-Track Tariff Bill for the Soldiers' Bonus Measure

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—By a vote of five to three, senate and house conferees refused today to sidetrack the administration tariff bill for the soldiers' bonus measure.

Senators McCumber, republican, North Dakota, and Simmons, North Carolina, and Walsh, Massachusetts, democrats, voted to take up the bonus immediately, but opposing them were Senators Smoot, Utah, republican, and Representatives Fordney, Michigan, Longworth, Ohio, and Green, Iowa, republicans, and Garner, Texas, democrat. Senator McLean, Connecticut, republican, and Representative Collier, democrat, Mississippi and two other conferees were absent.

Chairman Fordney of the house managers led the opposition to immediate consideration of the bonus bill. He argued that the tariff already had been nearly three years in the making and that it should not be laid aside. Urging quick action on the bonus, Chairman McCumber argued that an agreement on this measure probably could be reached within a few hours.

LOWELL CASES BEFORE THE GRAND JURY

Evidence of ten Lowell cases was heard by the grand jury at a session held in this city this morning. The session was conducted in the civil session court room in the court house in Gorham street, and was opened by Justice Hammond of the superior court, while prayer was offered by Rev. N. W. Matthews of the Gorham Street P. M. church. District Attorney Saltonstall and Assistant District Attorney James C. Reilly, the latter of this city, conducted the prosecution, while Capt. Petrie of the criminal bureau presented the local cases.

The cases heard were as follows: Alphonse Chouinard and Michael Themis, carnal abuse of female child; George W. Tice, abduction; Adam Guilmette, manslaughter; Charles Thomas, larceny; Thomas J. Faustino, abuse of female child; Leo F. Allon, abuse of female child; Selliah Omar, abuse of female child; Augustin Fitzgerald, breaking and entering and larceny, two counts; Paul H. Abbott, breaking and entering and larceny, three counts; Rudolph J. Dupont, breaking and entering and larceny.

WAGE CONFERENCE TODAY AT THE LOWELL BLEACHERY

Parties to Conference Include President McMahon of United Textile Workers of America, Chairman Fisher of State Board of Arbitration, Treasurer and Agent of the Plant and a Committee of Employes—One Big Union Representatives in Lowell

President Thomas F. McMahon of the United Textile Workers of America, arrived in Lowell this noon and after visiting the strike leaders repaired to the office of the Lowell Bleachery Co., where, with Chairman Edward Fisher of the state board of arbitration and conciliation and a committee of employes of the plant, he conferred with Treasurer Coolidge and Agent Kiernan relative to the 12½ per cent. wage reduction, which went into effect at the mill a week ago yesterday.

It will be remembered that when the company made the announcement of a 12½ per cent. wage cut, the employes protested and later held a meeting in Trades & Labor hall in Central street. At the close of the meeting it was voted to accept the reduction under protest pending a conference with the mill officials. A few days later the employes conferred with Treasurer Coolidge, but the result of the conference was not made public. Arrangements were later made for a conference with President McMahon and Chairman Fisher.

At the close of this afternoon's conference President McMahon addressed a mass meeting of strikers and friends of the labor movement in Trades & Labor hall.

Columbia Textile Co.

The plant of the Columbia Textile Co. in Market street, which had been shut down since last Thursday after an attempt to run the mill with strike-breakers had proved fruitless, reopened this morning, as it was learned and all the operatives who were on strike returned to work. The strike was settled last Friday when the agent of the mill invited the operatives to return to their work this morning on the old scale of wages.

One Big Union

A largely attended meeting of mill operatives of this city was held in the Polish club rooms in Coburn street Sunday evening, the gathering being addressed by representatives of teh One Big union of Lawrence, in an endeavor to form a branch of the organization in this city. Chairman John Hanley of the local textile strike committee, stated today that the representatives of the One Big union came here at the request of some loomfixers who are employed at the Massachusetts mills and who were expelled from the loomfixers' union after going to work in the mill as strikebreakers. It is not believed that the Lawrence union leaders will have any luck in organizing a branch of their organization in this city.

Looking For Help

A loomfixer formerly employed in the local mills and who is now working in New Bedford, informed the local strike leaders this morning that three of the large cotton mills of New Bedford were looking for loomfixers and weavers. The mills are running full blast, he reported, and are preparing to operate a night force.

LOWELL DISTRICT COURT

Alleged Gamblers Arraigned and Fined—Many Arrests Over the Week End

This morning's session of the district court, coming after a three day holiday, broke all records for attendance in these days of drouth and empty jails. Forty-eight drunks were taken into custody throughout the city during this period, 29 of them being later released, and 26 men faced the court for being present where gaming instruments were found. The city coffers were swelled to the tune of $260 in a very few minutes as the result of the conviction of these gamesters. There was also evidence of the work of the liquor squad as there were several liquor cases before the court. Judge Enright quickly disposed of the lengthy docket, however, as the majority of the cases were tried in groups.

As a result of a raid on a house at 45 Lee street by the vice squad last night, 15 men, giving the names of Chin Kee, Ah Sing, Henry Thom, Chin Tong, On Lee, Chin King, Tow Chin, Hong Lee, Chin Sing, Chin Ping, Lee Foo, Chin Aak, Chin Low, George Sing, and Sam Wong were fined $10 apiece for being present where gaming instruments were found. Frank Goncalves, John Mendes, Manuel Gravel, Manuel Enis and Jesso Perry, arrested while participating in a crap game in a house on South street, were found guilty of the same offence and fined $10 each. Card playing at a club in Moody street brought Joseph Lamoureaux, Alfred Jacques, William Bellerose, Ovila Parent, Joseph Perre, and Louis Boucher before the court on the same charge and the usual fine of $10 was handed out each of the defendants. This brought the total

THE LUNDBURG STREET BRIDGE

A special meeting of the board of public service was called for 4 o'clock this afternoon for the purpose of taking definite and final action upon the proposed reconstruction of the Lundborg street bridge over the B. & M. tracks, which has been condemned and is closed to all vehicular travel.

In order that the board may have every angle of the matter before it for consideration, Mayor George H. Brown has been asked to attend the meeting for the purpose of ascertaining whether he will approve the borrowing or raising of sufficient money to do the job.

The board has three plans of a new bridge before it, ranging in total cost from $46,000 to $60,000. Also, it is understood that there is approximately $40,000 available for bridge construction, but before the public service board adopts any one of the three plans submitted it desires the mayor's assurance that the money will be forthcoming.

"Something must be done to the bridge immediately," said Dennis J. Murphy, chairman of the board, today "and the special meeting has been called to settle it."

"Sylpho-Nathol made Herbert's feet feel fine"

"Herbert's work keeps him on his feet for hours at a time. He walks miles and miles every day. In hot weather, his feet used to hurt him dreadfully—they would swell and get so tender he couldn't sleep at night. But Sylpho-Nathol gave him quick relief.

"Letty Hayward told me about Sylpho-Nathol and its many uses. I bought a bottle at the druggist's. The directions recommended it for tired and aching feet.

"Herbert came home that evening with his feet driving him nearly crazy. He tried Sylpho-Nathol as soon as I told him about it. A tablespoonful in a gallon of warm water made a clean-smelling, pearly-gray solution. My dear! I wish you could have heard Herbert. 'Sylpho-Nathol is certainly a life-saver, Bess,' he said, as it soothed the soreness away. 'It's great stuff to have in the house—don't let's ever be without it.'"

But Sylpho-Nathol has many other important uses. In cleaning-water, it destroys germs which lurk in dust and dirt and threaten family health. As a sprinkle, it quickly dispels the unpleasant odors which come in sink pipes and drains and other hard-to-get-at places. It is indispensable in the bathroom, around the toilet fixtures and as a flush for the closet bowl. It is a dependable antiseptic, which deserves a place in every home medicine chest.

Sylpho-Nathol is 4½ times stronger than carbolic acid, yet it is as safe to have about the house as a cake of soap. Your druggist or grocer has Sylpho-Nathol in four handy sizes, 15c, 35c, 65c and $1.25. If he hasn't it he can get it easily. Ask for it by name—"Sylpho-Nathol."

GIRLS! WHITEN SKIN WITH LEMON JUICE

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of harmless and delightful lemon bleach. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day, then shortly note the beauty and whiteness of your skin.

Famous stage beauties use this lemon lotion to bleach and bring that soft, clear, rosy-white complexion, also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach because it doesn't irritate.—Adv.

"POOR LITTLE RICH GIRL"

Miss Muriel McCormick Refuses $1,000,000 Contract to Appear in Movies

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—Nawanna Micor, who in everyday life is Muriel McCormick, has refused a $1,000,000 contract to appear in a motion picture, according to friends.

Miss McCormick refused to make any comment on her plans today, being busy moving from the home of her father, Harold F. McCormick, who recently married Ganna Walska, the Polish opera star, to an attic studio, three flights up, where she will pursue her operatic studies.

The apartment she will occupy is just across the street from the home of her mother, Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, daughter of John D. Rockefeller, from whom she has been estranged since the divorce which was obtained by Mrs. McCormick upon charges of desertion. Miss McCormick, who is known to her Gold Coast friends as "The poor little rich girl," has expressed her desire to become a grand opera star, and to achieve success through her own efforts alone and without the assistance of her family's wealth.

ROUGH COATS ARE MODISH

A herringbone on the back is worth half a dozen on the plate this season. Women have taken over all woolen stuffs in this pattern—formerly monopolized by men—and are making fall and winter coats of them.

These coats are of the rough-and-ready variety. Some of them are made with voluminous over-capes to shield one from the "gauld" blasts. Some have sleeves set in several inches below the shoulder. Others have raglan sleeves.

They are made with collars that button tight under the chin, are severely notched, tailored fashion, or are slightly draped in the back and roll open in front.

The materials are all herringbone weaves, checked and plaid wool velours, plaid backed coatings, wool tricot and suede.

TO RETURN 500,000,000 GOLD FRANCS

PARIS, Sept. 5. (By the Associated Press.)—It is announced that approximately 500,000,000 gold francs of the 1,948,000,000 of French gold on deposit with the Bank of England since 1916, as guarantee for credits advanced to the French government, are to be returned to France within a few days.

Considerable satisfaction is expressed in the ministry of finance and the Bank of France and it is planned to continue the payments against which the gold was hypothecated until the entire amount is returned.

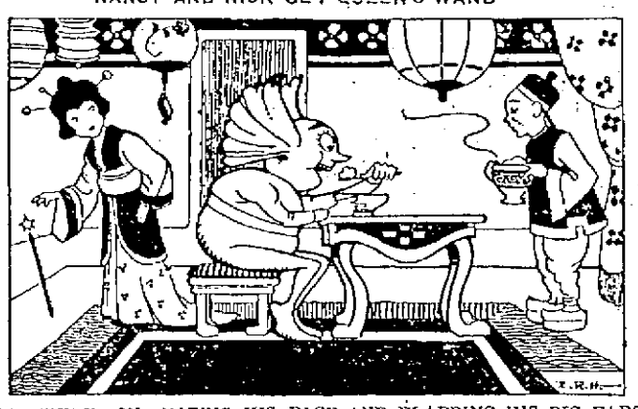
Adventures of the Twins

NANCY AND NICK GET QUEEN'S WAND



HE WENT ON EATING HIS RICE AND FLAPPING HIS BIG EARS

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

Nancy wondered and wondered how she and Nick could get the Fairy Queen's wand from Flap-Doodle, the purple fairy, who had stolen it.

Flap-Doodle and the Twins were eating rice together out of bowls with chopsticks. The Twins had invited Flap-Doodle to have some lunch.

Suddenly Nancy thought of a plan. "That's a nice chopstick you brought with you, Mr. Flap-Doodle," she said. "Do you care if I try it?"

Flap-Doodle didn't know what to say. He looked over to the place he had put the wand and wished he had kept it by him.

"Oh, I guess not," he said off-hand like, as though he didn't care.

So Nancy went and got the Fairy Queen's wand.

Flap-Doodle never once guessed that the little Chinese boy called Nick Oo Ting was just plain Nick, and that the little Chinese girl called Nan Soy was his Twin, Nancy. So he didn't worry much.

He went on eating his rice and flapping his big ears, never noticing that Nancy was motioning to Nick behind his back.

All at once he heard Nick say:

"Please, Green Shoes, take us down to the earth to the Fairy Queen's palaces."

Flap-Doodle made a jump and a grab, but he was too late.

The Twins, holding tight to the magic wand, were already far away in the sky, traveling headlong toward the earth as fast as two little comets.

"Hopping frogs and leaping toads!" cried Flap-Doodle. "This is an outrage! I've been fooled. I'll have to get that magic wand in my power again."

He flew after the Twins as fast as his ears would carry him, talking to himself every inch of the way.

They passed the Moon and Venus and Mars and Jupiter, also the star where the Weatherman lived.

But people on the stars only said: "There goes something. What dropped, do you suppose?"

TO RATIFY COMPROMISE COAL PROPOSALS

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 5.—Anthracite union leaders who have not already left Philadelphia were to go to Wilkesbarre today to prepare for the convention of delegates from the three districts of United Mine Workers in the hard coal regions. The convention, which will open tomorrow afternoon, will vote upon ratification of the compromise proposals of United States Senators Pepper and Reed of Pennsylvania for ending the labor struggle which has kept the mines idle for more than five months.

Reports from the anthracite fields indicate that the vote will be in favor of ratification, although a fight upon the plan is promised by the more radical element of the miners, who wish to insist upon extending the scale until April 1, 1921, at least.

If the plan is ratified, mining is expected to be resumed by next Monday.

CAPT. ROSENBLUTH WILL NOT GO BEFORE JURY

SEATTLE, Sept. 6—Willingness to testify before a federal grand jury to sit at Tacoma, Sept. 25, to investigate the fatal shooting of Major Alexander Cronkhite, at Camp Lewis, Sept. 25, 1918, is expressed by Capt. Robert Rosenbluth in a letter received by his friends here.

"I am offering to go before the grand jury," says the letter, "waiving all immunity, provided that it also is agreed this is not to be legal recognition of any federal jurisdiction, so that later I could not secure legal redress for this illegal step of the department of justice.

"In any case I do not think the department has the nerve to let me testify before a grand jury and show them how even the record of my own statements has been deliberately falsified."

Capt. Rosenbluth was accused of having induced Bugler Sergt. Roland Pothier of Central Falls, R. I., to do the shooting.

EX-KAISER'S INTENDED BRIDE WIDOW OF 34

LONDON, Sept. 5.—The former kaiser's intended bride is the Princess Hermine of Reuss, 34 years old widow, according to a report quoted by the Daily Mail's Berlin correspondent.

The engagement, he adds, will not be announced until after the anniversary of the late ex-kaiserin's birthday, Oct. 23.

The Times of London on Aug. 25 published a report that former Emperor William was betrothed to the widow of a German aristocrat, almost of royal rank. It was said that she had recently visited William at Doorn, Holland, his place of exile, and that their marriage would take place the coming winter.

Princess Hermine of Reuss is the widow of Prince Jean of Schonaich-Carolath, who died in April, 1920. She was born Dec. 17, 1887, and is the mother of five children, the eldest of whom is 14. She owns a large estate at Saarbar, Silesia.

SQUARES DEDICATED IN MEMORY OF LOWELL HEROES

Representatives of Nation, State and City March in Pouring Rain—Grandniece of Marquis Lafayette One of Speakers

Eight squares in the up-town district of the city were yesterday dedicated to the memories of eight Lowell heroes who laid down their lives on the battlefields of France in the World war. The exercises were not as elaborate as planned because of the rain, which came down in torrents in the middle of the forenoon, but nevertheless all the squares were visited and despite the torrential downpour, the tablets were unveiled and wreaths of flowers were tenderly placed upon them as a token of remembrance.

The dedication exercises were conducted under the auspices of the local post of the American Legion and the squares dedicated were as follows: Armand Alix square, junction of Common and Clark; Ralph Lashua square, Merrimack and Cabot; Joseph Mercier square, Moody and Tremont; William H. Clouatre square, Aiken and Moody; Bernard L. Boisvert square, Lakeview avenue and Aiken avenue; Alderic Veuillette square, Hall, Perkins, Ward and Pawtucket; Philippe Chalifoux square, Moody and Riverside, and Henry Cognac square, Merrimack and Pawtucket.

Members of the American Legion headed by Major Frederick Estes, assembled at Memorial hall and headed by Reagan's Military band marched to the North common, where the first dedication took place. In line with the soldiers were Mayor George H. Brown and Representative Henri Achin, while in the rear Mlle. Paulette Naudain-Huet, a grandniece of the Marquis de Lafayette, rode in an automobile. Another machine conveyed the principal speaker of the day, Rev. Aurelien Mercil, O.M.I., of St. Joseph's.

The exercises, which were presided over by Commander Stephen C. Garrity of the Legion, consisted of band selections, addresses by Rev. Fr. Mercil, O.M.I., Mayor Brown and Rep. Achin; the unveiling of the tablets, prayers for the deceased soldiers, the sounding of "taps" by Bugler Emile Lamoureux, and the playing of "America" by the band.

Priv. Armand Alix square at Common and Clark streets was the first to be dedicated, the unveiling of the tablet being done by the widow of the deceased soldier, Mrs. Armand Alix of Andrews street. Rev. Fr. Mercil, O.M.I., was the first speaker. He was introduced by Commander Garrity. In the course of his address the reverend gentleman said: "We are gathered here today to honor the memory of some of our citizens who died for our country. Priv. Armand Alix made the supreme sacrifice and made it courageously. Well may we be proud of such gallant men, who fought valiantly for the rights of America. They bore their hardships patiently with unswerving courage and have won the confidence and admiration of the whole world."

The speaker then paid a tribute to the French Poilus, saying they fought valiantly side by side with the American soldiers against the foe. "Well may we be proud of the defenders of our country," he continued. In dedicating these squares to the memories of heroes, the local post of the American Legion may be sure that it is giving expression of the admiration of the entire city.

Mayor Brown said: "It is proper that we meet here today to pay a tribute to the young men who gave up their lives. As mayor of the city of Lowell I officially name this square "Priv. Armand Alix square."

Representative Henri Achin, representing the state, said he wanted to add the homage of the 4,000,000 citizens of the commonwealth to the memory and honor of the deceased heroes. "These young men lived right here, we knew them well, we cherished and loved them. They were American citizens, who died in their second country, France. When we come through these squares in the future, let us say a solemn prayer for the men whose names are emblazoned above the streets, for it is through their heroism that our country has remained the first in the world."

At the close of the addresses "taps" was sounded by Bugler Lamoureux, while Mrs. Alix unveiled the tablet. Then the band played "America," and the procession continued its way to the junction of Cabot and Merrimack streets, where the unveiling of the tablet was done by Mrs. Lashua, mother of Priv. Lashua. At Tremont and Moody streets, the unveiling was done by Francis Mercier, father of deceased, who came here from Southbridge. Mrs. Agnes Clouatre unveiled the tablet to the memory of her son at Aiken and Moody streets, while Mr. and Mrs. Jacques Boisvert officiated at Lakeview and Aiken avenues. Owing to the illness of Mrs. Annie Veuillette, the square at Ward and Perkins sts. was unveiled by a brother of deceased, Arthur Veuillette. The unveiling of the tablet at Riverside and Moody streets was done by Mrs. Chalifoux, mother of the young hero.

The last dedication on the program was at the C.M.A.C. When the procession reached this point the rain was coming down in torrents and it was practically impossible to conduct outdoor exercises. Mrs. Isidore Cognac, mother of the young men to whose memory the square was dedicated, unveiled the tablet and this was followed by prayer, which was offered by Very Rev. J. P. Turcotte, O.M.I.

Those present later repaired to the assembly hall of the club, where President J. A. N. Chretien paid a tribute to Private Cognac and all the other Lowell heroes. He said the French-speaking residents of this city were proud of their sons, who gave up their lives so freely and who fought so valiantly, and made reference to the distinguished visitor, Mlle. Paulette Naudain-Huet, who, he said, lost a brother and five cousins in the World war. He also stated that the American soldier boys were entertained by Mlle. Huet at her chateau in France. Mlle. Huet, who was then introduced spoke in part as follows: "At first let me thank you for the honor you confer upon me in requesting me to speak. I will be very brief. I will simply give you the message of France. I am glad to represent my dear country at such a ceremony. I assure you that France will be immensely thankful to America for having sent her boys to fight for civilization.

"France sends her homage to all your valiant soldiers who died gloriously on the battlefields, and I am happy to tell you that France will never forget. The graves of your boys buried in France are being very well taken care of, for little French children often decorate them with flowers. Back in France I will see that the graves of the heroes of Lowell are especially decorated as a mark of my deep appreciation for their sacrifices and also for the splendid welcome you have given me in your city.

"I wish to extend my thanks to all in Lowell, but particularly to the mayor of your city, his secretary, Mr. Joseph Clouatre; Mr. Maurice Lambert and Mr. and Mrs. Adolphe Lamontagne, who have made my stay in your city very pleasant.

"The Marquis de Lafayette loved America as his adopted country and to me America and France are equally dear. To the parents of the deceased soldiers I extend my sympathy. Somewhere in France, in Verdun, my only brother was killed, so today I deeply share your sadness. America and France are proud of their boys, who were killed on the battlefields and in the name of France I assure you of the love of all France for America."

BEING QUESTIONED ON GARY TRAIN WRECK

Says Wealthy Society Women Swindled

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—After delving for more than a week into the secrets of Albert J. Moore's "life institute" for healing sad hearts and unhappy homes, Assistant State Attorney McLaughlin announced today that he had enough evidence to warrant indictment of Moore for swindling his "disciples" who included many wealthy society women. Mrs. James H. Cartwright, wife of Justice Cartwright of the Illinois supreme court, was among Moore's accusers, who caused an inquiry into Moore's cult. W. W. Talcott, ice cream manufacturer, who brought the original charges against Moore, because of his wife's interest in the cult, committed suicide last week by jumping into Lake Michigan.

Fierce Attack By Irregular Forces

BELFAST, Sept. 5. (By the Associated Press.)—Irregular forces made a fierce attack on the barracks at Carrick, across county Monaghan, at 2 o'clock this morning. They maintained a heavy fire on the front and rear with machine guns, rifles, revolvers and bombs. The 40 defenders, however, successfully withstood the attack. The Irregulars lost one man killed and two others wounded.

Thousands Of Women Are Now Taking This Newer Form Of Iron

Worn-out Housewife Tells How She Quickly Regained Her Health and Strength.

"Only a short two weeks ago I was so tired, nervous and worn-out from the drain on my nerves and strength of household drudgery, that I thought I could not keep up another day.

A short two weeks' treatment of the newer form of iron has given me a marvelous increase in health, strength and energy. Now I can do my whole house without help, and do not have to sit at home in the evening "all-in" sick and nervous."

"The above is a typical hypothetical case," says Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physican of Bellevue Hospital (Out-Door Dept.) New York, and the Westchester County Hospital. "You cannot be well and strong and full of vigor, force and power unless your blood is rich in iron. It is your red blood that enables you to resist and overcome disease and that nourishes every organ in your body. Without iron your blood becomes thin, pale and watery. Poor blood cannot nourish your vital organs and as a result you may have pains in your heart or kidneys, indigestion, headaches, and feel all "run-down" and tired out.

When your blood lacks iron do not waste your time taking stimulating medicines or narcotic drugs, but directly enrich your blood with the newer form of iron sold by all druggists under the name of Nuxated Iron, which is like the iron in spinach, lentils, and apples, and is in a form easily assimilated into your blood.

Get a bottle of Nuxated Iron today. Take it for two weeks and if you have not, like thousands of others, obtained most surprising health, strength and energy, the manufacturers will promptly refund your money. The following local druggists will sell you Nuxated Iron with this "satisfaction or money back" guarantee.

If Mothers Only Knew

Thousands of Children Suffer From Worries and Their Mothers Do Not Know What the Trouble Is

Signs of Worms are: Constipation deranged stomach, swollen upper lip, offensive breath, hard and full stomach with pains, pale face, eyes heavy, short dry cough, grinding of the teeth, little red points on the tongue, starting during sleep with troublesome dreams, slow fever.

Mrs. H. N. Roberts, 502 Asylum St., Flint, Mich., wrote to Dr. J. F. True & Co.: "My little girl is relieved of her worms." And in a later letter wrote: "Baby is fine and it was your medicine, Dr. True's Elixir, the True Family Laxative and Worm Expeller, that helped her."

A favorite for over 70 years; mild in action and pleasant to take—the kiddies like it. 40c—60c—$1.20.—Adv.

FOR REVISION OF PRAYER BOOK

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 5.—If members of the commission on prayer book revision have their views accepted, Episcopalians rarely will have read to them from the altar, scriptural passages that are imprecatory in nature—that call for dire vengeance or a curse upon enemies of the righteous.

This was indicated today in statements made by Dr. Charles L. Slattery, rector of Grace church, New York, who has been selected to present the report of the house of deputies of the Episcopal church which opens this week.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Emanuel Horndahl and Miss Esther Wilhelmina Wogander were married Saturday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Wogander, 64 A street, the ceremony being performed by Rev. N. W. Matthews, of the Gorham Street P. M. church. Mrs. Carl A. Hagman of Springfield, a cousin of the bride, acted as maid of honor, while the best man was Mr. Emery C. Westlok of Lynn. Upon their return from a honeymoon trip to New York the couple will make their home in this city.

Buck—Rugg

The marriage of Mr. George H. Buck of Medford and Miss Mildred May Rugg of this city took place Saturday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe E. Rugg, 35 C street, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Harry C. Butler of Weston. The best man was Mr. Alfred Buck, a brother of the groom, while Miss Myrtle Rugg, a twin sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. The couple will make their home at 1 Metcalf street, Medford.

Knowlton—Holman

Mr. Ralph Gerry Knowlton and Miss Edith Etta Holman were married last evening at the bride's home, 35 Highland avenue, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Richard Peters, pastor of the Highland Congregational church. The matron of honor was Mrs. Chester A. Blake, while the best man was Mr. Harland E. Knowlton of Chelmsford. The couple will make their home at 174 Pine street.

Ismond—Parker

At the home of the officiating minister, Rev. Henry A. Cornell, 21 Blossom street, on August 30, Mr. Jay D. Ismond and Mrs. Annie M. Parker, both of Lowell, were united in marriage by a double ring ceremony. Mr. Dustin H. Hamblett served as best man and Miss Florence M. Parker as bridesmaid. The bride wore a traveling costume with pink roses. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Ismond will make their home at 14 Flemmings street, off Stevens street, from Oct. 1. Mr. Ismond is a well known member of the Lowell fire department, having been connected with the Centralville fire station for a number of years.

McKenna-D'Arezzo

Mr. John McKenna and Miss Margaret D'Arezzo were united in marriage yesterday morning, at 11 o'clock, the ceremony being performed at St. Peter's rectory by Rev. Fr. Manion. The bride was gowned in satin with shadow lace and rosebud trimming and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Viola D'Arezzo, who wore satin and carried pink roses. The best man was Mr. Pasquale Romanolo, a brother-in-law of the bride. At the close of the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents, 16 Walnut street, and was followed by a reception which was attended by over 200 guests from Lawrence, Providence, Boston, Cambridge, New York and Haverhill. The couple will make their home in Cambridge.

LOWELL MEN INJURED AT YORK BEACH

YORK BEACH, Me., Sept. 5—Confused by a dense fog early yesterday, Arthur Emprey of 34 Jacques street and Arthur Ohlsen of 39 French street, Lowell, Mass., suffered broken collarbones when their car overturned and pinned them underneath at the dangerous "S" curve at the end of Ocean avenue here.

The men were on their way to Bay Haven on a fishing trip and lost control of the car at the top of the hill which marks the curve. They were treated by local physicians.

Radiographs

If You Think Radio Is Only a Fad, Read These

ALFRED N. GOLDSMITH,
Leading Radio Engineer

"The radio telephone will bring a new joy into man's life. It will disseminate culture not to thousands but to hundreds of thousands and to millions. The People's University of the Air will have a greater student body than all of our universities put together. The educational application of radio is an immense field so far untouched."

GUGLIELMO MARCONI
Inventor of Wireless Telegraphy

"I think I am safe in saying that since radio has already done so much for the safety of life at sea, for commerce and for commercial and military communications, it is also destined to bring new and unforseen opportunities in health and recreation into the lives of millions of homes. Broadcasting has come to stay."

HERBERT HOOVER,
Secretary of Commerce.

"We are today upon the threshold of a new means of widespread communication of intelligence that has the most profound importance from the point of view of public education and public welfare. The comparative cheapness with which receiving stations can be installed bids fair to make their possession almost universal in the American home."

PAUL F. GODLEY,
Leading Radio Authority.

"Before many years radio will be utilized in as many as 5,000,000 American homes, for it may very well come to play a part in our lives equaled only by that of the daily, weekly and monthly periodical. Its application may even surpass in their scope the wonders of the motion picture as we know it today."

EDWIN H. ARMSTRONG,
Famous Radio Inventor

The time is not far off when the radiophone receiver will be as common as the phonograph now is. Not every home will have a radiophone, of course, but I can predict that every home now having a phonograph will be equipped with wireless. The whole radiophone receiver will be no longer than the new ordinary music box."

LEE DE FOREST,
Radio Inventor and Manufacturer.

"Radio broadcasting possesses potentialities for universal education which can be compared only to that brought by the art of printing. The other is to become the means of uniting all our people, all sections of the country, and later all countries—to a degree which not the newspaper, the telegraph or the telephone could ever attain."

MASKED BAND BURNS CASTLE IN IRELAND

DUBLIN, Sept 5 (By A. P.)—The Republican campaign of ambushes and destruction continues, but on a smaller scale than in the past. During the week-end two bridges were blown up near Letterkenny and the hay crops of many framers in South Tipperary were burned.

Castle Gore at Ballina the historic Mayo seat of the Earl of Arran, was burned and masked men presented themselves at the gate at 2 o'clock in the morning and covered the caretakers with revolvers while they set fire to the castle. The great building was soon in flames and valuable antique furniture and works of art were destroyed.

A few casualities are reported almost daily in the ambushes of small bodies of National troops.

The Nationals captured a Republican flying column in the mountain passes of Glendoran, Donegal County, without firing a shot, and also seized a large ammunition dump of the irregulars.

ALWAYS TIRED NO AMBITION

Nervous and Dizzy, Everything Seemed to Worry Me. How I Got Well

Larwill, Indiana.—"My back was so bad I could not do my washing. I was always tired out and had no ambition, was nervous and dizzy and everything seemed to worry me and I had awful pains in my right side. I felt badly about four years and could not do my work as it should have been done. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised so much and it did so many people good that I began to take it myself. I am feeling fine now and every one tells me they never saw me looking so well. I live on a farm, do all my work, and have three little girls to take care of. I am recommending this medicine to my friends and know it will help them if they use it like I do." — Mrs. HERBERT LONG, R. R. 3, Box 7, Larwill, Indiana.

Many women keep about their work when it is a great effort. They are always tired out and have no ambition. When you are in this condition give it prompt attention.

Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for it is especially adapted to correct such troubles, as it did for Mrs. Long.

Sure Way to Get Rid of Blackheads

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads, that is to dissolve them. To do this get two ounces of calonite powder from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth, wash the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear. Blackheads are a mixture of dust and dirt and secretions that form in the pores of the skin. The calonite powder and the water dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition.—Adv.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

(By Theatres' Own Press Agents.)

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

B. F. Keith's Lowell theatre opened its 12th season yesterday before holiday crowds and with a program that was chock full of good things, served in the most approved big time vaudeville style. There was not an act on the bill that did not please and matinee and evening audiences were most generous in applause.

Tom Brown's Melody band has No. 1 position and it was a most interesting musical turn, full of harmonious harmony and featuring three boys and two girls.

Running in next to pole position was the team of Vernon Wallace and Maude Powers in a delightful skit, "Georgia on Broadway." Both are sure-enough natives of that sunny southland that stretches lazily below the Mason and Dixon line and the little peculiarities of speech by which such Americans are known rolled out with soothing effect. Their act is a happy mixture of comedy, pathos and music, well blended, new, bright and altogether good.

Good entertainment indeed was furnished by Eve Lynn, Clyde Dilson & Co., in "The Awkward Age," a comedy scheme that unravels nicely and as smooth as silk when once spread out. Mr. Dilson dances well and Miss Lynn's singing was praiseworthy from every angle.

Eddie Black and Claire O'Donnell offer "The Village Nut." It is not a hard one to crack and there is a lot of meat inside the shell. In a feature it measures up to other "eccentric" turns that visit us now and then, but Black is a little different type than some others and has a manner of putting out his fun that made an instantaneous hit. Miss O'Donnell also plays the violin and as the act drew to a close, strummed out a quaint little melody to which Black stepped a dance or two.

Up-to-the-minute conversation is the forte of Ray Snow, who works with Narine (last name not given). Their's also, is a peppy opening. A trio of Japanese foot balancers and Lou and Genevieve Norvelles round out a splendid program.

The Pathe Weekly, Topics of the Day and an Aesop Fable are the motion picture features.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Paramount Week, a national movie feature, was inaugurated at the Merrimack Suare thatre yesterday afternoon with a fine bill of pictures, produced by the Paramount company. The main feature of the bill is William de Mille's virile picture, "Nice People."

The story is a portrayal of the life of a modern young lady of this great land and depicts the absolute freedom from propriety and convention with which she conducts herself in all her actions. In spite of the bad impression created by her wild actions, the heroine is good at heart and has never swayed from the moral line.

The young heroine, played by Bebe Daniels, belongs to the class that people like to call the "nice people." She faces the crisis, however, when she drives off with a young man, after a scene with her father, on an all-night party, gets caught in a storm, and is forced to spend the night at a lonely farm house. The remainder of the picture shows how a young army officer rescues her from disaster, how her society friends cut her dead because of the peculiar circumstances of her predicament, and how the young man finally wins her back to a life of sensible living. The picture is an interesting one and to a degree truthfully pictures the freedom of modern day young people.

Harold Lloyd, with his side-splitter, "Now or Never," occupies the other half of the main bill, and the audience is in raptures every minute this picture is on the screen. Lloyd never descends to the depth of pie bing but he gets the same amount of humor into his pictures by a simple twist of his glasses or a clever bit of pantomime. He is fast becoming the best liked comedian in the country and his pictures are enjoyable every minute.

The bill is completed by "Making Hubby Like It," a picture done in colored tints. Bright colors of all hues are blended together in such a way that they appear on the screen as they would in natural life. This picture is also an interesting one with a humorous plot.

THE STRAND

Alexander Dumas wrote "Monte Cristo," William Fox adapted it for the screen and now the Strand presents it to the public of Lowell at the lowest box office price, perhaps, since its picturization. The famous character-story will be presented throughout the entire week, and if yesterday's patronage can be taken as a criterion, its popularity will meet with the success it so well deserves. Romantic, colorful, stupendous is this greatest of all Dumas stories and with the additional and inimitable Fox imprint on the silent drama version, its action surpasses all former productions of this artist.

The all-star cast is featured by John Gilbert, whose characterization of the famed fiction idol, is beyond comparison. Mr. Gilbert is admirably supported by Robert McKim, as the gentleman villain, William Mong, Estelle Taylor, Maude George, Virginia Fair and others of like reputations who balance the picture to perfection. The plot of the story is indeed novel and intersting, dealing as it does, with a young French sailor, who becomes one of the world's richest men, but only after a series of trials and hardships, including imprisonment on the eve of his marriage and other thrilling experiences. The beautiful scenes, which cost a fortune to erect, are well worth the price of admission, their elaborateness, georgeousness and realisticness adding immeasurbaly to the great story, which has made the name of Monte Cristo known to thousands. A Mutt and Jeff comedy, always laugh-provoking also appears on the program while the musical numbers provide unlimited entertainment during the two hours of continual enjoyment.

HOPE TO SAVE SOME OF ENTOMBED MINERS

JACKSON, Cal., Sept. 5.—Excavators struggling to release the 46 men entombed in the Argonaut gold mine today were penetrating what is known as the old shaft of the adjoining Kennedy Gold mine. Working on the 3000-foot level, this old shaft, 350 feet long, leads to the 75 ft. of quartz, which separates them from the men who were imprisoned by the Argonaut fire, Aug. 27.

Listing of the materials carried into the Argonaut by the 46 miners revealed today that it would be entirely possible for them to have caused the five explosions which workers in the Kennedy mine reported hearing, when the roar of their own blasts had died away. It was the conviction of many of the rescue workers that at least some of the entombed men were alive and would be saved.

Miners on the job believe that the muck in the old shaft can be cleared out today and that the remaining 75 ft. of quartz can be cut through by tomorrow, a day earlier than it was expected the buried 46 men could be reached.

VEILED "WOMAN" TRAPS CORPORAL HOFF

HIGHLAND FALLS, N. Y., Sept. 5.—Corporal Albert Hoff of West Point, always will take a look under the veil when he offers to escort a girl home in the future, if he has learned anything from his experience with police Chief Fred Christoff here.

Christoff told Judge Nelson that he had received complaints from women who said they had been accosted by a soldier on the streets here. Ordinary methods failed and Christoff then donned the latest in girls' clothes and took a stroll.

Hoff came up and asked to escort him home, Christoff told the judge, and continued his advances even after the police official said he was married and had three children.

"After that he put his arm around my waist," said the chief, "and then I hung one on his jaw and brought him in."

NEW LOWELL ATLAS

The chamber of commerce needs a few more orders for the new atlas of Lowell in order that it may guarantee 150 copies to the parties who propose to produce it. Prices for the atlas are $30 paper bound, and $40 cloth bound. The atlases would be similar to those issued in 1907 and which have been giving very valuable service in business and professional offices of the city ever since. It is absolutely essential however, that they be brought up to date. All orders will be received at the chamber of commerce headquarters in the Fairburn building.

COMMERCIAL ORGANIZATION

The next meeting of the New England Association of Commercial Organization Secretaries will be held in Westfield, Mass., Sept. 22 and 23. It is expected that the Lowell chamber of commerce will be represented at this meeting, as many subjects related to its work will be treated by the speakers. Lee H. Brow, secretary of the Westfield chamber will be the host of the occasion.

INTERESTING FIGURES BY CENSUS BUREAU

Some very interesting data, locally, is contained in the list of figures on manufactures just issued by the bureau of census for the year 1919. Middlesex county in that year numbered 1787 establishments. The average number of wage earners was 110,634 and the total wages were $122,957,235. Rents and taxes amounted to $23,035,917; cost of materials, $409,237,191; value of products, $685,166,400; value added by manufacture, $279,929,209 and primary horsepower, 262,633.

In 1919 also, there were 33 establishments listed less than $5000; 97 establishments from $5000 to $20,000; 81 from $20,000 to $100,000; 41 from $100,000 to $500,000; 15 from $500,000 to $1,000,000 and 24, $1,000,000 and over. In Lowell, at that time, there were 114 establishments owned by individuals and 103 owned by corporations. These figures, as compared with 1914, show a decrease from 169 for the former and an increase from 91 in the latter.

Of especial interest to Lowell, at this time are the figures on the consumption of fuel by local industries during that period. Of anthracite (ton, 2,240 lbs.,) 6,232 tons were used; bituminous (ton, 2000 lbs.,) 255,981; coke, 5,433; fuel oils (barrels,) 18,685; gasoline and other volatile oils, (barrels,) 21,663; gas, (1000 cubic feet,) 16,853.

amount collected for this offence to $260.

Peter Belocas, Nicholas George, Mary Buker and Thelma Cook, who were arrested in a raid on a lodging house on Hanover street, were found guilty of the charge of improper relations. Belocas was also charged with the violation of the Mann act, as he is said to have brought the women here from Lewiston, Maine. The two women were fined $10 apiece, Mary Buker, who is married, received a suspended sentence to the Massachusetts reformatory. Her husband appeared and was allowed to take the two women back to their home town. George was fined $10 and Belocas, the most serious offender of the quartet, was fined $75.

Attired in a neat pair of "knickers" and snappy buff stockings, Levan D. Jivelekia appeared in court to answer the charge of operating a machine so as to endanger the lives of the public. When he asked the court to place the case on file he was told that such a thing could not be done and he was fined $25.

Costas, Bollanitz, who is alleged to have assaulted Officer Clyde Aldrich by kicking him in the head last Saturday night in an alley on Jefferson street, was arraigned on the charge of assaulting an officer and was held over to Sept. 12 for trial.

George Zelonis, John Corrigan, John Ward and William H. Quigley were sentenced to the house of correction for three months on the charge of drunkenness. Peter Ruscak received a sentence of two months to the same place on a similar charge, and Frank Keenan was sent there for one month. Philip Croteau and Joseph Carrier, who were found by the officers together and intoxicated, paid fines of $10. Walter O'Brien, who was arrested while in a machine belonging to William H. McCarthy, received a suspended sentence to the state farm at Bridgewater on the charge of drunkenness. The charge of drunkenness against McCarthy was placed on file and he was fined $25 for driving a machine while under the influence of liquor.

Joseph Racicot pleaded guilty to the charge of the illegal selling of intoxicating liquor and was fined $100. Victor Alcovitz pleaded guilty to a similar charge and also received a $100 fine. Joseph W. Costello and Daniel O'Leary, who were arrested in Billerica for illegal keeping, were held to Sept. 16 for trial.

Louis Wentworth, charged with stealing carpenter's tools from a man named Auger, was found guilty and sent to the House of Correction for three months. The cases of Joseph Leclair and Steve Kauzmar, both charged with drunkenness, were continued to Friday morning, and certain circumstances will be investigated. Edward Jingeleski, who was arraigned on the charge of drunkenness and driving a machine while in that condition, was held in $300 bonds for trial on Sept. 9. Meyer Rittenburg, who was arrested by Motorcycle Officer Hamilton because he was driving his machine so as to endanger the lives of the public was held in $300 for trial on September 15.

WARNING BY BARTLETT

Says Government Will Not Tolerate Unions Among Postal Employes

BOSTON, Sept. 5.—"Don't heed the golden whispers of the paid propagandists of the capitalistic press; use the brain God gave you; do a little thinking and follow the dictates of your conscience," Mayor James M. Curley advised the delegates yesterday at the ninth annual convention of the National Association of Postoffice laborers, held in John Winthrop hall at 446 Tremont street, South End.

John H. Bosche, national president, opened the convention at noon and the delegates listened to speeches by First Assistant Postmaster General John H. Bartlett, Lieut. Gov. Alvan T. Fuller, Mayor James M. Curley, ex-Mayor John F. Fitzgerald, Congressman Peter F. Tague, Pres. John A. Kelly of the Postal Clerks' association, Charles L. Hammond and several others.

"The wide distinction between the rights of industrial operatives and the corresponding rights of government servants" was emphasized by First Assistant Postmaster General Bartlett.

"Postal workers," he said, "may organize for the public good and for their mutual benefit, but no group of men and women anywhere at any time has a right to organize against the government itself. I do not charge that any have, however. But I do believe that there are those who can see no difference between the government as an employer and a corporation. To them I sound a warning that the people of the United States in the last analysis will be found intensely jealous of the rights and powers of their government.

"Suppose all officeholders, including congress, and all workers for the federal government organized and used their organization for increasing their own salaries and for personal gain. What would happen to the country?

"We cannot agree to strike in order to break down the government without being guilty of disloyalty and conspiracy. Whoever will not take his place and do his allotted task on the great ship of state must give way to loyal men who will. Let your influence and example be used not to agitate and alarm but to foster co-operation, without which we fall."

Mayor Curley said in part: "I urge every workingman in America to become a member of a labor union; I know of no time in the history of our country when the forces of sudden wealth—it is a wealth greater than ever anticipated—are apparently engaged in a world endeavor to destroy the progress that has been made by the American working people and everywhere effort is being made to destroy the instrumentality which made it."

Mr. Curley then spoke of "paid propagandists of the capitalistic press," and paid his respects to the United States supreme court on the score of its decision as regards the child labor law and to the United States Attorney General for asking for an injunction "to prevent organized labor from holding a fair living wage and desirable working conditions so that they may enjoy healthful recreation and rest."

Outbreaks Growing

growing out of arrests for alleged violations of the writ, occupied the foreground of the picture of the nation's industrial situation today.

The annual holiday brought a lull in railroad strike developments.

While some Labor day orators were cautious in their references to the injunction, other union leaders appearing as speakers followed Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, in attacking the restraining order. Speaking at Philadelphia, Mr. Gompers reiterated his charge that the injunction was a violation of the constitution and the laws of the land.

Members of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor were gathering at Atlantic City today.

Requests For General Strike

In this conference, Mr. Gompers said he would place before the committee requests from various labor organizations for a general strike call.

Despite the general quietude of Labor day, the holiday period was not without its contributions to the growing list of outbreaks incident to the railway shopmen's strike.

At Ardmore, Okla, inspectors were investigating what Santa Fe railroad officials said was an attempt to wreck a passenger train bound from Kansas City to Galveston. The engineer reported that he found an open switch with signal lights broken off.

19 Freight Cars Burned

Nineteen freight cars were burned in the yards of the Great Northern system at Great Falls, Mont. Eight hundred cars were endangered by the blaze which broke out simultaneously in five different places.

Farmers extinguished a blaze which damaged a St. Louis-San Francisco railroad bridge at Bengal, Okla.

Admits Removing Spikes

Memphis police made public an alleged confession by Seth W. Posten, one of four men held in connection with the killing of a shop foreman from ambush in which Posten is said to have admitted that he was one of several who pulled spikes and loosened rails in an attempt to wreck a 'Frisco train near Caperville, Tenn., on the night of August 26. In the purported confession Posten named two of the men held with him in the ambuscade investigation as participants in the wreck plot.

Harding Urges New Treaty With Panama

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Abrogation of the present treaty arrangement with Panama which, he said, was intended to operate only during the construction of the Panama Canal and the negotiation of a new treaty with that government was recommended to congress today by President Harding.

Sylvan E. New Commits Suicide

Recommend Shopmen Accept Cut

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 5.—A recommendation that the 35,000 shopmen of Canadian railways accept temporarily the wage cuts of five to nine cents an hour proposed by the carriers, was made today in the majority report of the board of conciliation investigating differences between the railroads and their stationary craftsmen. The shopmen and rail heads should confer as soon as conditions permit with regard to permanent wage rates, the report recommended. Meanwhile the reductions would be as from Aug. 15.

AT THE MILL GATES

In a speech at the Massachusetts mills this noon, John Jackson Walsh made a bitter personal attack upon Whipple and Gaston and all their supporters and campaigners. It was the most virulent speech yet made by any of the three candidates or their supporters in this city. He said the people were turning against the other two candidates and were going to nominate him next Tuesday.

Greece Appeals to Allies

the battlefield and as a result of interchanges among the chancelleries at London, Paris and Rome, instructions have been sent to the allied high commissioners of the three powers in Constantinople to discuss joint measures for bringing about a suspension of hostilities.

The Greek evacuation has already begun, according to the Daily Mail, which quotes Greek official circles in London as declaring the army will be out of the country within three weeks.

The Daily Telegraph's diplomatic correspondent says the Greek government notified Great Britain on Saturday of its decision to evacuate Asia Minor, including the Smyrna enclave, and asked the assistance of the allies in arranging an armistice.

The safety of these thousands of Christians now seems to be the chief concern of the allies, whose warships alone, it is said, stand between them and possible annihilation. What degree of protection can be given, especially if the Turks reach Smyrna in their pursuit of the Greeks, is a matter for speculation.

Greeks Claim Success

ATHENS, Sept. 5. (By the Associated Press.)—A Greek communique reports that the Greek army in Asia Minor has repulsed and routed the Turkish nationalists east of Brusa.

Previous reports have been to the effect that the Turks were nearing Brusa, and that the fall of the place was imminent.

Power Plant Threatened

For more than an hour the operation of the entire Lowell division of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co. hung in the balance, as water rose slowly in the boiler-room of the power station in Middlesex street and actually hung on the lips of the fire boxes. All the low land in the vicinity of the carbarns flooded quickly. Sewers in Middlesex and Marginal streets were blocked, as well as one on the company's land. Every available man was summoned hurriedly to operate the drainage pumps at the power plant. Until the sewers were opened, however, pumping out the water did very little good, for it ran back almost as fast as it was pumped out. Finally it was necessary to throw up a dam of coal all around the boilers and in this way the fires were saved. At 11.30 o'clock the flood seemed to reach its peak, or at least, the company men had the water in control and it gradually receded.

Eight Cars Derailed At One Time

At the same time cars in transit were having more than their share of trouble. Almost at the same moment eight cars were derailed, three of them between the car sheds and North Chelmsford. A car was off the track at Gorham and Moore streets, another on Moody street near Seventh avenue, another on the Lakeview line, one at Oaklands square and still another at Westford street near Marlborough.

All derailments were caused by the water washing down heavy loads of gravel from side streets. The rails were completely covered and it was necessary to call out special wrecking crews and cars to restore normal service.

600 Telephones Put Out

The Telephone company was hit severely. In addition to losing 600-odd individual lines a huge 400-pair cable in Broadway was literally drowned out of usefulness and ceased to function entirely. It was dead.

The Highlands section of the city seemed to get the full force of the rain. The water backed up at the corner of Westford and Wilder sts. to such depth that passage was impossible and for more than an hour automobiles were forced to detour through Canton, Princeton, Grove and Dover streets. Upper Princeton street, the boulevard, was badly washed out and at one spot in Webber street the roadway was gouged out to a depth of five feet. So much sand was piled up at one point on the boulevard that automobiles were forced to travel in a greatly restricted area, with passage of two cars abreast impossible.

Appeals to Fire Department

Fire department headquarters received more than 50 calls from landlords whose cellars were flooded and as far as was possible hose wagons were sent out with siphon pumps.

The city park department will have to spend at least $500 in repair of the roadways at Fort Hill park. Every steep grade was badly washed out and the damage may even exceed that sum.

It is reported that Moore st. recently smooth paved, was transformed into a roaring cataract, with tons of water being sent down the impromptu spill-way into Gorham street. Heavy deposits of sand completely covered both electric car tracks and stretched from curb to curb.

Drying Out Process Today

Everywhere today were signs of yesterday's downpour as the receding waters left their mark of deposited sticks and silt upon lawn and sidewalk. Today's warm sun will quickly provide the necessary drying process, however, but the Telephone Co. will have repair gangs at work for some time.

THE RAILROAD TROUBLES

As might have been expected, the sweeping injunction secured against the railroad strikers has caused much indignation among the unions affected and even in other organizations that are in sympathy with them. At a time when pacific measures were expected and when it was confidently hoped that the strike would end within a few days, it seems that the situation has been aggravated to a very serious extent by the action of the government in securing this drastic court order.

President Harding gets the burden of the blame, and again the statement is made that every time he moves in regard to this railroad strike, he does something that makes the situation really worse and more complex than it was before. As a result of the action taken an appeal has been made to President Gompers to authorize a general strike by the American Federation of Labor in sympathy with the railroad shopmen. Of course we do not anticipate that Mr. Gompers would do anything so very radical, but on the other hand he may have difficulty in restraining some of the other railroad crafts from striking out of sympathy with their fellow-workmen.

The violence reported, of course, was very serious. Most of the trouble occurred in the western states, although a few cases of radical action appeared here and there in the east. It is doubtful if the injunction secured by the attorney general will restrain the radical element, whereas it may have the opposite effect with men who do not foresee the very grave consequences of any resort to violence that might destroy life or property or render it dangerous for the public to ride on the railroad trains. That would be an offense against the public, against the people, who are the supreme power in this country.

The federal government has supreme authority to protect the mails, to protect United States property at any point in the country, and to protect interstate commerce in the safe transport of person and property. Let nobody be mistaken on these points.

If it should come to a question of supremacy between the government and the railroad unions, there can be no doubt as to where the final victory would lie and, furthermore, the unions in such a fight would lose public sympathy and much of the power and prestige they now possess.

For these reasons, we would advise the unions not to enter into a conflict with the government, not to tolerate any resort to violence. This whole question should at once be submitted to a special board of arbitration, providing that in the meantime the shopmen return to work at the old rate of wages, pending the decision of said board.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK

In spite of all the labor strikes and generally unsettled conditions of business, the political economists are of the opinion that the country is on the eve of another period of inflation, not quite so great as that of 1919, but important, nevertheless, from the fact that it will cause a general resumption of business, give increased confidence and overcome the movement started early this year to cut wages as near as possible to the level of 1914. Among the considerations that offer ground for increased confidence is the fact that the crops this year are abundant and that the purchasing power of the agricultural districts is in consequence greatly increased. The National City bank of Chicago speaking of the outlooks says the nation will gain an immense amount of new wealth from the harvest now under way. On the basis of the government's official figures for August the most important crops this year will represent an aggregate valuation of more than $7,131,651,000 as compared with a like valuation represented by the same crops last year of $5,935,-861,000. It is stated even that the apparent gain here indicated will be exceeded when the harvests shall have been completed. The greater activity shown in the metal industry, particularly that of the U. S. Steel Corporation, is another factor that offers assurance that better times are at hand.

RAILROAD EARNINGS

Small wonder that railroad employes, seeking to have their former wages restored by the railroad heads, are pointing to the stock market pages in the daily newspapers and asking questions a little hard to answer. Nearly every day the railroad stocks are called "strong" and some of them have been advancing steadily in prices on the leading security exchanges. Notwithstanding the claims of the railroads that wages must be lowered before the roads can prosper and make both ends meet, unbelievably large per-share earnings based upon recent statements of prominent railroads, are called to our attention by striking railroad employes.

Just a few examples: The June earnings of the Louisville & Nashville railroad were at an annual rate of $70 a share; Atlantic Coast line, $27 a share; Illinois Central, $27 a share; Norfolk & Western, $38 a share; St. Louis & Southwestern, $45 a share; Texas & Pacific, $45 a share; Pere Marquette, $18 a share.

Of course this rate of earnings cannot be expected to be maintained every month, but it serves to show just what the improvement in the earnings of some of the important railroads of the United States has amounted to this summer, notwithstanding labor troubles and other difficulties affecting the country's rail lines and their prospects.

Expert financial writers believe that the renewed business on the "big rails" has actually come to stay, and that prosperity has arrived at last. With the settlement of the coal and railroad strikes, conditions for the railroads will be much better, all of which indicates that we are on the eve of an era of prosperity, if it is not already here.

AN EARLY WINTER?

Middlesex farmers who have good eyesight and discerning natures, predict an early winter. Other nature students who make weather prognostications from various actions of birds and animals, declare that the entire country is in for an exceptionally early killing frost and autumn.

Woodpeckers are said to be congregating for early migrations southward, fully a month in advance of any previous season. Big flocks of red-wing blackbirds have been passing over the countryside for days. Out west gophers have already hibernated and started their winter sleep. The fruit crops all over New England are maturing two or three weeks' earlier than usual. Pears are being harvested already, and peaches are beginning to fall. Baldwins are coloring up on the trees around the outskirts of the big towns, attracting attention of tourists and country visitors.

The harvest season is about to begin in earnest, and many a woodlot is being inspected by farmers who hope to make money this fall and winter, selling cord lots to scrambling housekeepers unable to obtain their usual coal supplies.

With wood steadily advancing in price, perhaps "government regulation" for the farmer's fuel industry will have to come.

KEEP COOL

It is to be hoped that the supporters of Hon. Sherman L. Whipple and Col. William A. Gaston will not indulge in personalities and recriminations to such an extent as will militate against the candidate who will be nominated. Unfortunately it is a frequent occurrence in the democratic party to stir up such bitterness before the primaries that the adherents of the defeated candidates, will refuse to support the nominee on election day. We have seen one defeat after another result from these superheated primary campaigns. Let it be remembered, therefore, that the campaign speaker who sails into the other fellow and tries to blacken his character and reputation is not serving the aims or objects of the democratic party. He is merely a wrecker; and such men have been responsible for many bitter defeats when victory was within grasp of the party if moderation and wise counsels had been followed.

CHANGE IN DIET

Prohibition is making great changes in the eating habits of hotel guests. This is forcing hotels to go back to the old-time "American plan"—a flat rate for room and meals. So says C. H. Harrington, New York caterer. Other hotel men at the convention agree with him.

With the passing of the sale of liquor the chef in the hotel kitchen finds the general cry is for a substantial meal. Watch this tendency. A change of diet changes the whole being—emotions and brain, say the physicians. There is much to be learned on this point, however, so that it is not safe to assume that a person's whole nature can be changed by a change of diet.

FORD'S SUCCESS

There is much talk in Wall street over the wealth of the Ford company which was not made in Wall street or by any process of speculation. The Ford company has issued a financial statement showing that its profits totaled about $58,000,000 in the 12 months ended last April 30.

Henry's company, on that date, had $149,000,000 in cash and debts due to it from others.

Even in this day of high finance, it rather staggering to think of one company, owned by one family, making $58,000,000 a year. Doubtful, if John D. Rockefeller did as well.

UNITED CHINA

Sun Yat-Sen, leader of South China, announces that the north and the south have buried the axe. He says the civil war is over.

The Chinese may be slow, but it doesn't take them half a generation to settle their fights. They know when they are licked, and take their medicine without haggling. Most of the white man's international troubles are due to refusing to admit the truth. The white statesman usually plays to the galleries. He keeps the corpses of his troubles exhibited on ice instead of burying them.

THE LEGAL POINT

In connection with the tariff bill now before a joint committee of the house and senate, one great constitutional point remains to be decided. That is whether the power of changing the law by executive order will be transferred to the president. It is not democrats alone who claim that it is unconstitutional to give the president any such power. The republicans, however, are evidently willing to take the chance of having this provision of the measure declared void and that would invalidate the entire act.

The rail situation in New England can be summed up in a few words: We should demand adequate transportation service at no greater cost to our industries than is the cost of similar service to industries which compete with ours. New England control for New England railroads is the real solution of the New England problem of today.

The veterans of the Y. D. division are very glad to hear that Gen. Edwards will take charge of the National Guard in this state. The general still holds his popularity with the boys of the gallant 26th.

SEEN AND HEARD

Denver family has welcomed its 19th child; but wait until Christmas comes.

Florists say the old-fashioned flowers are coming back. This does not include wall flowers.

A Thought

There is always someone to smile at, somebody to give your chair to, somebody to whom a book, a flower, or even an old paper will be a boon.—Josephine Pollard.

Today's Word

Today's word is—garrulity. It's pronounced—ga-roo-li-ti, with accent on the second syllable. It means—talkativeness, especially concerning trifles. It comes from—Latin "garrire," to chatter. It's used like this—"Repeated attempts have been made, both through outside criticism and by effort on the part of certain of its own members, to check the garrulity of the United States senate, but with little or no success thus far."

He Fell For It

A small boy came hurriedly down the street and halted breathlessly in front of a stranger who was walking in the same direction. "Have you lost half a dollar?" he asked. "Yes, yes, I believe I have!" said the stranger, feeling in his pockets. "Have you found one?" "O, no," said the boy. "I just want to find out how many have been lost today. Yours makes 56."

The Kind Word

An American, newly arrived, went into a London teashop, took his seat, and waited. Presently a bright-eyed waitress approached him and asked: "Can I take your order?" "Yes. Two boiled eggs and a kind word." The waitress brought the eggs and was moving on when the American said: "Say, what about the kind word?" The waitress leaned over and whispered: "Don't eat the eggs."

One Exception

"This year," observed Prof. Jones, the instructor in chemistry, "I have a stupid lot of students. Here's one paper which shows plainly that the lad who wrote it doesn't understand that expansion and contraction are contradictory terms." "They aren't always," said Professor Smith, the instructor in economics. "Now in my classes I find it necessary to state explicitly the fact that the constant contraction of debts is sure to result in their expansion."—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

The Kid Was Clever

It was the drawing lesson, and a class of small children were drawing from memory. They had been told to draw a river, with two figures sitting on the bank, one of whom was to be fishing. The teacher was going around the class, when she came to a small boy who had finished his drawing. She looked at his paper and was surprised to find only a river. "Why, Jack," she said, "where are the two people I told you to draw?" "Well, you see, Miss Jones," he answered, "I'm not very good at drawing people, so I've put up a notice: 'Trespassers will be prosecuted!'"

A Month Off

"Smithkins," said that young man's employer, "you may take a month off." "O, sir," replied the clerk, "it is so good of you to suggest it! I have felt the need of a vacation for some time, but have hesitated to ask for it, knowing how busy we are. But it will do me good, and I thank you for your consideration." "Smithkins," said the employer, "are you crazy?" "Why, no sir. Didn't you say I might take a month off?" "Certainly that is what I said. This is the first of the month, while last month's calendar remains over your desk. Take last month off, and keep it up to date. That is what I meant."

Not a Bit Selfish

Beauty, punctuality, sweet-temper, economy, trust. And that he should not be questioned regarding the hour when he returned from poker parties. Nor that she should make any comments regarding the strangeness of the fact that it was necessary to have onion sandwiches at poker parties. And that she should pass such evenings as he played poker or stayed down town or went to stag dinners with friends of the feminine sex. And that she should be sound asleep when he came in. That she would always understand that his flirtations were too mild for any uncalled for jealousy on her part. That it was quite a different thing for a man to be forgiven than for a woman. That he wouldn't have his wife make a fool of him as some wives he knew made of their husbands. With these clear understandings at the start he knew that she would be very happy with him, for he would make her an ideal husband. But he had been a little too previous. She saw now why two other wives had divorced him. And she saved time—by refusing to marry him!—Mary Graham Bonner, in Judge.

Anticipations

I love preliminary things,
The tuning up of flutes and strings;
The little scales musicians play
In varying keys to feel their way;
The hum—the hush in which it dies;
But most to see the curtain rise.

I love preliminary things,
The little box the postman brings;
To cut the twine, to break the seals,
And wonder what the lid reveals;
To lift the folds in which it lies
And watch the gift materialize

The snowdrop and the daffodil,
The catkins hanging straight and still,
The blossoms on the orchard trees,
Do you know greater joy than these?
Each represents the hope that springs

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

One day this week two children found a carrier pigeon lying in their yard, exhausted from a long cross country flight. They brought it to Agent Richardson of the Humane society and he communicated with the Lowell Homing club, an organization which is interested in homing pigeons. Upon investigation they found that the young bird bore a ring on one of its feet, containing a serial number. The members of the club found that the bird belonged to Donat Demoors of Chelsea. It evidently became lost during one of its flights and flew in this direction. Club members say that the bird will, probably be of no use in the future because of the strain suffered in such a long flight.

Sergt. Hugh Maguire, one of the most popular members of the local police department, is convalescing from an operation for appendicitis performed at St. John's hospital a few days ago. The sergeant, who claims he has never been ill before, was stricken quite suddenly a week ago last Sunday and on the following day the operation was performed with success. I had occasion to see him at the hospital during the past week and although he was still suffering from the effects of the operation, he endeavored to be as cheerful as ever. He chatted a few minutes and said he hoped for the day he will be back on the job again. "Life in a hospital is too monotonous for me," he said. "I want to be back in the old uniform again." Sergt. Maguire has been on the local force for over 30 years and he is one of the best liked men of the department. His friends wish him a speedy recovery.

Lowell voters have manifested great interest in the personal appearance of several of the candidates for state offices at the coming primaries. At the several rallies held during the past week, at which some of the candidates spoke in person, the attendance was very large and the enthusiasm of the crowd was evident. Some of the candidates who appeared personally were Sherman Whipple, Joseph B. Ely, John F. Fitzgerald, John Jackson Walsh, and Peter E. Sullivan and the impressions made on the voters varied. From now to the primaries the main topic of discussion, wherever men gather, is the chances of the different candidates. These discussions and conversations on politics, are amusing. Some see a return to the democratic regime, while others say that the republican party will again come through the battle with top honors.

After the strenuous labor of talking at four rallies the same night, John F. Fitzgerald, familiarly known as "Honey Fitz," repaired to the shores of Lake Massapoag, to visit a party of friends. During the evening he and a partner entered the dance hall to enjoy the pleasures of a waltz. It happened at the time that a young man was singing one of the popular waltz tunes, and, when appraised of the presence of the Hon John Fitz, he immediately swung into the strains of "Sweet Adeline." At the conclusion Mr. Fitzgerald, who had now been recognized by the assemblage, was given an ovation. He left shortly after, having renewed acquaintances with several of his friends who happened to be at the lake.

FOUND BIG STILL IN OPERATION

In a deserted house at 39 Davis street the liquor squad, last night, found a 150 gallon still, of the most modern type, 50 gallons of moonshine, and 20 barrels of prepared mash. They also found considerable distilling paraphernalia, showing that the plant was producing a large daily supply.

The house, which is said to have been raided three times before, has the appearance of being entirely deserted, as the doors are locked and the windows curtained. When the officers entered the house, things looked differently, as the still was in operation over two large gas stoves and the liquor was dripping into big glass jars.

The operators evidently became aware of the raid and made a hasty exit before the house was surrounded. The police say that the owner of the busy plant will be arrested soon. Sergt. Winn had charge of the party and was accompanied by Officers Moore, Trudel and Federal Officer Walter Bowers.

GARRITY ELECTED COUNTY COMMANDER

At the American Legion state convention, held at New Bedford last week S. Curtis Garrity, commander of the Lowell Post of the American Legion, was elected county commander for Middlesex county.

Garrity defeated Major Wade, of Woburn, Comrade Dunbar of Everett, and Commander Quinn, of Natick, for the county position. He received a majority vote of the delegates present and was also elected a member of the executive committee.

ALLEGED RUM-RUNNERS CAUGHT

According to wire reports received in this city yesterday, a quartet of Lowell men were captured near York Beach, Maine, on Sunday, charged with illegal transportation of liquor. The names given were H. J. Roche, Ralph Connor, John Barrett and Philip Daldin. Enforcement officers who made the capture seized 200 quarts of pre-Volstead whiskey, it is said.

The officers secured the "stuff" and placed the men under arrest only after a long chase along the shore boulevard. The automobile in which the Lowell men are alleged to have been riding was confiscated along with the liquor.

ENTIRE SYSTEM WAS INVIGORATED

Tonic Treatment Was Exactly What Syracuse Man Needed to Restore Him to Health

When the system is debilitated as a result of overwork, worry, shock or as the after-effect of some such disease as influenza, it is often difficult to attribute the trouble to any one organ. The stomach is generally weak and the appetite poor, the nerves oversensative and the blood thin. The system lacks tone. What is needed is a tonic to build up the blood, strengthen the nerves, create an appetite and aid digestion.

This is what Mr. Alfred L. Sparrow, of No. 132 Clover street, Syracuse, N. Y., did and he recommends the treatment to others. He says:

"I was in a general run-down condition from overwork and was very nervous also. My head often ached and severe pains in my stomach followed eating. My stomach was sour and my throat very dry. At night I was very restless and often could not sleep.

"I had used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills many years ago and decided to take them again. Good results followed the use of the first box so I continued, using six boxes in all. My nerves are in good shape and I sleep well. My stomach no longer troubles me and I can eat without any distress following.

"I never fail to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills when I have a chance as I know they have great tonic value."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a body-building tonic. They increase the power of the blood and carry new life and energy to every part of the system. If there is no organic trouble this is almost sure to result in benefit that the patient quickly notices in increased appetite, better digestion, sound, refreshing sleep and general good health.

Get a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills today from the nearest drug store if you are not feeling as well as you should and see what the tonic treatment will do for you. Write to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for free booklet, "Building Up the Blood."—Adv.

LIQUOR SQUAD WAS BUSY

Many Raids and Arrests During Week End—Officer Aldrich Assaulted

Officer Clyde Aldrich of the liquor squad was the victim of another attack, Saturday night, while arresting a man alleged to have made an illegal sale. He had secured his man when he was kicked in the head by a sympathizer of the arrested man.

The alleged violator fled through Jefferson street, closely pursued by Officers Aldrich, J. F. Lynch, Trudel, and Noye, and turned into a blind alley. Aldrich, who was in the lead, followed the man and closed in on him. Just as he threw his man to the ground, a husky fellow, who had been in the crowd following the officers, kicked the officer in the head, dazing him. Officer Aldrich called for help, and the other officers ran into the alleyway.

A man in the crowd appeared to take something from his pocket and was heard to say, "I'll kill you." Officer Lynch believed that the man had drawn his pistol, and he pulled out his own and fired into the air. The crowd quickly scattered and Officer Aldrich went in pursuit of his attacker. He was arrested at the head of the alley and gave his name as Costas Bolandiz, when booked at the police station for assaulting an officer.

Saturday night several other raids were made and the officers put in a busy night. Sergt. Winn, accompanied by Officers Cooney, Moore, J. F. Lynch, Cossette, Maloney and Trudel, visited a house at 34 South Street and arrested several men who were in attendance at a crap game. Officer Cooney opened an entrance for the other officers by crashing through a window and Frank Goncalves, John Mendes, Manuel Gravel, Manuel Enis, and Jesse Perry were arrested.

Shortly after, Sergt. Winn and Officers Moore and Cooney went to a place at the rear of 368 Moody street, known as "the club" and arrested six men whom they found playing cards. Joseph Lamoureux, Alfred Jacques, William Bollerose, Ovila Parent, Joseph Perre and Louis Boucher were taken to the police station and booked on charges of being present where gaming instruments were found.

The liquor squad made a raid on a Market street place Saturday night, which they characterized as the "chamber of horrors." This place has been under suspicion for some time but the officers were unable to secure egress to the dive. Saturday night a man was sent to the door and when the guard flashed a light into his face to see who he was, the officer made a dive at the door and broke in. They had to crash in the door of a rear partition and inside they found several men drinking. One man dropped a pint bottle and Sergt. Winn got hold of it. Officers Moore and Cooney jumped over the bar and each secured a quart bottle.

The "chamber" was in solitary darkness, pierced only by the light of a single candle, so that its exterior appearance was that of a deserted place. But, according to the officers, young men and boys were being served with potent liquor behind its apparently deserted walls. For some time past they have seen young fellows in that neighborhood who were very drunk.

After this the squad went to a garage on Moody street where they secured a case of genuine Scotch whiskey. It is said that the value of the case of whiskey is $120. Arrests will follow this raid.

CHELMSFORD SCHOOLS

The public schools in the town of Chelmsford will open tomorrow for the fall term. Three of the former teachers of the high school staff are not to return this season—Miss Eleanor Wills, Miss Suppie and Miss Tetramin. Ralph P. Coates, who resigned at the close of the school year, has reconsidered and will return. The new teachers elected to the faculty are Helen M. Quigley of North Chelmsford, Marion F. Hendry of Lawrence, Mabel A. Cochran of Lawrence and Marion Watkins of New Bedford. This will make an addition of four teachers at the high school.

Deny Death Report of Ex.-Crown Prince

DOORN, Holland, Sept. 5. (By the Associated Press.)—Rumors circulated in Berlin yesterday of the death of former Crown Prince Frederick William of Germany, who is staying here with his father, were denied today by the latter's personal physician. The absence of any important occurrence at the former kaiser's residence, was emphasized by the departure of the Burgomaster of Doorn this morning for a fishing trip. The Associated Press correspondent saw Frederick driving his automobile at 7 o'clock last night.

Publisher of Labor Paper Arrested

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 5.—Jacob Cohen, editor and publisher of the Labor Review, was arrested last night following the filing of a criminal information against him by S. E. Murray, United States district attorney. Cohen is charged with violating injunctions granted several railroads recently by Federal Judge J. W. Ross, by the publication of an editorial in his paper on Sept. 2. He was released on bond for appearance Sept. 18. The editorial was a denunciation of non-union men for taking the places of the striking union shopmen.

Primaries In New Hampshire Today

CONCORD, N. H., Sept. 5.—Candidates for governor and congress were nominated in the New Hampshire primaries today. There is no senatorial contest this year. Arthur G. Whittemore of Dover and Winsor H. Goodnow of Keene sought the republican nomination to succeed Gov. Albert O. Brown, republican. The democratic choice was between Mayor Fred J. H. Brown of Somersworth, John C. Hutchins of Stratford and Albert W. Noone of Peterboro.

TO SELECT LEAGUE STEERING COMMITTEE

GENEVA, Sept. 5.—(By the Associated Press) A brief noonday session constituted the first part of today's program of the League of Nations Assembly, with selection of a steering committee as the main business. This committee will include the presidents of the six committees chosen yesterday together with the six vice presidents to be elected today.

A general discussion of the league's work in connection with the report of the secretariat was scheduled for the afternoon session. The first item in this report deals with the registration of treaties, which may give rise to a discussion as to the amendment of article 18, fixing the status of treaties and their value between the dates of signature and registration.

The questions to follow concern blockade and amendments to the covenant. In regard to the latter, the assembly leaders have agreed that no amendment shall be considered this year, not even the Canadian proposal to eliminate Article 10.

The blockade question, however, may give rise to an interesting debate as to the system of putting the economic weapon into effect, which has never been clearly defined.

PROF. TIERNAN HAS MERCHANT ARRESTED

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 5.—Professor John T. Tiernan, instructor in the law department at the University of Notre Dame, was ready today to present proof of his charge that Harry Poulin, local clothing merchant, is the father of Mrs. Tiernan's infant son born last November. Prof. Tiernan obtained a warrant for the merchant's arrest last Saturday and a hearing has been arranged for this afternoon in a justice of the peace court. Whether Poulin will waive a hearing in this court apparently had not been determined early today.

To The Men of Lowell

We are to open in Lowell the kind of a store you have been waiting for—a home of fashions for men—one of the most modern clothes-shops in the State.

Unusual merchandise, clothes and fabrics of individuality, of finest quality and in wide variety, will characterize this establishment. Our stock will be as comprehensive and as complete as that of our main store in Boston.

Our "made to measure" clothes are admittedly the equal of those produced by the best known and most fashionable tailors in the country. Only because of the volume of our business, these may be had at considerably lower prices than usually prevail.

Our "ready to wear" garments have earned an enviable reputation for style, fit and finish. These will be sold at prices to suit the average purse and lower than ever before quoted in Lowell.

Through efficient service and unaffected courtesy we hope to win your approval and continued patronage.

We cordially invite your inspection—without obligation.

In complete readiness Saturday, September 9.

STRIKERS' TAG DAY WAS BIG SUCCESS

With all reports not yet in, the Tag day, conducted last Saturday for the benefit of the local railroad strikers was a great success and the headquarters announce that over $1200 was collected. The committee in charge is very grateful to the people of Lowell for the fine response they made to this appeal.

From early Saturday morning till late in the evening, the solicitors, numbering over 250, were on the streets, and 25 more were on duty in the town of Billerica. Headquarters were in the Odd Fellows building on Middlesex street and here the 20,000 tags were given to the workers. Luncheon was served to the solicitors at noon at headquarters.

When opened, the boxes were found to contain many bills of $1, $2, and even $5 denominations and larger donations were received from outside organizations and local business firms. The solicitors appeared at the Lowell-Lawrence baseball game at Spalding park where they received a hearty response and the boxes were quickly filled.

The Tag day was directed by Walter Candler, president of the strikers' organization, and he was assisted by James Clancy, Thomas Golden, Frank Collins, Charles Flanagan, Matthew Vaughn, Thomas Gulmane, Bernard Gilbo, and Edward Curran.

Kellogg's SHREDDED KRUMBLES

deliciously flavored WHOLE-WHEAT

Right on the job!

You like to meet men and women who have the punch of health in their make-up! Such men and women win!

Do you realize that the health and contentment of these physically and mentally equipped people are largely due to proper nourishment, not only today, but in childhood?

It is for you to decide whether your child is to be the puny type of man or woman in the years to come—or the kind of men and women you like to meet!

Give your children Kellogg's delicious whole-wheat KRUMBLES—with the full, enticing whole-wheat flavor for the first time in food history—and you will build in them red blood and bone and tissue! KRUMBLES supply all the food elements the body demands and balance the denatured foods that flood home tables! Buy KRUMBLES at all grocery stores.

The only whole-wheat food with a delicious flavor!

TRUCK KILLS 18 MONTHS' OLD BOY

Christos Emanouil, 18-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Stefanos Emanouil of Littleton road, Chelmsford Centre, was fatally injured early last evening when run over and crushed by his father's automobile truck. Multiple internal injuries caused the boy's death at the Lowell Corporation hospital at about 11.20 p. m.

The accident occurred in the dooryard of the Emanouil home at about 7.45 o'clock. While the father was in the barn unloading vegetables, the boy was playing with several companions in the yard. In the fast-gathering dusk he wandered beneath the truck, and when his father backed the machine out of the barn one of the heavy wheels passed over his body. The boy was unconscious when picked up. He was hurried to the hospital, but died without regaining consciousness.

STRIKERS HEAR REV. KARL P. MEISTER

"In order to have industrial democracy, the employers must be Christianized, the employes must be Christianized, the stockholders and the investors must be Christianized and the consumers must be Christianized," declared Rev. Karl P. Meister in his sermon to industrial workers at the Centralville M. E. church Sunday morning. The service was in the form of a Labor day service and was attended by a large number of textile strikers and friends of the labor movement.

The textile workers gathered at Trades & Labor hall in Central street at 9.30 o'clock and marched to the church in a body. In the course of his sermon Rev. Mr. Meister dwelt upon the ideals of industry, dividing that subject into four parts, namely: "The Value of Human Personality," "Brotherhood and Co-operation," "Justice," and "The Ideals of Service and Love."

LOCAL Y.M.C.A. CAMPERS REACH PHILADELPHIA

The group of Lowell Y.M.C.A. campers, who left this city by auto last week, arrived in Philadelphia Thursday, having visited Providence, Narragansett Pier, New Haven, New York City, Coney Island, Newark and Princeton, N. SPANISH WAR VETERANS ANNUAL OUTING

Despite the rain the annual outing for Gen. Adelbert Ames camp, 19, U.S.W.V. which was held at the Martin Luther grounds in Tyngsboro yesterday, was a success. Of course the heavy showers of the forenoon interfered with the program to a great extent, but the lost time was made up in the afternoon and most of the sporting events were carried out. A feature of the day's program was a baseball game between teams captained by McBride and Dempsey, the former winning by a wide margin.

The various prize winners in the sporting events were as follows:

Boys' race under 15 years and over 10 years, Ellis, first; Ward, second; Leary, third. Girls' race under 15 and over 10 years, Burman, first; Burchill, second; Ellis, third. Boys' race under 10 years, Leary, first; Burns, second; Clark, third. Quoit pitching, Dodge and Crowley. Little girls' race, M. Grady, first; A. McAleer, second; Harrington, third. Young women's race, S. McBride, first; D. Ellis, second; L. Lewis, third. Married women's race, Mrs. Young, first; Mrs. Ellis, second; Mrs. McAleer, third. Married mens' race, Crowley, first; Dempsey, second. Fat women's race, Mrs. Whiting, first; Mrs. Buckley, second; Mrs. Crowley, third. Young men's race, Leary, first; Conniff, second; Daugherty, third; Mrs. Coleman won the award for being the prettiest woman in attendance and took the hope chest. The grand prizes donated by Sarro Brothers for the auxiliary and camp were won by Mrs. Grace Tobin and Mrs. Patrick Burns.

Prizes were donated by the following: Mayor Brown, Sarro Brothers, Arthur Salmon, Talbot Clothing Co., Frank Ricard the jeweler, Dickerman & McQuade, Henry Collins, Wood-Abbot Co., Collins the florist, Prince-Cotter Co., Mrs. Gilmore, W. H. I. Hayes' store, Macartney Clothing store; Falls & Burkinshaw, Max Carp, Mrs. Coleman, Lull & Hartford, Mrs. McBride, Favreau Bros., Bartlett & Dow and Ideal Comb Co.

The following committee had charge: John P. Cryan, chairman; John F. McBride, George Anderson, Dr. C. B. Livingston, F. W. Chaney and Frank Boyle; the committee of women was made up of Mrs. Sarah McBride, chairman; Mrs. Rose Coleman, Mrs. D. Conniff, Mrs. James McBride and Mrs. C. H. Pingree.

WEATHER IDEAL FOR LAWN PARTY

The annual lawn party conducted by St. John's T. A. B. and Ladies' auxiliary of North Chelmsford at McCabe's field Saturday, was a success in every way. The weather was ideal, the attendance was large and the program was very enjoyable, while the receipts of the event were very substantial.

A feature of the program was the baseball game between St. John's and Forge Village of the Stony Bridge Twilight league, the former winning by a score of 6 to 2. Other sporting events were conducted and the midway proved a big attraction. In the evening general dancing was enjoyed in the town hall, where the drawing contest was closed, the winner of the $5 gold piece being Edward Champigny.

The general committee in charge included the following: Misses Grace Cummings, Elizabeth Iolan, Anna Cummings, Gertrude Welch, Florence Welch, Josephine McEnaney, Josephine Hafey, Loretta McEnaney, Mrs. Emma Whitehead, Mrs. Elizabeth Miner, Mrs. Lena Rafferty, Mrs. Lilla Scollan, Mrs. Katherine Sicord, Mrs. Florence Mcenade, Mrs. Mae Boudreau, Edward Brule, Patrick Welch, Leo Prue, George Prue, Burtman Rousseau, William Hehefr, George Rafferty and Albert Ready.

FRATERNAL NEWS

N. G. Charles R. Allen occupied the chair at last evening's meeting of Loyal Wamosit lodge, 102, I.O.O.F., M.U., which was held in Odd Fellows hall, Middlesex street. The attendance was not very large, but considerable business was transacted.

Routine business was transacted at Sunday's meeting of Wamosit Staff association and, at the close of the business session a social hour was held during which entertainment numbers were given by P. S. Frank Bowles, V. G. Albert West of Wamosit lodge; P. G. James McArdle, P. G. David Thomas and P. G. Herbert Fish of Integrity lodge.

The wrong way The right way—

To clear your skin

If your skin is red, rough, blotchy and clogged with dust and oil,—don't pinch it and press it. That increases the irritation and sometimes causes infection, should the sensitive skin become bruised by the finger nails.

The use of Resinol Soap and Ointment is a very simple and pleasant way to overcome this condition. It can usually be relied upon for prompt and satisfactory results even in severe, stubborn cases.

Full directions for this treatment accompany every package of Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap. You will also find there detailed instructions on the care of the hair,—why Resinol Soap is ideal for both skin,—why it should be adopted for the daily bath.

Field and Track Champs in Big A.A.U. Meet

BY BOB DORMAN

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 5.—The annual track and field championship of the A.A.U., which will be held at Newark, N. J., Sept. 8, 9 and 11, will furnish one of the best contests since the war.

Entries from all parts of the United States have been received. It is expected several new world's records will be established.

The fact that the Montreal A.A.C. will enter a team will lend an international flavor.

Another interesting feature will be the competition of several full-blooded Indians, both Haskell Institute and the Phoenix Indian school having made entries.

A. Patasoni of Haskell and Mase Polingzoloma of Phoenix, both veterans of the track, will be seen in action.

Promises a Thrill

The quarter mile event promises to be a thriller, with such stars as Larry Brown of the University of Pennsylvania; Allan Woodring, the Olympic champion; Bill Stevenson of Princeton; Jake Driscoll of Boston; George Schiller of Los Angeles; Harold Ray, the Metropolitan champion, and many others of lesser fame.

California will be represented in the meet with a strong team, the outstanding member of which will be Charley Paddock, the champion 100-yard runner.

Pat McDonald, the giant policeman athlete of the New York A.C., will endeavor to regain his shot-put title from Clarence Houser of Los Angeles, who defeated him last year. McDonald is certain he will succeed, but Ralph G. Hills, the giant Princeton athlete, may put over a surprise and walk away with the event.

Long List of Stars

Johnny Murphy, the Olympic jumper; Gus Desch, world's record holder in the hurdles; Harold Osborne, the greatest all-round athlete ever turned out in Illinois; Carl Anderson, the star hurdler of the Illinois A.C.; Hobhman, of the best men in the country with the javelin; Paulu, the sprinter, who demonstrated last June that he was one of the country's fastest men; Captain Edwin R. Roberts and First Lt. Eugene L. Vidal, who will represent the army; Earl Johnston, present holder of the five and 10-mile senior championships; Payne of the Cincinnati G. and A.C.; R. W. Harwood, the pole vaulter, and Barney Wefers, Jr., the sensational young star of the New York A. C.

Bill Brennan Versus Harry Wills!

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—At last the fans are to be given what looks like a treat in the heavyweight division, Bill Brennan against Harry Wills. This has the earmarks of a legitimate battle, and will be the next big fight scheduled, according to the New York promoters. Both are in somewhat the same position. Brennan has hard work to find any opponents to meet him among the white hopes, while Wills daily is finding it more difficult to induce any of the colored scrappers to step into the ring with him. With the incentive of a match with Dempsey spurring them on, the battle should be one worth seeing.

YANKS' LEAD CUT TO GAME

Browns Close in on Leaders By Winning Twin Bill From Indians

Sisler Has Real Holiday—Makes Seven Hits in Nine Times at Bat

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Rain cancelled the Labor day activities of the league-leading New York clubs. While the Giants retained their six game lead due to the fact that St. Louis and Pittsburgh split a twin bill, the Yankees has their margin reduced to a single game by the St. Louis Browns' double victory over Cleveland.

George Sisler, batting leader in the American league, was the mainspring in the Browns' offensive that brought victories by scores of 12 to 1 and 10 to 3. Sisler rammed out seven hits, including three doubles and a triple, in nine times at bat, scored seven runs and drove in several others. Ken Williams clouted out his 33rd homer, and tied Tillie Walker of the Athletics for the American league record.

The Chicago Cubs dropped to fifth place by losing twice to Cincinnati 4 to 3 and 5 to 0, due to the brilliant pitching of Couch and Keek of the Reds. Pittsburgh retained second place by a half game over St. Louis by taking the afternoon game 5 to 3 after dropping the morning tilt, 5 to 3 to the Cardinals.

Fabre and Robertson, twirled the White Sox to a double victory over Detroit 3 to 2 and 6 to 3, while Washington and the Athletics divided their double header, Brooklyn dropped two hard-fought battles to Philadelphia 5-4 in the first game and 7 to 6 after a 16 inning struggle in the second. In the final contest, Behan, a recruit, held the Dodgers scoreless for 10 innings and tallied the winning run in the 16th on Rapp's hit.

NATIONAL AMATEUR GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

THE COUNTRY CLUB, BROOKLINE, Sept. 5.—Thirty-two leading American and British golfers who qualified yesterday for participation in the national amateur championship started early today in the first round of match play. The course was heavy due to yesterday's rain, and clouds and fog made an unpromising outlook for the day.

Jesse P. Guilford of Boston, present champion, whose remarkable 76 made in the downpour yesterday, gave him 144 for qualification, and Marius Greer of Philadelphia, former champion of the Province of Quebec, attracted a large part of the galleries to their contest.

Another match that was a center of interest was between Willie Hunter of New York, former British champion, and runner-up last year in the national tournament and L. M. Lloyd of Greenwich, Conn.; J. G. Anderson of New York was paired with Chick Evans, Jr., of Chicago, former champion, and Bobby Jones of Atlanta with J. J. Beadie of Philadelphia.

The fortunes of Cyril J. H. Talley, best in the medal score of the British golfers, who came through the qualifying rounds, were closely followed in his match with E. C. Newton of Brookline, the only country club player to pass the first great test.

GAME CALLED OFF

The Labor day game on the Textile campus between the C.M.A.C. and the Boston Tigers (colored,) was called off because of the resemblance of the grounds to an irrigation plant, due to the heavy rain. The postponement was a disappointment to the locals and their followers, who were anxious for a return victory over the Tigers, as the colored boys have a 4-0 win over the C.M.A.C.

SOUTHPAWS HAVE BEST OF IT BY A SHADE

BY BILLY EVANS

Are left-handed batters more difficult for pitchers to fool than right-handers?

I am often asked that question. The fact that the leading hitters of the majors and minors are mostly left handers is the reason.

For years Ty Cobb, a left hander, has held sway in the American league. While no player has so dominated the National league, still left handers have been in the majority.

At the present time Rogers Hornsby, a right-handed hitter, is setting the pace in the National league. He led the organization in hitting last year.

First Time in Years

Harry Heilmann, a right hander, also was the batting champion of the American league in 1921. It was the first time in years that two right-hand-hitters carried off the major league batting honors in the same year.

As a rule the right-handed hitters have as much, if not more, power to their drives than the left handers. However, it has always seemed to me that the left handers mixed up their style more than the right handers.

Left-handed hitters, because of their position at the plate, have a step or so advantage over right handers in the dash to first. This often enables a batter to score a base hit on a ball on which the right hander would be thrown out by a scant margin.

Just a Shade

Having this slight advantage in running, the left handers, as a rule, do more bunting, and attempt to place the ball more than the right handers.

Recently, in a game at New York, I saw Cobb turn in a bit of thinking and hitting that showed why he has led the American league in batting year after year.

McNally was playing third base for the Yankees. Cobb, in the two previous games, had been pulling his drives to right field. He had hit one ball into the short right field pavilion and bounced a couple off the wall.

McNally, noting that Cobb had fouled the first pitch to right field, and seemed to be trying to hit in that direction, moved several feet out of position in the direction of second base.

On the Watch

Cobb, who is constantly scanning the field for a place to hit, shifted his stance on the next ball pitched and pulled the ball just inside the third base line for a two-bagger. Had McNally not shifted it would have been an easy drive for him to handle.

Left-handed hitters, as a rule, have higher averages because they shift their style to better advantage than do most of the right handers. I make that statement, working on the theory that the batting ability of the players concerned is equal.

SWIMMING RACES AT BATH HOUSE

The swimming races at the municipal bath-house on the Pawtucket boulevard, postponed yesterday on account of rain, will be held next Thursday at 2:30 p. m. There will be special events for both men and women, including a 100 and 200 yard dash for men; a 100 yard swim for women; a 100 yard race for boys 12 to 15 years of age; a 100 yard race for boys under 12 and similar events for girls of corresponding ages. Attractive loving cups will be offered to the winners as well as beautifully engraved medals. Charles McGrady will be referee, assisted by Louis Turner, William Callahan, Gustave Normandin, Officer McManus and Instructor James Liston.

WILLIE RITCHIE TO RE-ENTER RING

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5.—Willie Ritchie, who was lightweight champion of the world from 1912 to 1914, is to re-enter the ring this fall, according to word from Belmonte, Cal., where he is playing in the California state golf tournament.

He will go east early next month, according to present plans, to place himself under some New York promoter.

HONOR ST. LOUIS BROWNS

Public Reception With Gold Watches for All Players and Team Officials

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 5. (By the Associated Press.)—The Browns, upon whom St. Louis fans have set hope to bring to this city the first pennant in more than 30 years, are to be given a public reception here this evening, at which each player, Business Manager Bob Quinn, Manager Lee Fohl and the team's secretary is to receive a gold watch.

PETER MANNING SEEKS TO LOWER N. E. MARK

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 5.—Peter Manning 1:57¾, world's champion trotter, will start against time at Charter Oak park this afternoon, in an effort to lower the trotting mark for New England. An early sun today gave promise of good conditions at Charter Oak after the rain yesterday. Tommy Murphy will pilot Peter Manning and hopes to beat 1:59¾, made by this horse at Readville last week.

The Grand Circuit events carded for today were three trotting races held over from yesterday, including the Soby Memorial for 2:08 trotters, with a purse of $3000.

TOOK HOME BACON FROM HAVERHILL

The Abbot Worsteds of Graniteville showed their followers that they could win games away from home by visiting the Haverhill stadium Saturday and defeating the Haverhill Professionals by a 4 to 0 score. Al. Davidson, the Abbot mound majestay, was in the box and allowed but four scattered hits, while he connected for two safe hits, one of them a two-bagger. Sullivan, behind the bat, caught him in his usual style and threw well to the bases. Loftus contributed the fielding feature of the game by making a shoe-string catch of a hard liner off Bader's bat. A somersault was required to complete the play. For Haverhill, the outstanding features were pulled off by Leary, Harkins and Faulkner, but the Abbots could not be stopped and one run in the sixth and three in the eighth spelled a shut-out for Haverhill. The score by innings:

Abbots .....0 0 0 0 0 1 0 3 0—4 8 2

INTER-CITY SERIES GAME POSTPONED

Owing to the rain yesterday, the second game of the championship series between the Highland Daylights and the Lawrence K. of C. will be played at Lawrence, probably O'Sullivan park, next Saturday. If the old New England league park cannot be secured, the game will be staged at Pacific park, the second best grounds in the city. If the Knights win this game, the series will stand 1-1 and the toss of a coin will decide the scene of the rubber. If Louis Lord's outfit plays up to its form of last Saturday, it looks as though a third game will not be necessary. The Daylights surely looked the goods and the alibi advanced by the losers that they were unaccustomed to the Spalding park grounds holds equally as well for the Lowell boys, as Saturday was their first appearance as a unit on the Spalding lot this year. In the Lawrence game, Lynch will umpire behind the bat and Grady on the bases.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

Before a crowd of several hundred fans, the St. Peter's Cadets defeated the Merrimacks at Shedd park, Sunday, 4 to 3. Both teams played good ball but the Cadets had the edge. The excellent twirling of Gibbons, of the winners, featured the game.

The Ramblers defeated the Carlisles at the Chamber street grounds, Sunday afternoon, in a 20 to 13 slugging match. Gath and McVey made their first appearance in Rambler uniforms and played well. The Ramblers will play the French Zouaves next Sunday on the South common at 2 p. m.

BOYLE DEFEATS HAMLIN

Local Boy Shows Way to Nashua Pride in Fast Ten-Round Bout

The local boxing season of 1922-1923 was formally opened by the Moody club at the Crescent rink last night and seldom, if ever, has a more auspicious get-away been recorded.

The card was without doubt one of the best presented here in many years, the crowd one of the largest on record, the decisions o.k. and the running off of the program well nigh perfect.

The feature event on the high class card brought together Phinney Boyle of Lowell and Louis Hamlin of Nashua and it proved a real thriller from bell to bell, with Boyle being awarded a well earned decision. In attendance was a big delegation from Nashua. Seven large auto trucks conveyed the New Hampshire fans to Lowell and during the progress of the main bout and one of the others in which Kid Desrosiers, also of Nashua, appeared, they made their presence felt in no uncertain manner.

The main event found both gladiators in fine form and they had to be, for they traveled over the ten round journey at a bewildering pace.

The pair got right down to vigorous action in the very first round. Not a second was wasted in feeling out the other fellow. In fact, Hamlin jumped right at his opponent and carried the fight to the local boy. Hamlin's aggressiveness brought the Nashua fans to their feet and they cheered him to the echo. Boyle, however, while apparently content to let his opponent do the leading, did not lose an opportunity to counter advantageously. When Hamlin tore in, Phinney side-stepped and shot across his right and seldom did he miss his objective. Hamlin, however, had the edge as the round closed, but this opening stanza was the only one in which the visitor had any decided advantage. He evened up things in several of the later sessions, but all the others went to Boyle.

The Lowell boy, who attained his reputation within the hempen ropes as a boxer that night showed that he possessed real fighting ability and many times during the thirty minutes of action, he stood right in the centre of the ring and engaged his opponent in terrific exchanges.

Boyle's superior knowledge of the game, proved too big a handicap for the aggressive game and hard-hitting Nashua lad. Hamlin tried hard all the way and gave the Lowellite a fine battle. His aggressiveness, however, proved a style familiar to Boyle and invariably the latter would force him to miss his mark and then come back with left jabs to the head and right crosses to the body. Boyle showed the value of experience and his craftiness kept him out of reach of many of Hamlin's furious swings. Boyle often drew a lead from Hamlin only to duck or pull away and then retaliate with an avalanche of blows to head and body.

There was not a dull moment during the entire ten rounds, the final stanza being one of the most sensational ever seen in a local ring. Hamlin realized he had to drop Boyle to win and he waded in with reckless abandon in a gallant but futile effort to accomplish the task. Boyle did not remain content to box his opponent and ease through to the decision, but he too tried hard to end hostilities decisively. From the tap of the gong until the final clang, when Referee Martin Flaherty had to step in and pry the battlers apart, punches flew fast and furiously from all angles and the hectic battling rent the fans home well satisfied and pronouncing the season's opening show a hummer from beginning to end.

The eight round event preceding the Boyle-Hamlin bout gave Jimmy Demas and Benny Nelson, local boys, a chance to add to their laurels. Their offering was a peachy number, with Demas landing the award. Jimmy proved a whirlwind boxer and Nelson starred as an infighter. Demas' greater speed and agility triumphed. He opened up a big lead at the outset, showering Nelson with blows to head and body with machine-like rapidity and regularity. He is a wonderful performer at long range and he threw more punches at Benny than the latter has seen in many a day. But as the bout went on, Nelson appeared to have solved his opponent's attack and also to have found a good defense. He stepped in under Demas' extended left and every time he broke through he landed telling blows to the body. But Demas would not be denied and in the last two rounds he emulated the famous Dundee and bounded in an out, landing and getting away most successfully. The award in his favor was a popular one.

In the other bout, scheduled for eight rounds, Kid Desrosiers of Nashua added a number of admirers to his already long list by showing the way to Danny Murphy of Lawrence, the Nashua battler winning in the seventh via the kayo route. Murphy made a great hit with his "Wild Man Gould antics" and he also proved a great assimilator of punishment. This bout provided many enjoyable moments and also flashes of classy fighting. Desrosiers tore at Murphy at the tap of the first gong and remained on the aggressive throughout. In the fifth he dropped his opponent twice and polished him off in the seventh with a clout to the wind that sent the Lawrencian to the mat to remain while the referee tolled the fatal ten.

In the first bout of the evening, Johnny Nelson won over Benny O'Neil after six peppery rounds of action.

Martin Flaherty refereed all bouts and Frank Murphy of Lowell and John McDougall were the judges. Eddie Rogers was the announcer.

It was announced that the winner of last night's main event, Phinney Boyle and South Boston Johnny Downes, will meet in the next show on Thursday evening, September 14.

GLAD TO SEE BEST MAN GET HIS DUE

By N.E.A. Service

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 5.—The Coast league baseball fan is a good sportsman, glad to give credit where credit is due, regardless of whether the player is with the home team or drawing salary on another line.

Such at least is the showing in a "most valuable Coast league player" contest held here by the Seattle Star.

A Seattle player, Billy Lane, won the contest, hands down, but he was one of only two Seattle players to finish in the first ten.

Willie Kamm, Seal third sacker, was the runner up to Lane for honors. Paul Strand was third high. With Bill Stumpf, Seattle utility infielder, trailing him.

Not a Shortstop

Every team in the league was represented in the first ten except Sacramento and Portland. After Stumpf, in the order mentioned, came Red Killefer, Los Angeles, manager; Jakie May, Vernon, pitcher; Red Smith, Vernon third sacker; Paddy Siglin, Salt Lake second baseman; "Buzz" Arlett, Oakland pitcher, and Bert Ellison, San Francisco first baseman.

Not a shortstop finished in the first 10. And no catcher placed among them.

Stumpf and Ellison were the favorites for "all-round" ability. In every letter concerning them, the writers spoke of their ability to play many positions as well as bat effectively, each making a valuable reserve force for his team.

High in the List

Lane might not be chosen as the most valuable man in the Coast league by fans in other cities, but he would probably be placed high in the lists by the thinking fans. In the four or five years he has played with Oakland and Seattle, the "Rabbit" has hit around .300, and as a lead-off man, has worked pitchers for more free trips to first base than any other player.

A "Billy Lane" day was held at Seattle Park this week, with special ceremonies, presentation of a trophy by the mayor of Seattle, and all the rest of that sort of thing.

CRESCENT FIVE WINS

In the first bowling match of the season Fred King's Crescent five won two strings and the total over Hayden's All Stars on the Crescent alleys, yesterday afternoon. The match drew a big crowd of rooters and some good scores were put up. H. Brown of the winners was the high man, bowling 106, 113 and 106 for a three string total of 331. Grady of the defeated quintet had a single of 117. The totals were as follows:

Crescent Five—King 291, Bamford 308, H. Brown 331, Eastman 293, Flynn 281. Total, 1484.

All Stars—Grady 299, Pinton 279, Thurber 291, Whitelock 292, Hayden 296. Total, 1457.

LOWELL GETS THE JUMP

Highland Daylights Defeat Lawrence K. of C. in First Game of Series

The first game of the important inter-city series between the Highland Daylights and the Lawrence K. of C., played Saturday at Spalding park, resulted in a decisive 8 to 3 win for the Highland Daylights. The contest did not provide the anticipated thrills as the boys from Lawrence worked contrary to championship form, being charged with six costly errors and failing to connect advantageously with the hypnotic slants of "Cozy" Dolan, Louis Lord's choice for mound action. Dolan vindicated his Mentor's choice by holding the opposition to six segregated hits in nine full innings, while he performed with brilliant consistency or consistent brilliancy in the field.

Prior to the commencement of activities, Frank Ricard, the local jeweler, stepped on the field to receive a beautiful bouquet of flowers "from the boys." Mr. Ricard then presented the prizes to the winners of the popularity contest conducted during the Twilight season by Mr. Ricard in connection with The Sun. The four winners, Gath, Condon, Pare and Souza, received a big ovation as the presentation was made. Ben Kaveney, Lawrence sport scribe, acted as announcer while His Honor, George H. Brown, mayor of Lowell, pitched the first ball to Smith J. Adams, councilor of the same municipality.

"Buster" Lacy heaved 'em for the "Casey's" and while he was touched for nine safeties, he was not wholly responsible for the landslide of runs. Lucy looked like a good pitcher with plenty of speed and a nice cross-fire but his temporary lapse of control in the fifth and eighth innings turned the wavering scales of fortune on the Daylight's side. For the visitors, Capt. Donald Smith lambasted the horsehide three times with impunity for a total of six bases, while Charlie Marcotte's three-sacker was the best contribution to the extra base department on the side of the Highland Daylights. In the field, Parkey Daley made a pretty classy catch of a liner that was ticketed for points east and seemed in a hurry to get there. Taken in the ensemble, Dean and Smith were the bright lights for Lawrence and nine men played well for the Daylights.

Bradley was first up for the Knights and flied out to "Long John" at second. Keegan followed with a hit past short and stole second, scoring the first run of the series on Don Smith's first of three two-baggers. The game bore a Lawrence trade-mark in this frame as the Daylights failed to register. In the second, Daley led off with a single through third and went to second when Lucy overthrew to first. Marcotte and Freeman were easy outs, but Dolan came through with a single to right center, scoring Daley with the tying count.

As supernumerary evidence of the locals' superiority, another run was added in the third on Bridgford's second single, J. Smith's sacrifice and an error by Delaney in right. Three runs iced the battle in the fifth. Williams walked but was retired at second on a fielder's choice resulting from Smith's roller to short. Breen singled to right, placing John on third and when the Lawrence catcher threw to second to get Breen stealing, Smith beat it home in safety while Breen rested on second. A double steal was recorded in consequence. Daley was passed and Marcotte effected a three base concussion of the ball to left, scoring both runners. The rubber felt a Lawrence spike for the second time in the sixth. D. Smith was hit by a pitched ball, stole second and scored on Dean's single.

In the eighth, Long John's namesake again doubled, stole third and came home on a passed ball, making the third and final run for the Knights. In the Daylight half, errors by Dean and Higgins, who took Ferrin's place in center, and hits by Smith and Dolan accounted for three more runs, enough for one day's fun. The score:

SETS NEW GOLF MARK

Guilford Makes Record in Defending Title, Does 18 Holes in 70

COUNTRY CLUB, BROOKLINE, Sept. 5.—A champion led his field of contending title seekers yesterday when Jesse P. Guilford of Woodland Golf club, came home through the mists and rain, boggy fairways and water logged greens, winner of medal honors in the qualifying round of 36 holes in the national amateur golf championship tournament which is to decide his successor. His score was 144—74 in the perfect conditions of Saturday, when the first 18 holes were played—and 70 under the difficulties caused by rains that fell constantly all day yesterday.

His round of yesterday afternoon not only constituted a new amateur competitive record for the Country club course, supplanting the 71 made by Bobby Gardner of Chicago on Saturday, it equalled the professional record held by the British master, Edward Ray, and went to make the aggregate of 144, which equals the lowest medal score ever made in national amateur title tournaments. No qualifying round in any previous title competition was conducted under marine conditions to equal those of yesterday.

Guilford came by his honors as medalist in a competition remarkable under the conditions of play that prevailed. Only a stroke removed from him was Bobby Jones, the wonder boy golfer from Atlanta, who went around yesterday in 72 to complete a card of 145. Jones a few minutes before had broken a tie between Great Britain and the United States for low scores. Cyril J. H. Tolley, British amateur champion last year, had set the medal mark for the day at 148 with a 74 under the wet conditions of the morning. Chick Evans, another champion asserting himself, trudged over the treacherous ground several hours in the afternoon and tied Tolley also with a 74. First Jones and then Guilford bettered this mark. It took 162 to qualify for the last of the 32 holes and five men had to play knockouts for the last three places.

JOIE RAY WINS MILE

GLOUCESTER, Sept. 5.—Joie Ray, the Illinois miler, won the mile handicap event of the Olympic club holiday meet here yesterday. Ray, whose opponents were William Sheehy of Boston and Jack Gordon of Princeton, finished in 4 minutes, 5 1-5 seconds.

Charleston Wins League Pennant

CHARLESTON, S. C., Sept. 5.—The South Atlantic association closed today with Charleston winning the pennant by a safe margin. Charlotte, by defeating Columbia in a double header, goes into second place, Spartanburg finished fourth, Augusta fifth and Greenville last. This is the second pennant ever won by Charleston.

JOE LYNCH SUCCESSFULLY DEFENDS TITLE

RINGSIDE, MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., Sept. 5—Joe Lynch, world's bantamweight champion, successfully defended his title against Pal Moore, the Memphis, Tenn., challenger, in a 10-round, no-decision contest here yesterday. Moore was all but knocked out in the seventh round when he was floored twice for the count of nine. He also was dropped in the third round, but did not take the count.

Lynch had the better of the first and third rounds, knocking Moore to his knees in the third with a short right-hand punch to the chin. Moore was up in a second, however. Moore filled the air with gloves in the second, landing 30 punches while Lynch had difficulty connecting with it. The fourth round was fairly even, but Moore had the advantage in the fifth and sixth as a result of his flashy boxing. He cut Lynch's mouth in the sixth. Lynch kept trying to land short right-hand punches and Moore backed into the ropes to keep out of danger.

Lynch continued to score points in the eighth and ninth, as Moore was boxing cautiously.

Billy Wells, welterweight champion of Great Britain, outpointed Dennis O'Keefe of South Chicago in 10 rounds. They boxed at 147 pounds.

The 10-round contest between Jimmy Clabby of Hammond, Ind., Australian middleweight champion, and Jimmy Darcy of Portland, Ore., went the limit, with Clabby having the edge in boxing. Darcy was 18 pounds overweight, entering the ring at 168 pounds, while Clabby scaled 156 pounds.

Dempsey, who was scheduled to meet Bill Brennan here yesterday, boxed two sparring partners two two minute rounds and had both of them weary, although big pillowy gloves were used. Jack Thompson, a big negro, faced Dempsey the first two rounds, and Andre Anderson of Chicago caught the champion's punches in the last two.

"WETS" AND "DRYS" WATCH PRIMARIES

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 5. (By the Associated Press.)—Returns of today's primary election in Wisconsin will be eagerly scanned by "wet" and "dry" organizations of the state, since candidates representing these different forces are seeking nominations for legislative offices.

The campaign interest generally is centered in the republican race, the democrats having few contests.

The Wisconsin Anti-Saloon league is advocating the nomination of W. A. Ganfield for United States senator, over Senator R. M. La Follette, and endorsement of Attorney General William J. Morgan, over Governor John J. Blaine, for the gubernatorial honors.

DECIDING SINGLES FOR THE DAVIS CUP

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—Favored by a promise of fair weather, the deciding singles matches of the challenge round for the Davis cup tennis trophy, postponed yesterday because of rain, were scheduled this afternoon on the courts of the West Side Tennis club.

America relied on Willis M. Johnston and William T. Tilden in the defense of the international cup against the Australian challengers. Johnston will play Gerald L. Patterson, captain of the invaders, in the first match at 3 o'clock and Tilden will oppose James C. Anderson in the other tilt.

With two matches out of three to its credit, the result of victories in the singles and a defeat in the doubles, America needed but one more triumph to clinch possession of the trophy for another year. The Australians faced that task of having to emerge victorious in both contests to carry the emblem back with them to the Antipodes.

Both Americans were strong favorites to win, although the possibility of slow turf, because of rain, was believed to be a factor in Patterson's favor in his match with Johnston.

Tilden's defeat, with Vincent Richards, in the doubles Saturday, at the hands of Pat O'Hara Wood and Patterson, was the first reverse of his three years' record as a Davis cup performer.

LOWELL DOGS WIN AT CANOBIE LAKE

Lowell was well represented at the Boston Kennel club dog show held at Canobie Lake park yesterday and the local dogs fared well in the award of prizes. "Little Boy Blue," toy poodle owned by Mrs. Tillie Brackett, was adjudged the winner in his class and his mistress was presented a silver cup.

In the English bull class, "Lady Beaconfield," owned by Victor Lapierre of 124 Shaw street, took three firsts and a second, and "Chunkie Boy," owned by Lena Lachance of 26 Cascade avenue, took four firsts and one third in a field of 11 entries.

"Gold Dollar" was the shining star, winning a silver trophy for the best Boston terrier in the show together with four firsts. John Davis of Gorham st., is the owner. "Dandy Boy," a Boston terrier owned by Joseph Foley won first prize in the puppy class and second prize in the breeders' class, first prize being won by "Gold Dollar."

"Queen of Hearts," a Boston terrier owned by Mrs. Kirkpatrick, won four firsts in the female classes and four specials. "King Omar" won one first. "Lady Dolly Dimple" won second. "Fairy" won third. These are all Boston terriers owned by Mr. James Kirkpatrick of Epping street. Mrs. Leavitt's "Just" won a special prize for the best puppy under 12 months. A black and tan owned by Bob Patterson won four firsts. Benny Hack won everything with his pair of setters. Mr. Noble won second prize with his Boston terrier. Taken all in all, Lowell was well represented and took away quite a number of prizes.

SEVERE CRITICISM OF U. S. ULTIMATUM

HAVANA, Sept. 5—Severe criticism of Major General E. H. Crowder's step in presenting an ultimatum, as personal representative of President Harding to the Cuban government, setting a definite time limit for enactment of reformatory legislation, was voiced in congress yesterday by the president of the senate, Aurelio Alvarez.

Senor Alvarez termed the incident a violation of the permanent treaty between the United States and Cuba in that it constituted intervention in the internal affairs of the island. He also condemned the Zayas administration for submitting to this alleged infringement of the national sovereignty.

The senate approved two of the five measures in the Crowder program—those providing for reorganization of the federal system of accounting and for the suspension of certain provisions of the civil service law to permit the president to shift the personnel of various government departments in the interests of honesty and efficiency.

$2000 A DAY

Big Fortune Comes to This Girl Overnight

By N.E.A. Service

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Sept. 2.—Sudden wealth has not given Exie Fife, "overnight" Oklahoma Indian heiress, a desire for a gilded palace nor a retinue of servants.

Instead she wants a bungalow. And she will take care of it herself, she says.

Exie recently went to bed practically broke. Her supper had all but exhausted her meager bank account. She awoke in the morning to discover that a 3000-barrel oil well had been drilled in on the allotment made her by the government in the Bristow field!

Then came news that two other wells of 2000-barrel capacity had started to flow.

So now, Miss Fife has an income of about $2000 a day. This is expected to increase to $5000, government agents say.

What would be the first thing the heiress would do? That's just what she did—she purchased a car, price $5000.

But no jewels, flapper clothes or bobbed hair for her, says Miss Fife.

The inevitable marriage proposals are flowing in almost as much profusion as her oil, but she has opened scarcely any of them.

Plans for her new bungalow are being drawn by government agents and a contract soon will be awarded by the Indian agency. It will cost only a few of the thousands of dollars Miss Fife is banking every day.

Previous to the money deluge, Miss Fife lived at Fame, McIntosh county, in one of the customary three-room box-like structures of the reservation.

It will pay you to get The Sun classified adv. habit.

Shake Off That Backache!

WHY let that dull, nagging backache make you old and miserable? Get rid of it! It's time you stopped worrying and complaining and gave some attention to your kidneys. Present day life, with its hurry and worry, is mighty hard on the kidneys. And weak kidneys cause many queer aches, pains and bladder irregularities. Your backaches; you are lame and stiff, nervous and unstrung. Your head aches, you are dizzy, suffer sharp, rheumatic pains and feel weak, tired, nervous and depressed. Don't wait! Neglect may mean some serious kidney sickness. Begin today with Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's have brought new health to thousands of weak, tired, ailing people. They should help you. Ask your neighbor!

Read How These Lowell Folks Found Relief:

A. H. ROGERS, Machinist
29 Wilson Street, Says:

"Heavy lifting and colds settling in my kidneys affected them and brought on attacks of backache. When I stooped my back seemed to give way and terrific pains took me through the small of my back. My kidneys acted irregularly and the secretions were unnatural. I used Doan's Kidney Pills from Burkinshaw's Drug Store and they soon rid me of the backache and fixed up my kidneys in good shape."

MRS. W. SPEAD
7 Lagrange Court, Says:

"I was laid up with kidney disorder caused by a cold. I could hardly straighten when I stooped, due to the terrible lameness in the small of my back. I could hardly get out of bed in the morning. I was so lame, and my kidneys acted unnatural. I suffered from terrible pains in the top of my head and it seemed as though the top of my head was coming off. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and used them and they soon helped me. I continued until Doan's cured me of all symptoms of kidney trouble."

PETER SHEEHAN
11 Lyon Street, Says:

"I strained my back and suffered from backache. When I stooped, sharp pains caught me across my kidneys and doubled me up. My kidneys acted too often and the secretions were unnatural. I read of Doan's Kidney Pills and after using three boxes bought at Bailey & Co a Drug Store, I was cured of the trouble."

Orange County Team Wins Polo Match

RUMSON, N. J., Sept. 5.—(By the Associated Press)—The Orange County team, an American four, won its way into the semi-finals of the national open polo championship by defeating the team of the All-Ireland club, 7 to 4, in a slowly paced game on a wet and soggy field. Orange county held the lead after the third period.

SERIOUSLY INJURED BY AUTOMOBILE

An automobile operated by Myer R. Rittenberg of Brookline, struck down and seriously injured Miss Charlotte McDaniels of 408 East Merrimack st. Miss McDaniels was struck while crossing Merrimack street, opposite St. Anne's church, where she attended services. The mudguard of the machine hit her and knocked her under the wheels, causing many serious cuts and probable internal injuries. She was taken to St. John's hospital where she was reported as resting comfortably today, although the extent of her injuries is not definitely known. Motorcycle Officer Hamilton arrested Rittenberg on the charge of operating a motor vehicle in a manner to endanger the lives of the public.

MUNICIPAL EMPLOYES' UNION

President Dan Moynihan occupied the chair at the last meeting of the Municipal Employes' union, 14,265, which was held in the hall of the organization in Central street. Routine business was transacted, new members were initiated and several communications were read. It was announced that a drawing contest will be held at the next regular meeting.

Two Newark Buildings Collapse

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 5.—Two four-story buildings collapsed in the downtown section of Newark today. Warning of the impending fall was given last night when the floor in one of the structures occupied as a Chinese restaurant, was shaken while 50 diners were present. As the floor settled sharply, the diners leaped from windows to safety. Investigation of the cause of the accident was begun by city officials. It was said that excavations being made in the restaurant cellar were believed responsible.

International Congress of Women Doctors

GENEVT ,Sept. 5.—The international congress of women doctors presided over by Dr. Esther P. Lovejoy of New York, opened a three-day session at Geneva university today. One hundred women physicians representing 17 countries were present. The principal topics on the program are the white slave traffic and social diseases.

Willard Mack's Fourth Wife Leaves Him

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5.—Willard Mack, dramatist, producer and actor, who is ill in the Stanford University hospital, is reported by the San Francisco Examiner today to have informed friends that his fourth wife, Beatrice Beebe Mack, actress, has left him. The Examiner says Mrs. Mack left last Thursday without explanation for Los Angeles, accompanied by her mother and her two children. His wife had been playing here and in San Jose in his play "Kickin." The newspaper quotes Mack as having declared to friends there would be no reconciliation. Mack's former wives were Maude Leone, Marjorie Rambeau and Pauline Frederick.

BIG NIGHT FOR RALLIES

Mayor Sullivan of Worcester, Ex.-Gov. Foss and Gaston Speakers Heard Here

The Hon. Peter P. Sullivan, mayor of Worcester and a democratic candidate for the governorship of Massachusetts, held three enthusiastic rallies in this city Saturday night, speaking at Tower's corner, city hall and Paige street where large audiences listened attentively to the policies he propounded and the radical changes he proposed if chosen to represent the commonwealth in the governor's chair on Beacon Hill.

Mr. Sullivan was accompanied by his campaign manager, John B. Hannigan, also of Worcester and a very able and interesting orator. The latter acted as chairman at all the rallies and introduced Mayor Sullivan in appropriate style, giving a comprehensive review of the gubernatorial candidate's life and political record. He emphasized the fact that the Worcester mayor is a self-made man, a liberal-minded and a faithful public servant who believes in letting actions speak louder than words. "His campaign committee," said Mr. Hannigan, "is the citizenry of Massachusetts."

Candidate Sullivan stated that this was his first appearance, politically, in Lowell, but that he felt at home in the Spindle City, where he has a legion of friends. "Although my name, alphabetically, is the last on the ballot," he said, "there is a story in the bible which says 'the last shall be first,' and Peter P. Sullivan believes in the bible." Continuing, the speaker pointed out that he is mayor of a republican city, but despite this fact, he feels confident of carrying his own city by 20,000 votes, if given the nomination at the primaries, as Worcester is 99% behind him.

No pledges will be offered, he stated. "Other candidates, for whom I bear the kindest wishes, are making pledges concerning tax rates and tariffs, etc., but will they abide by these pledges? They talk of a living wage, why not a saving wage also?" Mr. Sullivan then proceeded to criticize the so-called billboard prosperity of the republican party and exhorted his hearers not to be swayed by propaganda of this nature, and cited cases in Worcester where real prosperity and peace have been maintained between capital and labor. Industrial troubles and strikes could be averted if only the governor interceded with mill owners and took the necessary preventive measures. Mr. Sullivan promises to do this if elected to the honorable position as head of the commonwealth. He said he did it effectively in his own city where the factory owners are wealthy, but explained that it was labor made them so. In concluding, His Honor emphasized that he entered the fight after some of the others, but he claimed that the sentiment of the western part of the state is strongly with him and that if he is able to carry Lowell and Lawrence, his victory is assured. "Any democrat can carry Boston," was his concluding remark, "but what I want on election day is a telephone call from Lowell, saying I've carried the city two to one."

Ex-Governor Foss

Ex-Governor Foss appeared on the stump in several rallies here Saturday evening as a candidate for the nomination for governor. He made a lengthy speech at city hall in which he reviewed his administration as governor, told of the things he had accomplished and outlined what he would accomplish, he said, if again elected governor. His speech was radically socialistic as he advocated government ownership of all public utilities and more pensions, and especially for the aged on reaching that period of life in which they can no longer pursue remunerative callings. Mr. Foss criticised the republican regime stating that if he were made governor he would clean the rascals out.

Gaston Speakers Heard

Several speakers were heard in the interest of Col. William A. Gaston, candidate for the nomination for United State senator. Cornelius Desmond, Jr., presided and made a stirring speech in support of Gaston's candidacy, showing that gentleman's consistent democracy, his loyalty to the people and his admiral equipment to represent Massachusetts in the high position of United States senator. In conclusion he introduced Hon. J. H. Sherry of Peabody.

Mr. Sherry entered into a vigorous discussion of the campaign issues, dealing with the wool schedule and other features of the tariff bill that will prove burdensome to the people. He charged that Senator Lodge made the statement that he represented all of the people as well as Massachusetts, although the other senators representing different states and different lines of industry, fought hard to secure every possible advantage in the new tariff law for their respective states. In this Senator Lodge assisted them to the detriment of his own state and all New England. The speaker then indicated what Col. Gaston would do if he were elected to take the place of Senator Lodge. He pointed out how Sen. David I. Walsh put up a vigorous fight for New England interests and said that the discrimination against New England and Massachusetts would stop if this commonwealth were represented in the senate by Hon. David I. Walsh and Col. William A. Gaston.

Other Speakers

Arthur K. Reading, candidate for district attorney, addressed the gathering in his own behalf although it contained very few republicans. He argued that he was the logical candidate and rather reflected upon the candidacy of his opponents, mentioning in a slighting way the two Lowell men who are candidates. He criticised Jamess C. Reilly as lacking the experience necessary for the important office of district attorney and devoted much of his time to an explanation of an indictment brought against himself by a former district attorney, which he charged was wholly unjust. Possibly it was and his explanation of it seemed to so indicate, but evidently he did not convince the court that he was not guilty of the technical charge brought against him. It may be said in behalf of James C. Reilly that he has not to defend himself against any such charge.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our many friends, who by their expressions of sympathy and floral tributes, helped to lighten our great sorrow in the death of our beloved one.

PETER PANAGKOS SHOT

Police Seek Man Charged With Shooting—Old Feud Cause of Trouble

Since Sunday night the police have been searching for Louis Gianarakos, of 388 Adams street, who is alleged to have shot Peter Panagkos, of 52 Fenwick street, last Sunday night about nine o'clock at the corner of Fenwick and Market streets. Panagakos is in the Lowell Corporation hospital with a bullet wound in his abdomen and is in a weakened condition.

During the excitement that followed the attack and shooting, Gianarakos made his escape. Friends, however, say that he did not have much money with him and would not be able to get very far.

The doctors at the hospital report that Panagakos is somewhat improved over his condition since Sunday night when he was operated on. The bullet, which lodged near the spinal column, has not been removed yet because of the man's weakened condition.

The fracas occurred as Panagakos was on his way home from a coffee house on Market street where he had spent the evening with friends. It is alleged that Gianarakos waited for him in a darkened doorway and fired as the man approached. Panagakos fell to the sidewalk, crying out Gianarakos had shot him. The injured man was taken to Chagnon's drug store nearby and the ambulance was called. He was removed to the Corporation hospital and immediately operated on by Dr. A. R. Gardner.

The cause of the shooting is said to be a year-old feud between the two men, arising from an attack on Gianarakos by Panagakos armed with a knife. He was arrested at that time, February, 1921, and in the following December he was sentenced to serve one year in jail. He was released from jail a few weeks ago, after having served seven months of his one year sentence, and this was the first time that Gianarakos had seen him.

Through an interpreter, Panagakos stated to Sergt. Jas. Kennedy that he had spent the evening in the coffee house of Harry Ellcopoulos, and when on his way home was accosted by Gianarakos, who stepped from a darkened doorway, and fired the shot, after mumbling a few words.

CITY IN MARKET FOR VARIOUS ARTICLES

The city of Lowell was in the market today for 15 water hydrants, 20 tons of hay, 10 miles of fire department cable wire, laboratory and gymnasium equipment for the new high school and numerous other articles of routine nature.

Three bids were received on the hydrants, as follows: Fred Modiletto and Son, Boston, $65 each; Ludlow Valve Mfg. Co., Troy, N. Y., $61.40; Eddy Valve Co., Waterford, N. Y., $61.50.

To supply 10 miles of cable wire for fire department use, W. T. S. Bartlett bid $135; R. W. Pettingell Co., Boston, $162 and J. A. Thomson, $420.65, or 1½ cents per pound.

W. Smith bid $25.00 per ton on 20 tons of hay for the street department. The only other bidder was J. Bowers, $30.

There were six requisitions covering laboratory equipment. To supply gymnasium equipment for the high school, W. T. S. Bartlett bid $2115.50 and the Narragansett Machine Co., $2200.

SALE OF BUILDINGS TO BE REMOVED

Situated at No. 9 First Street, and No. 11 First Street and No. 17 First Street, and No. 21 First Street, Centralville, and No. 773 Middlesex Street, opposite the Franklin School—

ON THURSDAY, THE SEVENTH DAY OF SEPTEMBER, 1922
AT 3 O'CLOCK P. M.

Commencing at No. 9 First Street and following in the order named, the Middlesex Street building to be sold on the premises after the sale of the Centralville buildings.

The above buildings are ordered sold as they stand at date of sale at public auction to whomsoever will bid the most by order of the Park Department of the City of Lowell, upon the express conditions that the said buildings shall be removed from the premises upon which they are now situated within 20 days from date of sale.

The building at No 9 First Street is a dwelling house of 2½ stories in height, and is about 22x51, and has twelve rooms, bathroom, toilet and open plumbing, and piazzas, front and side.

The building at No. 11 First Street is a 2½ story house and has 13 rooms, open plumbing, bathroom, furnace heat, electric lights, and piazzas front and side and is about 226x61.

The building at No. 17 First Street is a full 2½ story slated roof dwelling containing 13 rooms, with bath, hot and cold water, having a modern steam heating plant and is about 26x24.

The building at No. 21 First Street is a 3-story slated roof dwelling, having 10 rooms and two toilets, modern open plumbing, bath, large open unfinished attic on the third floor, has electric lights, open fire places and large piazzas and is about 50x27.

The building at No. 773 Middlesex Street, is of the cottage type, one story in height, containing five rooms and is about 15x30.

The above buildings are to be sold as personal property and in separate lots on their respective sites upon the express conditions as above stated, that said buildings shall be removed from the land upon which they now stand within 20 days from date of sale.

In almost each instance the houses are supplied with copper hot water boilers, piped for gas and water, and the building at No. 11 First Street has furnace heat and the buildings at Nos. 17-21 are supplied with steam boilers. This is a most unusual opportunity at the present high prices of building materials to secure already constructed dwellings that can be made ready for occupancy in very short time.

TERMS: A deposit of 50 per cent of the purchase price shall be required of the purchaser of each lot as soon as struck off. The balance in five days from date of sale.

By order of
PARK DEPARTMENT of the City of Lowell,
John W. Kernan, Supt.

FAMILIES DRIVEN OUT

Occupants of Market Street Block Driven Out By Early Morning Fire

Members of four families were driven to the street early this morning when fire broke out in the block owned by Harry Demaras at 457 Market street. So menacing did the fire appear that a second alarm was sent in by Chief Saunders as a means of protecting closely adjacent property.

The fire was discovered shortly after 1 o'clock by Patrolman William Murphy and Constantine Koulsonikoles and before the firemen arrived they had aroused at least a score of persons who were sleeping on the second and third floors. Their prompt work in the smoke-filled building made escape possible for the members of the four families living there.

Apparently the fire had its origin on the ground floor in the rear of a restaurant owned by Christos Zlogkos and George Zouleios. Evidently the flames spread rapidly through the restaurant before breaking through the outer walls as the interior was a roaring furnace when the first alarm apparatus arrived. Two pieces of apparatus standing at the curb were scorched as the flames shot out from the building and several hose lines and electric light wires were burned.

Escaping gas added fuel for the flames and before the firemen could begin effective work the fire had worked its way into the upper floors. At least half the block was gutted before the fire was under control.

The adjoining block was the scene of a two-alarm fire a few weeks ago when the fruit store of Harry Eliacopoulos was burned. This fire resulted in an investigation by the state fire marshal, but Chief Saunders said after last night's fire that he saw no evidences which would call for an investigation of the Demaras property.

SUPERIOR COURT OPENS

Fall Term of Criminal Session Opened Here Today —Lowell Cases

The fall term of the criminal session of the superior court opened in this city this morning, with Justice Hammond on the bench. Prayer was offered by Rev. N. W. Matthews of the Gorham Street P. M. church and the list of jurors was called. Nine of those called for jury duty were excused for various reasons and then there was a brief recess during which time Justice Hammond went into the other court room and opened the grand jury session.

In the course of the forenoon the following cases were called and disposed of:

John J. Jajuja and Barbara Molta, statutory offence. Both pleaded guilty and the man was fined $100 and the woman $25.

John Perry, alias, statutory offence. He pleaded guilty and was placed on probation.

William J. McGlinchey pleaded guilty to a charge of keeping liquor and was fined $50.

Charles Bergeron, who pleaded guilty to a statutory offence, was ordered to pay a fine of $100.

Francisco Paulino admitted his guilt to a charge of drunkenness and was placed on probation.

George Jeogas failed to put in an appearance when his case for liquor keeping was called and he was ordered defaulted, a capias being issued for his arrest.

Shortly before noon court adjourned until tomorrow morning at East Cambridge.

The list of jurors is as follows: Frank W. Atwood, Melrose, salesman; Charles W. Bemis, Wayland, farmer; Howard L. Bennett, Winchester, copper mining; Marshall K. Berry, Winchester, real estate; Thomas Bowles, Wayland, teamster; Marshall W. Cox, Newton, candy shop; Edward Cuddy, Cambridge, wood worker; Thomas J. Crowle, Cambridge, civil engineer; Thomas M. Dacey, Marlborough, stable keeper; Joseph T. Eggleston, Newton, railroad clerk; Milford G. Fellows, Ashland, shipper; Charles R. Garrett, Everett, salesman; Loring P. Gleason, Winchester, real estate; George L. Haff, Somerville, foreman; John E. Little, Everett, packer; Paul M. McCarthy, Everett, electrician; Stephen J. McDonough, Waltham, machinist; Thomas McNamara, Waltham, freight agent; Luke O'Connell, Lowell, retired; Forrest E. Palmer, Lowell, bookkeeper; Stewart Perkins, Lowell, barber; Daniel Reid, Medford, cloth examiner; Walter E. Reid, Cambridge, publisher; Burton J. Rood, Medford, manager; George H. Shortsleeves, Hudson, painter; George T. Stevens, Framingham, Framingham Ice Co. and Charles A. Swinerton, Cambridge, accountant.

HEAVY DOWNPOUR OF RAIN DOES MUCH DAMAGE IN LOWELL

Streets Gutted and Cellars Flooded All Over City—Sewers and Catch Basins Unable to Cope With Miniature Floods—More Than 600 Telephones Out of Commission

Hundreds of cellars were flooded, gravel streets and cinder sidewalks were ripped up and gutted to a depth of several feet, hundreds of dollars worth of garden truck was ruined, more than 600 individual telephones were put out of commission, electric cars were stalled and sewers and catch basins were rendered practically useless yesterday when the entire city was drenched for more than two hours by a downpour of rain that reached torrential and cloud-burst proportions when at its peak at about 11.30 a. m.

Heavy Precipitation

Almost an unprecedented precipitation of 3½ inches was measured at the Pawtucket dam by officials of the Locks & Canals Corp., but this means little or nothing when compared to the great concentrations of flood water in practically every section of the city.

The heavens seemed to split wide open at about 10.30 o'clock although from sunrise the day had been showery. From 10.30 until noon, however, the city was literally deluged with water and in no time at all, sewers and catch basins had backed up, entirely unable to cope with or carry off the huge volumes of water that were being sent toward them.

It was then that the real danger of the rain began to be apparent. From gutters the water spread over paved roadways and rose rapidly to inundate curbings and sidewalks. It stretched over lawns and began to run into cellars. Gravel streets, particularly those on which there was a grade, were washed away with alarming

40 MEN ENTOMBED BY EXPLOSION IN BRITISH MINE—10 RECOVERED

NEWCASTLE, England, Sept. 5.—(By the Associated Press)—Forty men were entombed through an explosion in a coal pit at Whitehaven, this morning, the Evening Chronicle states. The bodies of 10 were recovered.

Rescue parties up to mid-afternoon had been unable to reach the imprisoned miners, owing to gas. The explosion occurred a mile and a half within the workings of the Haig Colliery which runs under the sea. Several bodies of victims were found.

Lawrence Strike Officially at End

LAWRENCE, Sept. 5.—The Lawrence strike is officially at an end. The Everett and Patchogue-Plymouth mills, the last of the plants to grant a return of the old wage scale, were reopened today with many workers going back to their jobs, and the Pacific mills, the first to give in, reported a large gain in the number of workers this morning. None of the mill officials would state in numbers how many were working. It will be several days, they said, before all the departments can operate, however rapidly the workers may return.

Bishop Samuel Fallows Dead

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—Bishop Samuel Fallows, presiding bishop of the Reformed Episcopal church, famous as preacher, soldier, author and lecturer, died today, at his residence, after an illness of less than a month. He was approaching his 87th birthday. He fell ill of pneumonia last winter and to that was attributed the beginning of his fatal illness.

TARIFF FIRST THEN BONUS

Conferees Refuse to Side-Track Tariff Bill for the Soldiers' Bonus Measure

Sen. Walsh of Mass. Voted to Take Up the Bonus Immediately

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—By a vote of five to three, senate and house conferees refused today to sidetrack the administration tariff bill for the soldiers' bonus measure.

Senators McCumber, republican, North Dakota, and Simmons, North Carolina, and Walsh, Massachusetts, democrats, voted to take up the bonus immediately, but opposing them were Senators Smoot, Utah, republican, and Representatives Fordney, Michigan, Longworth, Ohio, and Green, Iowa, republicans, and Garner, Texas democrat. Senator McLean, Connecticut, republican, and Representative Collier, democrat, Mississippi and two other conferees were absent.

Chairman Fordney of the house managers led the opposition to immediate consideration of the bonus bill. He argued that the tariff already had been nearly three years in the making and that it should not be laid aside. Urging quick action on the bonus, Chairman McCumber argued that an agreement on this measure probably could be reached within a few hours.

GROWING LIST OF OUTBREAKS INCIDENT TO RAIL STRIKE

Injunction Universally Condemned By Union Leaders—Gompers Calls Writ Unconstitutional—Federal Court Action in Cases Growing Out of Arrests for Alleged Violations of Injunction—General Strike to Be Considered

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—While the Chicago injunction proceedings will be followed up with the determination of guaranteeing the country against interference with transportation, a high official of the administration declared today, constitutional liberties of law-abiding men will not be abridged.

President Harding is said to feel that the injunction sought will not in any way hamper or endanger constitutional rights of the men on strike or of other citizens. He is said to consider the government's course entirely clear of complications which might justify any such a change.

Just how far the government will be obliged to go with prosecutions against individuals, the administration spokesman said, can only be determined by events. It was indicated that no activities in connection with the strike outside of the court matters were now in progress.

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—With the government's rail strike injunction universally condemned by union leaders in Labor day messages yesterday, impending federal court action in cases

ACTRESSES TRY TO END LIVES

Another Made Second Attempt at Suicide Because of Failure to Make Good

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Two actresses attempted suicide today by swallowing poison.

Miss Dennie Harrison, 20 years old, leaving a note saying she was desperate because she was unable to rid herself of addiction to drugs, was found unconscious in her bed which had been set afire by a cigaret. Her condition is serious.

Mrs. Vera Maynard, 32 years old, a widow, who was discharged from Bellevue hospital, two weeks ago after an attempt to end her life, told detectives that she made her second attempt today because she realized that she could not achieve success as a motion picture actress. She added that she would try suicide again if she recovered.

Mrs. Maynard, whose condition is not serious, was picked up at a street corner by two men who took her to a hospital in an automobile.

Miss Harrison, a pretty Detroit girl left a long note in which she told a story of a confessed "weakling's struggles against the temptations of an ambitious young girl alone in the city."

There was another letter to the girl's mother. It read: "This is the last night of my life. I intend to make it so. I have taken a small quantity of ——— but I have a four ounce bottle of ——— to drink now, and then there will be no awakening this time. I intend to take it all at once—not sip it.

"I love you, darling, as much as it is possible for a poor weakling like myself to love.

"I left Arthur a letter as a last favor to a dead girl to cremate me and send you the ashes. Take them to the edge of Belle Isle and fling them to the winds."

HAD VERY NARROW ESCAPE

Opera House About to Be Sold When Somebody Hollered "Hold"

Mr. Somebody Then Presented Receipt for Taxes and Sale Was Off

Just as the auction block was being pushed into place and the telltale hammer was ready to "knock down" the Lowell Opera House to the highest bidder this forenoon, someone hollered: "Don't let that hammer fall, mister, things is all right; the old place ain't ready to go just yet."

"How come?" queried the man in front of the red flag and added, "Where's your proof?"

"Right here," replied the unknown as he pulled out a certified receipt for $1418.90, paid this day to the city of Lowell for taxes of 1920.

"That's proof enough for me, gentleman," announced the auctioneer. "All bets are off; the old place stays just as she sits."

And that's that.

Yes, sir, the old Opera House did not fall ignominiously under the hammer as advertised, for representatives of the holding company got under the municipal wire just a scant nose ahead of the hammer, plunked down the amount of the outstanding obligation, $1418.90 and hastened back to block the sale.

So, the venerable stage that bears the footprints of Southern and Marlowe and countless other theatrical luminaries of yesteryear, still stands, ready for another season if its present owners deem it wise and the chances are they will, according to a statement made today by J. W. Schnake, manager.

THE LUNDBURG STREET BRIDGE

GREECE APPEALS TO ALLIES

Asks Powers to Obtain an Armistice With the Turkish Nationalists

Greeks Virtually Driven From Battlefields — Allied High Commissioners to Act

Allied Warships Alone Stand Between Thousands of Christians and Death

SMYRNA, Sept. 5.—(By the Associated Press) The Greek troops, according to advices from the front, are refusing to make any stand against the advancing Turkish Nationalists and it is feared that unless the British and the French take energetic action, serious events may occur in Smyrna. British subjects are to be embarked on the British steamers in Smyrna harbor, where they will await events.

Consul General Herton of the United States is looking after American interests and will, if necessary, place the 50 or 60 American residents of Smyrna on board the American vessels including destroyers, which are expected from Constantinople.

Blame Allies For Disaster

ATHENS, Sept. 5.—(By the Associated Press) Reports from various sources are to the effect that the military situation in Asia Minor, where the Greek and Turkish Nationalist armies are at grips, is considerably improved. The position, nevertheless, is obscure.

The Greek government has commandeered the merchant fleet.

The National opinion is inclined to blame the allies for Greece's misfortune. It is contended in the newspapers that the Greek army landed at Smyrna in 1919 to carry out the allies' mandate, and that Greece had made every sacrifice to that end and would have continued the same course if the allies had not obstructed her task.

LONDON, Sept. 5—(By the Associated Press) "General opinion in well informed quarters in London today was that the disaster to the Greek army in Asia Minor was complete. There seemed little prospect that anything could now save it from a total debacle.

The Greek government has appealed to the powers to obtain an armistice with the Turkish Nationalists, who have virtually driven the Greeks from

SAYS CITY HAD NO RIGHT TO SEIZE LAND

Speaking for a client, William D. Regan, former city solicitor, contends that the city has acted contrary to legal authority in taking certain land for a proposed widening of First st. In connection with the linking of the new boulevard to Lawrence with the present thoroughfare. He has sent letters to this effect to the board of park commissioners and public service board.

It is the former solicitor's contention that land was taken by right of eminent domain for the purpose of extending Varnum park, so-called, but that a portion of this taking is to be utilized for widening the street.

A part of Mr. Regan's letter to the park commissioners says:

"You are undoubtedly aware that the laws of the commonwealth provide that park property dedicated to the use of the public cannot be used for street widening or re-locating, unless certain and definite procedure required by the general laws is complied with."

WAGE CONFERENCE TODAY AT THE LOWELL BLEACHERY

Parties to Conference Include President McMahon of United Textile Workers of America, Chairman Fisher of State Board of Arbitration, Treasurer and Agent of the Plant and a Committee of Employes—One Big Union Representatives in Lowell

President Thomas F. McMahon of the United Textile Workers of America, arrived in Lowell this noon and after visiting the strike leaders repaired to the office of the Lowell Bleachery Co., where, with Chairman Edward Fisher of the state board of arbitration and conciliation and a committee of employes of the plant, he conferred with Treasurer Coolidge and Agent Kiernan relative to the 12½ per cent. wage reduction, which went into effect at the mill a week ago yesterday.

It will be remembered that when the company made the announcement of a 12½ per cent. wage cut, the employes protested and later held a meeting in Trades & Labor hall in Central street. At the close of the meeting it was voted to accept the reduction under protest pending a conference with the mill officials. A few days later the employes conferred with Treasurer Coolidge, but the result of the conference was not made public. Arrangements were later made for a conference with President McMahon and Chairman Fisher.

At the close of this afternoon's conference President McMahon addressed a mass meeting of strikers and friends of the labor movement in Trades & Labor hall.

Columbia Textile Co.

The plant of the Columbia Textile Co. in Market street, which had been shut down since last Thursday after an attempt to run the mill with strike-breakers had proved fruitless, reopened this morning, so it was learned and all the operatives who were on strike returned to work. The strike was settled last Friday when the agent of the mill invited the operatives to return to their work this morning on the old scale of wages.

One Big Union

A largely attended meeting of mill operatives of this city was held in the Polish club rooms in Coburn street Sunday evening, the gathering being addressed by representatives of teh One Big union of Lawrence, in an endeavor to form a branch of the organization in this city. Chairman John Hanley of the local textile strike committee, stated today that the representatives of the One Big union came here at the request of some loomfixers who are employed at the Massachusetts mills and who were expelled from the loomfixers' union after going to work in the mill as strikebreakers. It is not believed that the Lawrence union leaders will have any luck in organizing a branch of their organization in this city.

Looking For Help

A loomfixer formerly employed in the local mills and who is now working in New Bedford, informed the local strike leaders this morning that three of the large cotton mills of New Bedford were looking for loomfixers and weavers. The mills are running full blast, he reported, and are preparing to operate a night force.

LOWELL DISTRICT COURT

Alleged Gamblers Arraigned and Fined—Many Arrests Over the Week End

This morning's session of the district court, coming after a three day holiday, broke all records for attendance in these days of drouth and empty jails. Forty-eight drunks were taken into custody throughout the city during this period, 29 of them being later released, and 28 men faced the court for being present where gaming instruments were found. The city coffers were swelled to the tune of $260 in a very few minutes as the result of the conviction of these gamesters. There was also evidence of the work of the liquor squad as there were several liquor cases before the court. Judge Enright quickly disposed of the lengthy docket, however, as the majority of the cases were tried in groups.

As a result of a raid on a house at 45 Lee street by the vice squad last night, 15 men, giving the names of Chin Kee, Ah Sing, Henry Thom, Chin Tong, Dn Lee, Chin King, Tow Chin, Hong Lee, Chin Sing, Chin Ping, Lee Foo, Chin Aak, Chin Low, George Sing, and Sam Wong were fined $10 apiece for being present where gaming instruments were found. Frank Goncalves, John Mendes, Manuel Gravel, Manuel Enis and Jesse Perry, arrested while participating in a crap game in a house on South street, were found guilty of the same offence and fined $10 each. Card playing at a club in Moody street brought Joseph Lamoureaux, Alfred Jacques, William Bellerose, Ovila Parent, Joseph Perre, and Louis Boucher before the court on the same charge and the usual fine of $10 was handed out to each of the defendants. This brought the total

"Sylpho-Nathol made Herbert's feet feel fine"

"Herbert's work keeps him on his feet for hours at a time. He walks miles and miles every day. In hot weather, his feet used to hurt him dreadfully—they would swell and get so tender he couldn't sleep at night. But Sylpho-Nathol gave him quick relief.

"Letty Hayward told me about Sylpho-Nathol and its many uses. I bought a bottle at the druggist's. The directions recommended it for tired and aching feet.

"Herbert came home that evening with his feet driving him nearly crazy. He tried Sylpho-Nathol as soon as I told him about it. A tablespoonful in a gallon of warm water made a clean-smelling, pearly-gray solution. My dear! I wish you could have heard Herbert. 'Sylpho-Nathol is certainly a life-saver, Bess,' he said, as it soothed the soreness away. 'It's great stuff to have in the house—don't let's ever be without it.'"

But Sylpho-Nathol has many other important uses. In cleaning-water, it destroys germs which lurk in dust and dirt and threaten family health. As a sprinkle, it quickly dispels the unpleasant odors which come in sink pipes and drains and other hard-to-get-at places. It is indispensable in the bathroom, around the toilet fixtures and as a flush for the closet bowl. It is a dependable antiseptic, which deserves a place in every home medicine chest.

Sylpho-Nathol is 4½ times stronger than carbolic acid, yet it is as safe to have about the house as a cake of soap. Your druggist or grocer has Sylpho-Nathol in four handy sizes, 15c, 35c, 65c and $1.25. If he hasn't it he can get it easily. Ask for it by name—"Sylpho-Nathol."

GIRLS! WHITEN SKIN WITH LEMON JUICE

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of harmless and delightful lemon bleach. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day, then shortly note the beauty and whiteness of your skin.

Famous stage beauties use this lemon lotion to bleach and bring that soft, clear, rosy-white complexion, also as a freckle, sunburn and tan bleach because it doesn't irritate.—Adv.

"POOR LITTLE RICH GIRL"

Miss Muriel McCormick Refuses $1,000,000 Contract to Appear in Movies

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—Nawanna Micor, who in everyday life is Muriel McCormick, has refused a $1,000,000 contract to appear in a motion picture, according to friends.

Miss McCormick refused to make any comment on her plans today, being busy moving from the home of her father, Harold F. McCormick, who recently married Ganna Walska, the Polish opera star, to an attic studio three flights up, where she will pursue her operatic studies.

The apartment she will occupy is just across the street from the home of her mother, Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, daughter of John D. Rockefeller, from whom she has been estranged since the divorce which was obtained by Mrs. McCormick upon charges of desertion. Miss McCormick, who is known to her Gold Coast friends as "The poor little rich girl," has expressed her desire to become a grand opera star, and to achieve success through her own efforts alone and without the assistance of her family's wealth.

ROUGH COATS ARE MODISH

A herringbone on the back is worth half a dozen on the plate this season. Women have taken over all woolen stuffs in this pattern—formerly monopolized by men—and are making fall and winter coats of them.

These coats are of the rough-and-ready variety. Some of them are made with voluminous over-capes to shield one from the "cauld" blasts. Some have sleeves set in several inches below the shoulder. Others have raglan sleeves.

They are made with collars that button tight under the chin, are severely notched, tailored fashion, or are slightly draped in the back and roll open in front.

The materials are all herringbone weaves, checked and plaid wool velours, plaid backed coatings, wool tricot and suede.

Adventures of the Twins

NANCY AND NICK GET QUEEN'S WAND

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

Nancy wondered and wondered how she and Nick could get the Fairy Queen's wand from Flap-Doodle, the purple fairy, who had stolen it.

Flap-Doodle and the Twins were eating rice together out of bowls with chopsticks. The Twins had invited Flap-Doodle to have some lunch.

Suddenly Nancy thought of a plan. "That's a nice chopstick you brought with you, Mr. Flap-Doodle," she said. "Do you care if I try it?"

Flap-Doodle didn't know what to say. He looked over to the place he had put the wand and wished he had kept it by him.

"Oh, I guess not," he said off-hand like, as though he didn't care.

So Nancy went and got the Fairy Queen's wand.

Flap-Doodle never once guessed that the little Chinese boy called Nick Oo Ting was just plain Nick, and that the little Chinese girl called Nan Soy was his Twin, Nancy. So he didn't worry much.

He went on eating his rice and flapping his big ears, never noticing that Nancy was motioning to Nick behind his back.

All at once he heard Nick say: "Please, Green Shoes, take us down to the earth to the Fairy Queen's palaces."

Flap-Doodle made a jump and a grab, but he was too late.

The Twins, holding tight to the magic wand, were already far away in the sky, traveling headlong toward the earth as fast as two little comets.

"Hopping frogs and leaping toads!" cried Flap-Doodle. "This is an outrage! I've been fooled. I'll have to get that magic wand in my power again."

He flew after the Twins as fast as his ears would carry him, talking to himself every inch of the way.

They passed the Moon and Venus and Mars and Jupiter, also the star where the Weatherman lived.

But people on the stars only said: "There goes something. What dropped, do you suppose?"

TO RATIFY COMPROMISE COAL PROPOSALS

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 5.—Anthracite union leaders who have not already left Philadelphia were to go to Wilkesbarre today to prepare for the convention of delegates from the three districts of United Mine Workers in the hard coal regions. The convention, which will open tomorrow afternoon, will vote upon ratification of the compromise proposals of United States Senators Pepper and Reed of Pennsylvania for ending the labor struggle which has kept the mines idle for more than five months.

Reports from the anthracite fields indicate that the vote will be in favor of ratification, although a fight upon the plan is promised by the more radical element of the miners, who wish to insist upon extending the scale until April 1, 1924, at least.

If the plan is ratified, mining is expected to be resumed by next Monday.

CAPT. ROSENBLUTH WILL NOT GO BEFORE JURY

SEATTLE, Sept. 5.—Willingness to testify before a federal grand jury to sit at Tacoma, Sept. 25, to investigate the fatal shooting of Major Alexander Cronkhite, at Camp Lewis, Sept. 25, 1918, is expressed by Capt. Robert Rosenbluth in a letter received by his friends here.

"I am offering to go before the grand jury," says the letter, "waiving all immunity, provided that it also is agreed this is not to be legal recognition of any federal jurisdiction, so that later I could not secure legal redress for this illegal step of the department of Justice.

"In any case I do not think the department has the nerve to let me testify before a grand jury and show them how even the record of my own statements has been deliberately falsified."

Capt. Rosenbluth was accused of having induced Bugler Sergt. Roland Pothier of Central Falls, R. I., to do the shooting.

EX-KAISER'S INTENDED BRIDE WIDOW OF 34

LONDON, Sept. 5.—The former kaiser's intended bride is the Princess Hermine of Reuss, 34 years old widow, according to a report quoted by the Daily Mail's Berlin correspondent.

The engagement, he adds, will not be announced until after the anniversary of the late ex-kaiserin's birthday, Oct. 22.

The Times of London on Aug. 25 published a report that former Emperor William was betrothed to the widow of a German aristocrat, almost of royal rank. It was said that she had recently visited William at Doorn, Holland, his place of exile, and that their marriage would take place the coming winter.

Princess Hermine of Reuss is the widow of Prince Jean of Schonaich-Carolath, who died in April, 1920. She was born Dec. 17, 1887, and is the mother of five children, the eldest of whom is 14. She owns a large estate at Saarbar, Silesia.

SQUARES DEDICATED IN MEMORY OF LOWELL HEROES

Representatives of Nation, State and City March in Pouring Rain—Grandniece of Marquis Lafayette One of Speakers

Eight squares in the up-town district of the city were yesterday dedicated to the memories of eight Lowell heroes who laid down their lives on the battlefields of France in the World war. The exercises were not as elaborate as planned because of the rain, which came down in torrents in the middle of the forenoon, but nevertheless all the squares were visited and despite the torrential downpour, the tablets were unveiled and wreaths of flowers were tenderly placed upon them as a token of remembrance.

The dedication exercises were conducted under the auspices of the local post of the American Legion and the squares dedicated were as follows: Armand Alix square, junction of Common and Clark; Ralph Lashua square, Merrimack and Cabot; Joseph Mercier square, Moody and Tremont; William H. Clouatre square, Aiken and Moody; Bernard L. Boisvert square, Lakeview avenue and Aiken avenue; Alderic Veuillette square, Hall, Perkins, Ward and Pawtucket; Philippe Chalifoux square, Moody and Riverside, and Henry Cognac square, Merrimack and Pawtucket.

Members of the American Legion headed by Major Frederick Estes, assembled at Memorial hall and headed by Reagan's Military band marched to the North common, where the first dedication took place. In line with the soldiers were Mayor George H. Brown and Representative Henri Achin, while in the rear Mlle. Paulette Naudain-Huet, a grandniece of the Marquis de Lafayette, rode in an automobile. Another machine conveyed the principal speaker of the day, Rev. Aurelien Mercil, O.M.I., of St. Joseph's.

The exercises, which were presided over by Commander Stephen C. Garrity of the Legion, consisted of band selections, addresses by Rev. Fr. Mercil, O.M.I., Mayor Brown and Rep. Achin; the unveiling of the tablets, prayers for the deceased soldiers, the sounding of "taps" by Bugler Emile Lamoureux, and the playing of "America" by the band.

Priv. Armand Alix square at Common and Clark streets was the first to be dedicated, the unveiling of the tablet being done by the widow of the deceased soldier, Mrs. Armand Alix of Andrews street. Rev. Fr. Mercil, O.M.I., was the first speaker. He was introduced by Commander Garrity. In the course of his address the reverend gentleman said: "We are gathered here today to honor the memory of some of our citizens who died for our country. Priv. Armand Alix made the supreme sacrifice and made it courageously. Well may we be proud of such gallant men, who fought valiantly for the rights of America. They bore their hardships patiently with unswerving courage and have won the confidence and admiration of the whole world."

The speaker then paid a tribute to the French Poilus, saying they fought vallantly side by side with the American soldiers against the foe. "Well may we be proud of the defenders of our country," he continued. In dedicating these squares to the memories of heroes, the local post of the American Legion may be sure that it is giving expression of the admiration of the entire city.

Mayor Brown said: "It is proper that we meet here today to pay a tribute to the young men who gave up their lives. As mayor of the city of Lowell I officially name this square "Priv. Armand Alix square."

Representative Henri Achin, representing the state, said he wanted to add the homage of the 4,000,000 citizens of the commonwealth to the memory and honor of the deceased heroes. "These young men lived right here, we knew them well, we cherished and loved them. They were American citizens, who died in their second country, France. When we come through these squares in the future, let us say a solemn prayer for the men whose names are emblazoned above the streets, for it is through their heroism that our country has remained the first in the world."

At the close of the addresses "taps" was sounded by Bugler Lamoureux, while Mrs. Alix unveiled the tablet. Then the band played "America," and the procession continued its way to the junction of Cabot and Merrimack streets, where the unveiling of the tablet was done by Mrs. Lashua, mother of Priv. Lashua. At Tremont and Moody streets, the unveiling was done by Francis Mercier, father of deceased, who came here from Southbridge. Mrs. Agnes Clouatre unveiled the tablet to the memory of her son at Aiken and Moody streets, while Mr. and Mrs. Jacques Boisvert officiated at Lakeview and Aiken avenues. Owing to the illness of Mrs. Annie Veuillette, the square at Ward and Perkins sts. was unveiled by a brother of deceased, Arthur Veuillette. The unveiling of the tablet at Riverside and Moody streets was done by Mrs. Chalifoux, mother of the young hero.

The last dedication on the program was at the C.M.A.C. When the procession reached this point the rain was coming down in torrents and it was practically impossible to conduct outdoor exercises. Mrs. Isidore Cognac, mother of the young men to whose memory the square was dedicated, unveiled the tablet and this was followed by prayer, which was offered by Very Rev. J. E. Turcotte, O.M.I.

Those present later repaired to the assembly hall of the club, where President J. A. N. Chretien paid a tribute to Private Cognac and all the other Lowell heroes. He said the French-speaking residents of this city were proud of their sons, who gave up their lives so freely and who fought so valiantly, and made reference to the distinguished visitor, Mlle. Paulette Naudian-Huet, who, he said, lost a brother and five cousins in the World war. He also stated that the American soldier boys were entertained by Mlle. Huet at her chateau in France. Mlle. Huet, who was then introduced spoke in part as follows: "At first let me thank you for the honor you confer upon me in requesting me to speak. I will be very brief. I will simply give you the message of France. I am glad to represent my dear country at such a ceremony. I assure you that France will be immensely thankful to America for having sent her boys to fight for civilization.

"France sends her homage to all your valiant soldiers who died gloriously on the battlefields, and I am happy to tell you that France will never forget. The graves of your boys buried in France are being very well taken care of, for little French children often decorate them with flowers. Back in France I will see that the graves of the heroes of Lowell are especially decorated as a mark of my deep appreciation for their sacrifices and also for the splendid welcome you have given me in your city.

"I wish to extend my thanks to all in Lowell, but particularly to the mayor of your city, his secretary, Mr. Joseph Clouatre; Mr. Maurice Lambert and Mr. and Mrs. Adolphe Lamontagne, who have made my stay in your city very pleasant.

"The Marquis de Lafayette loved America as his adopted country and to me America and France are equally dear. To the parents of the deceased soldiers I extend my sympathy. Somewhere in France, in Verdun, my only brother was killed, so today I deeply share your sadness. America and France are proud of their boys, who were killed on the battlefields and in the name of France I assure you of the love of all France for America."

Thousands Of Women Are Now Taking This Newer Form Of Iron

Worn-out Housewife Tells How She Quickly Regained Her Health and Strength.

"Only a short two weeks ago I was so tired, nervous and worn-out from the drain on my nerves and strength of housekeeping drudgery, that I thought I could not keep up another day.

A short two weeks' treatment of the newer form of iron has given me a marvelous increase in health, strength and energy. Now I can do my whole house without help, and do not have to sit at home in the evening "all-in" sick and nervous."

"The above is a typical hypothetical case," says Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Out-Door Dept.) New York, and the Westchester County Hospital. "You cannot be well and strong and full of vigor, force and power unless your blood is rich in iron. It is your red blood that enables you to resist and overcome disease and that nourishes every organ in your body. Without iron your blood becomes thin, pale and watery. Poor blood cannot nourish your vital organs and as a result you may have pains in your heart or kidneys, indigestion, headaches, and feel all "run-down" and tired out."

When your blood lacks iron do not waste your time taking stimulating medicines or narcotic drugs, but directly enrich your blood with the newer form of iron sold by all druggists under the name of Nuxated Iron, which is like the iron in spinach, lentils, and apples, and is in a form easily assimilated into your blood.

Get a bottle of Nuxated Iron today. Take it for two weeks and if you have not, like thousands of others, obtained most surprising health, strength and energy, the manufacturers will promptly refund your money. The following local druggists will sell you Nuxated Iron with this "satisfaction or money back" guarantee.

Says Wealthy Society Women Swindled

CHICAGO, Sept. 5.—After delving for more than a week into the secrets of Albert J. Moore's "life institute" for healing sad hearts and unhappy homes, Assistant State Attorney McLaughlin announced today that he had enough evidence to warrant indictment of Moore for swindling his "disciples" who included many wealthy society women. Mrs. James H. Cartwright, wife of Justice Cartwright of the Illinois supreme court, was among Moore's accusers, who caused an inquiry into Moore's cult. W. W. Talcott, ice cream manufacturer, who brought the original charges against Moore, because of his wife's interest in the cult, committed suicide last week by jumping into Lake Michigan.

Fierce Attack By Irregular Forces

BELFAST, Sept. 5. (By the Associated Press.)—Irregular forces made a fierce attack on the barracks at Carrick, across county Monaghan, at 2 o'clock this morning. They maintained a heavy fire on the front and rear with machine guns, rifles, revolvers and bombs. The 40 defenders, however, successfully withstood the attack. The Irregulars lost one man killed and two others wounded.

FOR REVISION OF PRAYER BOOK

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 5.—If members of the commission on prayer book revision have their views accepted, Episcopalians rarely will have read to them from the altar, scriptural passages that are imprecatory in nature—that call for dire vengeance or a curse upon enemies of the righteous.

This was indicated today in statements made by Dr. Charles L. Slattery, rector of Grace church, New York, who has been selected to present the report of the house of deputies of the Episcopal church which opens this week.

Ismond—Parker

At the home of the officiating minister, Rev. Henry A. Cornell, 21 Blossom street, on August 30, Mr. Jay D. Ismond and Mrs. Annie M. Parker, both of Lowell, were united in marriage by a double ring ceremony. Mr. Dustin H. Hamblett served as best man and Miss Florence M. Parker as bridesmaid. The bride wore a travelling costume with pink roses. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Ismond will make their home at 14 Flemings street, off Stevens street, from Oct. 1. Mr. Ismond is a well known member of the Lowell fire department, having been connected with the Centralville fire station for a number of years.

McKenna-D'Arezzo

Mr. John McKenna and Miss Margaret D'Arezzo were united in marriage yesterday morning, at 11 o'clock, the ceremony being performed at St. Peter's rectory by Rev. Fr. Manion. The bride was gowned in satin with shadow lace and rosebud trimming and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Viola D'Arezzo, who wore satin and carried pink roses. The best man was Mr. Pasquale Romanolo, a brother-in-law of the bride. At the close of the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's parents, 15 Walnut street, and was followed by a reception which was attended by over 200 guests from Lawrence, Providence, Boston, Cambridge, New York and Haverhill. The couple will make their home in Cambridge.

LOWELL MEN INJURED AT YORK BEACH

YORK BEACH, Me., Sept. 5—Confused by a dense fog early yesterday, Arthur Empirey of 34 Jacques street and Arthur Ohlsen of 39 French street, Lowell, Mass., suffered broken collarbones when their car overturned and pinned them underneath at the dangerous "S" curve at the end of Ocean ave. here.

The men were on their way to Bay Haven on a fishing trip and lost control of the car at the top of the hill which marks the curve. They were treated by local physicians.

Radiographs

If You Think Radio Is Only a Fad, Read These

ALFRED N. GOLDSMITH,
Leading Radio Engineer

"The radio telephone will bring a new joy into man's life. It will disseminate culture not to thousands but to hundreds of thousands and to millions. The People's University of the Air will have a greater student body than all of our universities put together. The educational application of radio is an immense field so far untouched."

GUGLIELMO MARCONI
Inventor of Wireless Telegraphy

"I think I am safe in saying that since radio has already done so much for the safety of life at sea, for commerce and for commercial and military communications, it is also destined to bring new and unforseen opportunities in health and recreation into the lives of millions of homes. Broadcasting has come to stay."

HERBERT HOOVER,
Secretary of Commerce.

"We are today upon the threshold of a new means of widespread communication of intelligence that has the most profound importance from the point of view of public education and public welfare. The comparative cheapness with which receiving stations can be installed bids fair to make their possession almost universal in the American home."

PAUL F. GODLEY,
Leading Radio Authority.

"Before many years radio will be utilized in as many as 5,000,000 American homes, for it may very well come to play a part in our lives equaled only by that of the daily, weekly and monthly periodical. Its application may even surpass in its scope the wonders of the motion picture as we know it today."

EDWIN H. ARMSTRONG,
Famous Radio Inventor

The time is not far off when the radiophone receiver will be as common as the phonograph now is. Not every home will have a radiophone, of course, but I can predict that every home now having a phonograph will be equipped with wireless. The whole radiophone receiver will be no longer than the now ordinary music box.

LEE DE FOREST,
Radio Inventor and Manufacturer.

"Radio broadcasting possesses potentialities for universal education which can be compared only to that brought by the art of printing. The other is to become the means of uniting all our people, all sections of the country, and later all countries—to a degree which not the newspaper, the telegraph or the telephone could ever attain."

MASKED BAND BURNS CASTLE IN IRELAND

DUBLIN, Sept 5 (By A. P.)—The Republican campaign of ambushes and destruction continues, but on a smaller scale than in the past. During the week-end two bridges were blown up near Lotterkenny and the hay crops of many framers in South Tipperary were burned.

Castle Gore at Ballina the historic Mayo seat of the Earl of Arran, was burned and masked men presented themselves at the gate at 2 o'clock in the morning and covered the caretakers with revolvers while they set fire to the castle. The great building was soon in flames and valuable antique furniture and works of art were destroyed.

A few casualties are reported almost daily in the ambushes of small bodies of National troops.

The Nationals captured a Republican flying column in the mountain passes of Glenloran, Donegal County, without firing a shot, and also seized a large ammunition dump of the irregulars.

ALWAYS TIRED NO AMBITION

Nervous and Dizzy, Everything Seemed to Worry Me. How I Got Well

Larwill, Indiana.—"My back was so bad I could not do my washing. I was always tired out and had no ambition, was nervous and dizzy and everything seemed to worry me and I had awful pains in my right side. I felt badly about four years and could not do my work as it should have been done. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised so much and it did so many people good that I began to take it myself. I am feeling fine now and every one tells me they never saw me looking so well. I live on a farm, do all my work, and have three little girls to take care of. I am recommending this medicine to my friends and know it will help them if they use it like I do." —Mrs. HERBERT LONG, R. R. 3, Box 7, Larwill, Indiana.

Many women keep about their work when it is a great effort. They are always tired out and have no ambition. When you are in this condition give it prompt attention.

Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for it is especially adapted to correct such troubles, as it did for Mrs. Long.

Sure Way to Get Rid of Blackheads

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads, that is to dissolve them.

To do this get two ounces of calonite powder from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth, wash the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear. Blackheads are a mixture of dust and dirt and secretions that form in the pores of the skin. The calonite powder and the water dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition.—Adv.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

(By Theatres' Own Press Agents.)

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

B. F. Keith's Lowell theatre opened its 12th season yesterday before holiday crowds and with a program that was chock full of good things, served in the most approved big time vaudeville style. There was not an act on the bill that did not please and matinee and evening audiences were most generous in applause.

Tom Brown's Melody band has No. 1 position and it was a most interesting musical turn, full of harmonious harmony and featuring three boys and two girls.

Running in next to pole position was the team of Vernon Wallace and Maude Powers in a delightful skit, "Georgia on Broadway." Both are sure-enough natives of that sunny southland that stretches lazily below the Mason and Dixon line and the little peculiarities of speech by which such Americans are known rolled out with soothing effect. Their act is a happy mixture of comedy, pathos and music, well blended, new, bright and altogether good.

Good entertainment indeed was furnished by Eve Lynn, Clyde Dilson & Co., in "The Awkward Age," a comedy scheme that unravels nicely and as smooth as silk when once spread out. Mr. Dilson dances well and Miss Lynn's singing was praiseworthy from every angle.

Eddie Black and Claire O'Donnell offer "The Village Nut." It is not a hard one to crack and there is a lot of meat inside the shell. In a feasure it measures up to other "eccentric" turns that visit us now and then, but Black is a little different type than some others and has a manner of putting out his fun that made an instantaneous hit. Miss O'Donnell also plays the violin and as the act drew to a close, strummed out a quaint little melody to which Black stepped a dance or two.

Up-to-the-minute conversation is the forte of Ray Snow, who works with Narine (last name not given). Their's also, is a pepful ogering. A trio of Japanese foot balancers and Lou and Genevieve Norvelles round out a splendid program.

The Pathe Weekly, Topics of the Day and an Aesop Fable are the motion picture features.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Paramount Week, a national movie feature, was inaugurated at the Merrimack Square theatre yesterday afternoon with a fine bill of pictures, produced by the Paramount company. The main feature of the bill is William de Mille's virile picture, "Nice People."

The story is a portrayal of the life of a modern young lady of this great land and depicts the absolute freedom from propriety and convention with which she conducts herself in all her actions. In spite of the bad impression created by her wild actions, the heroine is good at heart and has never swayed from the moral line.

The young heroine, played by Bebe Daniels, belongs to the class that people like to call the "nice people." She faces the crisis, however, when she drives off with a young man, after a scene with her father, on an all-night party, gets caught in a storm, and is forced to spend the night at a lonely farm house. The remainder of the picture shows how a young army officer rescues her from disaster, how her society friends cut her dead because of the peculiar circumstances of her predicament, and how the young man finally wins her back to a life of sensible living. The picture is an interesting one and to a degree truthfully pictures the freedom of modern day young people.

Harold Lloyd, with his side-splitter, "Now or Never," occupies the other half of the main bill, and the audience is in raptures every minute this picture is on the screen. Lloyd never descends to the depth of pie bing but he gets the same amount of humor into his pictures by a simple twist of his glasses or a clever bit of pantomime. He is fast becoming the best liked comedian in the country and his pictures are enjoyable every minute.

The bill is completed by "Making Hubby Like It," a picture done in colored tints. Bright colors of all hues are blended together in such a way that they appear on the screen as they would in natural life. This picture is also an interesting one with a humorous plot.

THE STRAND

Alexander Dumas wrote "Monte Cristo," William Fox adapted it for the screen and now the Strand presents it to the public of Lowell at the lowest box office price, perhaps, since its picturization. The famous character-story will be presented throughout the entire week, and if yesterday's patronage can be taken as a criterion, its popularity will meet with the success it so well deserves. Romantic, colorful, stupendous is this greatest of all Dumas stories and with the additional and inimitable Fox imprint on the silent drama version, its action surpasses all former productions of this artist.

The all-star cast is featured by John Gilbert, whose characterization of the famed fiction idol, is beyond comparison. Mr. Gilbert is admirably supported by Robert McKim, as the gentleman villain, William Monq; Estelle Taylor, Maude George, Virginia Faly and others of like reputations who balance the picture to perfection. The plot of the story is indeed novel and intersting, dealing as it does, with a young French sailor, who becomes one of the world's richest men, but only after a series of trials and hardships, including imprisonment on the eve of his marriage and other thrilling experiences. The beautiful scenes, which cost a fortune to erect, are well worth the price of admission, their elaborateness, georgeousness and realisticness adding immensurbably to the great story, which has made the name of Monte Cristo known to thousands. A Mutt and Jeff comedy, always laugh-provoking also appears on the program while the musical numbers provide unlimited entertainment during the two hours of continual enjoyment.

HOPE TO SAVE SOME OF ENTOMBED MINERS

JACKSON, Cal., Sept. 5.—Excavators struggling to release the 46 men entombed in the Argonaut gold mine today were penetrating what is known as the old shaft of the adjoining Kennedy Gold mine. Working on the 3500-foot level, this old shaft, 350 feet long, leads to the 75 ft. of quartz, which separates them from the men who were imprisoned by the Argonaut fire, Aug. 27.

Listing of the materials carried into the Argonaut by the 46 miners revealed today that it would be entirely possible for them to have caused the five explosions which workers in the Kennedy mine reported hearing, when the roar of their own blasts had died away. It was the conviction of many of the rescue workers that at least some of the entombed men were alive and would be saved.

Miners on the job believe that the muck in the old shaft can be cleared out today, and that the remaining 75 ft. of quartz can be cut through by tomorrow, a day earlier than it was expected the buried 46 men could be reached.

VEILED "WOMAN" TRAPS CORPORAL HOFF

HIGHLAND FALLS, N. Y., Sept. 5.—Corporal Albert Hoff of West Point, always will take a look under the veil when he offers to escort a girl home in the future, if he has learned anything from his experience with police Chief Fred Christoff here.

Christoff told Judge Nelson that he had received complaints from women who said they had been accosted by a soldier on the streets here. Ordinary methods failed and Christoff then donned the latest in girls' clothes and took a stroll.

Hoff came up and asked to escort him home, Christoff told the judge, and continued his advances even after the police official said he was married and had three children.

"After that he put his arm around my waist," said the chief, "and then I hung one on his jaw and brought him in."

NEW LOWELL ATLAS

The chamber of commerce needs a few more orders for the new atlas of Lowell in order that it may guarantee 150 copies to the parties who propose to produce it. Prices for the atlas are $30 paper bound, and $10 cloth bound. The atlases would be similar to those issued in 1907 and which have been giving very valuable service in business and professional offices of the city ever since. It is absolutely essential however, that they be brought up to date. All orders will be received at the chamber of commerce headquarters in the Fairburn building.

COMMERCIAL ORGANIZATION

The next meeting of the New England Association of Commercial Organization Secretaries will be held in Westfield, Mass., Sept. 22 and 23. It is expected that the Lowell chamber of commerce will be represented at this meeting, as many subjects related to its work will be treated by the speakers. Lee H. Brow, secretary of the Westfield chamber will be the host of the occasion.

INTERESTING FIGURES BY CENSUS BUREAU

Some very interesting data, locally, is contained in the list of figures on manufactures just issued by the bureau of census for the year 1919. Middlesex county in that year numbered 1787 establishments. The average number of wage earners was 110,634 and the total wages were $122,957,235. Rents and taxes amounted to $23,035,917; cost of materials, $409,237,191; value of products, $689,166,400; value added by manufacture, $279,929,209 and primary horsepower, 262,683.

In 1919 also, there were 33 establishments listed less than $5000; 97 establishments from $5000 to $20,000; 81 from $20,000 to $100,000; 41 from $100,000 to $500,000; 15 from $500,000 to $1,000,000 and 24, $1,000,000 and over. In Lowell, at that time, there were 114 establishments owned by individuals and 103 owned by corporations. These figures, as compared with 1914, show a decrease from 169 for the former and an increase from 91 in the latter.

Of especial interest to Lowell, at this time are the figures on the consumption of fuel by local industries during that period. Of anthracite (ton, 2,240 lbs.,) 6,292 tons were used; bituminous (ton, 2000 lbs.,) 255,981; coke, 5,433; fuel oils (barrels,) 18,685; gasoline and other volatile oils, (barrels,) 21,663; gas, (1000 cubic feet,) 16,853.

amount collected for this offence to $260.

Peter Belocas, Nicholas George, Mary Buker and Thelma Cook, who were arrested in a raid on a lodging house on Hanover street, were found guilty of the charge of improper relations. Belocas was also charged with the violation of the Mann act, as he is said to have brought the women here from Lewiston, Maine. The two women were fined $10 apiece. Mary Buker, who is married, received a suspended sentence to the Massachusetts reformatory. Her husband appeared and was allowed to take the two women back to their home town. George was fined $10 and Belocas, the most serious offender of the quartet, was fined $75.

Attired in a neat pair of "knickers" and snappy buff stockings, Levan D. Jivelekia appeared in court to answer the charge of operating a machine so as to endanger the lives of the public. When he asked the court to place the case on file he was told that such a thing could not be done and he was fined $25.

Costas, Bollanitz, who is alleged to have assaulted Officer Clyde Aldrich by kicking him in the head last Saturday night in an alley on Jefferson street, was arraigned on the charge of assaulting an officer and was held over to Sept. 12 for trial.

George Zelonis, John Corrigan, John Ward and William H. Quigley were sentenced to the house of correction for three months on the charge of drunkenness. Peter Ruscak received a sentence of two months to the same place on a similar charge, and Frank Keenan was sent there for one month. Philip Croteau and Joseph Carrier, who were found by the officers together and intoxicated, paid fines of $10. Walter O'Brien, who was arrested while in a machine belonging to William H. McCarthy, received a suspended sentence to the state farm at Bridgewater on the charge of drunkenness. The charge of drunkenness against McCarthy was placed on file and he was fined $25 for driving a machine while under the influence of liquor.

Joseph Radicot pleaded guilty to the charge of the illegal sellin gof intoxicating liquor and was fined $100. Victor Alcovitz pleaded guilty to a similar charge and also received a $100 fine. Joseph W. Costello and Daniel O'Leary, who were arrested in Billerica for illegal keeping, were held to Sept. 16 for trial.

Louis Wentworth, charged with stealing carpenter's tools from a man named Auger, was found guilty and sent to the House of Correction for three months. The cases of Joseph Lefelair and Steve Kauzmar, both charged with drunkenness, were continued to Friday morning, and certain circumstances will be investigated. Edward Jingeleski, who was arraigned on the charge of drunkenness and driving a machine while in that condition, was held in $300 bonds for trial on Sept. 9. Meyer Rittenburg, who was arrested by Motorcycle Officer Hamilton because he was driving his machine so as to endanger the lives of the public was held in $300 for trial on September 16.

WARNING BY BARTLETT

Says Government Will Not Tolerate Unions Among Postal Employes

BOSTON, Sept. 5.—"Don't heed the golden whispers of the paid propagandists of the capitalistic press; use the brain God gave you; do a little thinking and follow the dictates of your conscience," Mayor James M. Curley advised the delegates yesterday at the ninth annual convention of the National Association of Postoffice laborers, held in John Winthrop hall at 446 Tremont street, South End.

John H. Bosche, national president, opened the convention at noon and the delegates listened to speeches by First Assistant Postmaster General John H. Bartlett, Lieut. Gov. Alvan T. Fuller, Mayor James M. Curley, ex-Mayor John F. Fitzgerald, Congressman Peter F. Tague, Pres. John A. Kelly of the Postal Clerks' Association, Charles L. Hammond and several others.

"The wide distinction between the rights of industrial operatives and the corresponding rights of government servants" was emphasized by First Assistant Postmaster General Bartlett.

"Postal workers," he said, "may organize for the public good and for their mutual benefit, but no group of men and women anywhere at any time has a right to organize against the government itself. I do not charge that any have, however. But I do believe that there are those who can see no difference between the government as an employer and a corporation. To them I sound a warning that the people of the United States in the last anayisis will be found intensely jealous of the rights and powers of their government.

"Suppose all officeholders, including congress, and all workers for the federal government organized and used their organization for increasing their own salaries and for personal gain. What would happen to the country?

"We cannot agree to strike in order to break down the government without being guilty of disloyalty and conspiracy. Whoever will not take his place and do his allotted task on the great ship of state must give way to loyal men who will. Let your influence and example be used not to agitate and alarm but to foster co-operation, without which we fail."

Mayor Curley said in part: "I urge every workingman in America to become a member of a labor union; I know of no time in the history of our country when the forces of sudden wealth—it is a wealth greater than ever anticipated —are apparently engaged in a world endeavor to destroy the progress that has been made by the American working people and everywhere effort is being made to destroy the instrumentality which made it."

Mr. Curley then spoke of "paid propagandists of the capitalistic press," and paid his respects to the United States supreme court on the score of its decision as regards the child labor law and to the United States Attorney General for asking for an injunction "to prevent organized labor from holding a fair living wage and desirable working conditions so that they may enjoy healthful recreation and rest."

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Abrogation of the present treaty arrangement with Panama which, he said, was intended to operate only during the construction of the Panama Canal and the negotiation of a new treaty with that government was recommended to congress today by President Harding.

Sylvan E. New Commits Suicide

Recommend Shopmen Accept Cut

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 5.—A recommendation that the 35,000 shopmen of Canadian railways accept temporarily the wage cuts of five to nine cents an hour proposed by the carriers, was made today in the majority report of the board of conciliation investigating differences between the railroads and their stationary craftsmen. The shopmen and rail heads should confer as soon as conditions permit with regard to permanent wage rates, the report recommended. Meanwhile the reductions would be as from Aug. 15.

Outbreaks Growing

growing out of arrests for alleged violations of the writ, occupied the foreground of the picture of the nation's industrial situation today.

The annual holiday brought a lull in railroad strike developments.

While some Labor day orators were cautious in their references to the injunction, other union leaders appearing as speakers followed Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, in attacking the restraining order. Speaking at Philadelphia, Mr. Gompers reiterated his charge that the injunction was a violation of the constitution and the laws of the land.

Members of the executive council of the American Federation of Labor were gathering at Atlantic City today.

Requests For General Strike

In this conference, Mr. Gompers said he would place before the committee requests from various labor organizations for a general strike call.

Despite the general quietude of Labor day, the holiday period was not without its contributions to the growing list of outbreaks incident to the railway shopmen's strike.

At Ardmore, Okla, inspectors were investigating what Santa Fe railroad officials said was an attempt to wreck a passenger train bound from Kansas City to Galveston. The engineer reported that he found an open switch with signal lights broken off.

19 Freight Cars Burned

Nineteen freight cars were burned in the yards of the Great Northern system at Great Falls, Mont. Eight hundred cars were endangered by the blaze which broke out simultaneously in five different places.

Farmers extinguished a blaze which damaged a St. Louis-San Francisco railroad bridge at Bengal, Okla.

Admits Removing Spikes

Memphis police made public an alleged confession by Seth W. Posten, one of four men held in connection with the killing of a shop foreman from ambush in which Posten is said to have admitted that he was one of several who pulled spikes and loosened rails in an attempt to wreck a Frisco train near Caperville, Tenn., on the night of August 26. In the purported confession Posten named two of the men held with him in the ambuscade investigation—as participants in the wreck plot.

AT THE MILL GATES

In a speech at the Massachusetts mills this noon, John Jackson Walsh made a bitter personal attack upon Whipple and Gaston and all their supporters and campaigners. It was the most virulent speech yet made by any of the three candidates or their superiers in this city. He said the people were turning against the other two candidates and were going to nominate him next Tuesday.

Greece Appeals to Allies

the battlefield and as a result of interchanges among the chancellories at London, Paris and Rome, instructions have been sent to the allied high commissioners of the three powers in Constantinople to discuss joint measures for bringing about a suspension of hostilities.

The Greek evacuation has already begun, according to the Daily Mail, which quotes Greek official circles in London as declaring the army will be out of the country within three weeks.

The Daily Telegraph's diplomatic correspondent says the Greek government notified Great Britain on Saturday of its decision to evacuate Asia Minor, including the Smyrna enclave, and asked the assistance of the allies in arranging an armistice.

The safety of these thousands of Christians now seems to be the chief concern of the allies, whose warships alone, it is said, stand between them and possible annihilation. What degree of protection can be given, especially if the Turks reach Smyrna in their pursuit of the Greeks, is a matter for speculation.

Greeks Claim Success

ATHENS, Sept. 5. (By the Associated Press.)—A Greek communique reports that the Greek army in Asia Minor has repulsed and routed the Turkish nationalists east of Brusa.

Previous reports have been to the effect that the Turks were nearing Brusa, and that the fall of the place was imminent.

Power Plant Threatened

For more than an hour the operation of the entire Lowell division of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co. hung in the balance, as water rose slowly in the boiler-room of the power station in Middlesex street and actually hung on the lips of the fire boxes. All the low land in the vicinity of the carbarns flooded quickly. Sewers in Middlesex and Marginal streets were blocked, as well as one on the company's land. Every available man was summoned hurriedly to operate the drainage pumps at the power plant. Until the sewers were opened, however, pumping out the water did very little good, for it ran back almost as fast as it was pumped out. Finally it was necessary to throw up a dam of coal all around the boilers and in this way the fires were saved. At 11.30 o'clock the flood seemed to reach its peak, or at least, the company men had the water in control and it gradually receded.

Eight Cars Derailed At One Time

At the same time cars in transit were having more than their share of trouble. Almost at the same moment eight cars were derailed, three of them between the car sheds and North Chelmsford. A car was off the track at Gorham and Moore streets, another on Moody street near Seventh avenue, another on the Lakeview line, one at Oaklands square and still another at Westford street near Marlborough.

All derailments were caused by the water washing down heavy loads of gravel from side streets. The rails were completely covered and it was necessary to call out special wrecking crews and cars to restore normal service.

600 Telephones Put Out

The Telephone company was hit severely. In addition to losing 600-odd individual lines a huge 400-pair cable in Broadway was literally drowned out of usefulness and ceased to function entirely. It was dead.

The Highlands section of the city seemed to get the full force of the rain. The water backed up at the corner of Westford and Wilder sts. to such depth that passage was impossible and for more than an hour automobiles were forced to detour through Canton, Princeton, Grove and Dover streets. Upper Princeton street, the boulevard, was badly washed out and at one spot in Webber street the roadway was gouged out to a depth of five feet. So much sand was piled up at one point on the boulevard that automobiles were forced to travel in a greatly restricted area, with passage of two cars abreast impossible.

Appeals to Fire Department

Fire department headquarters received more than 50 calls from landlords whose cellars were flooded and as far as was possible hose wagons were sent out with siphon pumps.

The city park department will have to spend at least $500 in repair of the roadways at Fort Hill park. Every steep grade was badly washed out and the damage may even exceed that sum.

It is reported that Moore st. recently smooth paved, was transformed into a roaring cataract, with tons of water being sent down the impromptu spill-way into Gorham street. Heavy deposits of sand completely covered both electric car tracks and stretched from curb to curb.

Drying Out Process Today

Everywhere today were signs of yesterday's downpour as the receding waters left their mark of deposited sticks and silt upon lawn and sidewalk. Today's warm sun will quickly provide the necessary drying process, however, but the Telephone Co. will have repair gangs at work for some time.

THE RAILROAD TROUBLES

As might have been expected, the sweeping injunction secured against the railroad strikers has caused much indignation among the unions affected and even in other organizations that are in sympathy with them. At a time when pacific measures were expected and when it was confidently hoped that the strike would end within a few days, it seems that the situation has been aggravated to a very serious extent by the action of the government in securing this drastic court order.

President Harding gets the burden of the blame, and again the statement is made that every time he moves in regard to this railroad strike, he does something that makes the situation really worse and more complex than it was before. As a result of the action taken an appeal has been made to President Gompers to authorize a general strike by the American Federation of Labor in sympathy with the railroad shopmen. Of course we do not anticipate that Mr. Gompers would do anything so very radical, but on the other hand he may have difficulty in restraining some of the other railroad crafts from striking out of sympathy with their fellow-workmen.

The violence reported, of course, was very serious. Most of the trouble occurred in the western states, although a few cases of radical action appeared here and there in the east. It is doubtful if the injunction secured by the attorney general will restrain the radical element, whereas it may have the opposite effect with men who do not foresee the very grave consequences of any resort to violence that might destroy life or property or render it dangerous for the public to ride on the railroad trains. That would be an offense against the public, against the people, who are the supreme power in this country.

The federal government has supreme authority to protect the mails, to protect United States property at any point in the country, and to protect interstate commerce in the safe transport of person and property. Let nobody be mistaken on these points.

If it should come to a question of supremacy between the government and the railroad unions, there can be no doubt as to where the final victory would lie and, furthermore, the unions in such a fight would lose public sympathy and much of the power and prestige they now possess.

For these reasons, we would advise the unions not to enter into a conflict with the government, not to tolerate any resort to violence. This whole question should at once be submitted to a special board of arbitration, providing that in the meantime the shopmen return to work at the old rate of wages, pending the decision of said board.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK

In spite of all the labor strikes and generally unsettled conditions of business, the political economists are of the opinion that the country is on the eve of another period of inflation, not quite so great as that of 1919, but important, nevertheless, from the fact that it will cause a general resumption of business, give increased confidence and overcome the movement started early this year to cut wages as near as possible to the level of 1914. Among the considerations that offer ground for increased confidence is the fact that the crops this year are abundant and that the purchasing power of the agricultural districts is in consequence greatly increased. The National City bank of Chicago speaking of the outlooks says the nation will gain an immense amount of new wealth from the harvest now under way. On the basis of the government's official figures for August the most important crops this year will represent an aggregate valuation of more than $7,331,051,000 as compared with a like valuation represented by the same crops last year of $5,935,861,000. It is stated even that the apparent gain here indicated will be exceeded when the harvests shall have been completed. The greater activity shown in the metal industry, particularly that of the U. S. Steel Corporation, is another factor that offers assurance that better times are at hand.

RAILROAD EARNINGS

Small wonder that railroad employes, seeking to have their former wages restored by the railroad heads, are pointing to the stock market pages in the daily newspapers and asking questions a little hard to answer. Nearly every day the railroad stocks are called "strong" and some of them have been advancing steadily in prices on the leading security exchanges. Notwithstanding the claims of the railroads that wages must be lowered before the roads can prosper and make both ends meet, unbelievably large per-share earnings based upon recent statements of prominent railroads, are called to our attention by striking railroad employes.

Just a few examples: The June earnings of the Louisville & Nashville railroad were at an annual rate of $70 a share; Atlantic Coast line, $37 a share; Illinois Central, $27 a share; Norfolk & Western, $28 a share; St. Louis & Southwestern, $45 a share; Texas & Pacific, $35 a share; Pere Marquette, $18 a share.

Of course this rate of earning cannot be expected to be maintained every month, but it serves to show just what the improvement in the earnings of some of the important railroads of the United States has amounted to this summer, notwithstanding labor troubles and other difficulties affecting the country's rail lines and their prospects.

Expert financial writers believe that the renewed business on the "big rails" has actually come to stay, and that prosperity has arrived at last. With the settlement of the coal and railroad strikes, conditions for the railroads will be much better, all of which indicates that we are on the eve of an era of prosperity, if it is not already here.

AN EARLY WINTER?

Middlesex farmers who have good eyesight and discerning natures, predict an early winter. Other nature students who make weather prognostications from various actions of birds and animals, declare that the entire country is in for an exceptionally early killing frost and autumn.

Woodpeckers are said to be congregating for early migrations southward, fully a month in advance of any previous season. Big flocks of red-wing blackbirds have been passing over the countryside for days. Out west gophers have already hibernated and started their winter sleep. The fruit crops all over New England are maturing two or three weeks earlier than usual. Pears are being harvested already, and peaches are beginning to fall. Baldwins are coloring up on the trees around the outskirts of the big towns, attracting attention of tourists and country visitors.

The harvest season is about to begin in earnest, and many a woodlot is being inspected by farmers who hope to make money this fall and winter, selling cord lots to scrambling housekeepers unable to obtain their usual coal supplies.

With wood steadily advancing in price, perhaps "government regulation" for the farmer's fuel industry will have to come.

KEEP COOL

It is to be hoped that the supporters of Hon. Sherman L. Whipple and Col. William A. Gaston will not indulge in personalities and recriminations to such an extent as will militate against the candidate who will be nominated. Unfortunately it is a frequent occurrence in the democratic party to stir up such bitterness before the primaries that the adherents of the defeated candidates, will refuse to support the nominee on election day. We have seen one defeat after another result from these superheated primary campaigns. Let it be remembered, therefore, that the campaign speaker who sails into the other fellow and tries to blacken his character and reputation is not serving the aims or objects of the democratic party. He is merely a wrecker; and such men have been responsible for many bitter defeats when victory was within grasp of the party if moderation and wise counsels had been followed.

CHANGE IN DIET

Prohibition is making great changes in the eating habits of hotel guests. This is forcing hotels to go back to the old-time "American plan"—a flat rate for room and meals. So says C. H. Harrington, New York caterer. Other hotel men at the convention agree with him.

With the passing of the sale of liquor the chef in the hotel kitchen finds the general cry is for a substantial meal. Watch this tendency. A change of diet changes the whole being—emotions and brain, say the physicians. There is much to be learned on this point, however, so that it is not safe to assume that a person's whole nature can be changed by a change of diet.

FORD'S SUCCESS

There is much talk in Wall street over the wealth of the Ford company which was not made in Wall street or by any process of speculation. The Ford company has issued a financial statement showing that its profits totaled about $58,000,000 in the 12 months ended last April 30.

Henry's company, on that date, had $149,000,000 in cash and debts due to it from others.

Even in this day of high finance, it rather staggering to think of one company, owned by one family, making $56,000,000 a year. Doubtful, if John D. Rockefeller did as well.

UNITED CHINA

Sun Yat-Sen, leader of South China, announces that the north and the south have buried the axe. He says the civil war is over.

The Chinese may be slow, but it doesn't take them half a generation to settle their fights. They know when they are licked, and take their medicine without haggling. Most of the white man's international troubles are due to refusing to admit the truth. The white statesman usually plays to the galleries. He keeps the corpses of his troubles exhibited on ice instead of burying them.

THE LEGAL POINT

In connection with the tariff bill now before a joint committee of the house and senate, one great constitutional point remains to be decided. That is whether the power of changing the law by executive order will be transferred to the president. It is not democrats alone who claim that it is unconstitutional to give the president any such power. The republicans, however, are evidently willing to take the chance of having this provision of the measure declared void and that would invalidate the entire act.

The rail situation in New England can be summed up in a few words: We should demand adequate transportation service at no greater cost to our industries than is the cost of similar service to industries which compete with ours. New England control for New England railroads is the real solution of the New England problem of today.

The veterans of the Y. D. division are very glad to hear that Gen. Edwards will take charge of the National Guard in this state. The general still holds his popularity with the boys of the gallant 26th.

A Thought

There is always someone to smile at, somebody to give your chair to, somebody to whom a book, a flower, or even an old paper will be a boon.—Josephine Pollard.

Today's Word

Today's word is—garrulity. It's pronounced—ga-roo-li-ti, with accent on the second syllable. It means—talkativeness, especially concerning trifles. It comes from—Latin "garrire," to chatter. It's used like this—"Repeated attempts have been made, both through outside criticism and by effort on the part of certain of its own members, to check the garrulity of the United States senate, but with little or no success thus far."

He Fell For It

A small boy came hurriedly down the street and halted breathlessly in front of a stranger who was walking in the same direction. "Have you lost half a dollar?" he asked. "Yes, yes, I believe I have!" said the stranger, feeling in his pockets. "Have you found one?" "O, no," said the boy. "I just want to find out how many have been lost today. Yours makes 55."

The Kind Word

An American, newly arrived, went into a London teashop, took his seat, and waited. Presently a bright-eyed waitress approached him and asked: "Can I take your order?" "Yes. Two boiled eggs and a kind word." The waitress brought the eggs and was moving on when the American said: "Say, what about the kind word?" The waitress leaned over and whispered: "Don't eat the eggs."

One Exception

"This year," observed Prof. Jones, the instructor in chemistry, "I have a stupid lot of students. Here's one paper which shows plainly that the lad who wrote it doesn't understand that expansion and contraction are contradictory terms." "They aren't always," said Professor Smith, the instructor in economics. "Now in my classes I find it necessary to state explicitly the fact that the constant contraction of debts is sure to result in their expansion."—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

The Kid Was Clever

It was the drawing lesson, and a class of small children were drawing from memory. They had been told to draw a river, with two figures sitting on the bank, one of whom was to be fishing. The teacher was going around the class, when she came to a small boy who had finished his drawing. She looked at his paper and was surprised to find only a river. "Why, Jack," she said, "where are the two people I told you to draw?" "Well, you see, Miss Jones," he answered, "I'm not very good at drawing people, so I've put up a notice: 'Trespassers will be prosecuted!'"

A Month Off

"Smithkins," said that young man's employer, "you may take a month off." "O, sir," replied the clerk, "it is so good of you to suggest it! I have felt the need of a vacation for some time, but have hesitated to ask for it, knowing how busy we are. But it will do me good, and I thank you for your consideration." "Smithkins," said the employer, "are you crazy?" "Why, no sir. Didn't you say I might take a month off?" "Certainly that is what I said. This is the first of the month, while last month's calendar remains over your desk. Take last month off, and keep it up to date. That is what I meant."

Not a Bit Selfish

Beauty, punctuality, sweet-temper, economy, trust. And that he should not be questioned regarding the hour when he returned from poker parties. Nor that she should make any comments regarding the strangeness of the fact that it was necessary to have onion sandwiches at poker parties. And that she should pass such evenings as he played poker or stayed down town or went to stag dinners with friends of the feminine sex. And that she should be sound asleep when he came in. That she would always understand that his flirtations were too mild for any uncalled for jealousy on her part. That it was quite a different thing for a man to be forgiven than for a woman. That he wouldn't have his wife make a fool of him as some wives he knew made of their husbands. With these clear understandings at the start he knew that she would be very happy with him, for he would make her an ideal husband. But he had been a little too previous. She saw now why two other wives had divorced him. And she saved time—by refusing to marry him!—Mary Graham Bonner, in Judge.

Anticipations

I love preliminary things.
The tuning up of flutes and strings;
The little scales musicians play
In varying keys to feel their way;
The hum—the hush in which it dies;
But most to see the curtain rise.

I love preliminary things,
The little box the postman brings;
To cut the twine, to break the seals,
And wonder what the lid reveals;
To lift the folds in which it lies
And watch the gift materialize

The snowdrop and the daffodil,
The catkins hanging straight and still,
The blossoms on the orchard trees,
Do you know greater joy than these?
Each represents the hope that springs

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

One day this week two children found a carrier pigeon lying in their yard, exhausted from a long cross country flight. They brought it to Agent Richardson of the Humane society and he communicated with the Lowell Homing club, an organization which is interested in homing pigeons. Upon investigation they found that the young bird bore a ring on one of its feet, containing a serial number. The members of the club found that the bird belonged to Donat Demoors of Chelsea. It evidently became lost during one of its flights and flew in this direction. Club members say that the bird will probably be of no use in the future because of the strain suffered in such a long flight.

Sergt. Hugh Maguire, one of the most popular members of the local police department, is convalescing from an operation for appendicitis performed at St. John's hospital a few days ago. The sergeant, who claims he has never been ill before, was stricken quite suddenly a week ago last Sunday and on the following day the operation was performed with success. I had occasion to see him at the hospital during the past week and although he was still suffering from the effects of the operation, he endeavored to be as cheerful as ever. He chatted a few minutes and said he hoped for the day he will be back on the job again. "Life in a hospital is too monotonous for me," he said, "I want to be back in the old uniform again." Sergt. Maguire has been on the local force for over 30 years and he is one of the best liked men of the department. His friends wish him a speedy recovery.

Lowell voters have manifested great interest in the personal appearance of several of the candidates for state offices at the coming primaries. At the several rallies held during the past week, at which some of the candidates spoke in person, the attendance was very large and the enthusiasm of the crowd was evident. Some of the candidates who appeared personally were Sherman Whipple, Joseph B. Ely, John F. Fitzgerald, John Jackson Walsh, and Peter F. Sullivan and the impressions made on the voters varied. From now to the primaries the main topic of discussion, wherever men gather, is the chances of the different candidates. These discussions and conversations on politics, are amusing. Some see a return to the democratic regime, while others say that the republican party will again come through the battle with top honors.

After the strenuous labor of talking at four rallies the same night, John F. Fitzgerald, familiarly known as "Honey Fitz," repaired to the shores of Lake Massapoag, to visit a party of friends. During the evening he and a partner entered the dance hall to enjoy the pleasures of a waltz. It happened at the time that a young man was singing one of the popular waltz tunes, and, when apprised of the presence of the Hon John Fitz, he immediately swung into the strains of "Sweet Adeline." At the conclusion Mr. Fitzgerald, who had now been recognized by the assemblage, was given an ovation. He left shortly after, having renewed acquaintances with several of his friends who happened to be at the lake.

FOUND BIG STILL IN OPERATION

In a deserted house at 30 Davis street the liquor squad, last night, found a 150 gallon still, of the most modern type, 50 gallons of moonshine, and 20 barrels of prepared mash. They also found considerable distilling paraphernalia, showing that the plant was producing a large daily supply.

The house, which is said to have been raided three times before, has the appearance of being entirely deserted, as the doors are locked and the windows curtained. When the officers entered the house, things looked differently, as the still was in operation over two large gas stoves and the liquor was dripping into big glass jars.

The operators evidently became aware of the raid and made a hasty exit before the house was surrounded. The police say that the owner of the busy plant will be arrested soon. Sergt. Winn had charge of the party and was accompanied by Officers Moore, Trudel and Federal Officer Walter Bowers.

GARRITY ELECTED COUNTY COMMANDER

At the American Legion state convention, held at New Bedford last week S. Curtis Garrity, commander of the Lowell Post of the American Legion, was elected county commander for Middlesex county.

Garrity defeated Major Wade, of Woburn, Comrade Dunbar of Everett, and Commander Quinn, of Natick, for the county position. He received a majority vote of the delegates present and was also elected a member of the executive committee.

ALLEGED RUM-RUNNERS CAUGHT

According to wire reports received in this city yesterday, a quartet of Lowell men were captured near York Beach, Maine, on Sunday, charged with illegal transportation of liquor. The names given were H. J. Roche, Ralph Connor, John Barrett and Philip Daldin. Enforcement officers who made the capture seized 200 quarts of pre-Volstead whiskey, it is said.

The officers secured the "stuff" and placed the men under arrest only after a long chase along the shore boulevard. The automobile in which the Lowell men are alleged to have been riding was confiscated along with the liquor.

ENTIRE SYSTEM WAS INVIGORATED

Tonic Treatment Was Exactly What Syracuse Man Needed to Restore Him to Health

When the system is debilitated as a result of overwork, worry, shock or as the after-effect of some such disease as influenza, it is often difficult to attribute the trouble to any one organ. The stomach is generally weak and the appetite poor, the nerves oversensative and the blood thin. The system lacks tone. What is needed is a tonic to build up the blood, strengthen the nerves, create an appetite and aid digestion.

This is what Mr. Alfred L. Sparrow, of No. 132 Clover street, Syracuse, N. Y., did and he recommends the treatment to others. He says:

"I was in a general run-down condition from overwork and was very nervous also. My head often ached and severe pains in my stomach followed eating. My stomach was sour and my throat very dry. At night I was very restless and often could not sleep.

"I had used Dr. Williams' Pink Pills many years ago and decided to take them again. Good results followed the use of the first box so I continued, using six boxes in all. My nerves are in good shape and I sleep well. My stomach no longer troubles me and I can eat without any distress following.

"I never fail to recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills when I have a chance as I know they have great tonic value."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a body-building tonic. They increase the power of the blood and carry new life and energy to every part of the system. If there is no organic trouble this is almost sure to result in benefit that the patient quickly notices in increased appetite, better digestion, sound, refreshing sleep and general good health.

Get a box of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills today from the nearest drug store if you are not feeling as well as you should and see what the tonic treatment will do for you. Write to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., for free booklet, "Building Up the Blood."—Adv.

LIQUOR SQUAD WAS BUSY

Many Raids and Arrests During Week End—Officer Aldrich Assaulted

Officer Clyde Aldrich of the liquor squad was the victim of another attack, Saturday night, while arresting a man alleged to have made an illegal sale. He had secured his man when he was kicked in the head by a sympathizer of the arrested man.

The alleged violator fled through Jefferson street, closely pursued by Officers Aldrich, J. F. Lynch, Trudal, and Noye, and turned into a blind alley. Aldrich, who was in the lead, followed the man and closed in on him. Just as he threw his man to the ground, a husky fellow, who had been in the crowd following the officers, kicked the officer in the head, dazing him. Officer Aldrich called for help, and the other officers ran into the alleyway.

A man in the crowd appeared to take something from his pocket and was heard to say, "I'll kill you." Officer Lynch believed that the man had drawn his pistol, and he pulled out his own and fired into the air. The crowd quickly scattered and Officer Aldrich went in pursuit of his attacker. He was arrested at the head of the alley and gave his name as Costas Bolantiz, when booked at the police station for assaulting an officer.

Saturday night several other raids were made and the officers put in a busy night. Sergt. Winn, accompanied by Officers Cooney, Moore, J. F. Lynch, Cossette, Maloney and Trudel, visited a house at 34 South street and arrested several men who were in attendance at a crap game. Officer Cooney opened an entrance for the other officers by crashing through a window and Frank Goncalves, John Mendes, Manuel Gravel, Manuel Enis, and Jesse Perry were arrested.

Shortly after, Sergt. Winn and Officers Moore and Cooney went to a place at the rear of 365 Moody street, known as "the club" and arrested six men whom they found playing cards. Joseph Lamoureux, Alfred Jacques, William Bellerose, Ovila Parent, Joseph Perre and Louis Boucher were taken to the police station and booked on charges of being present where gaming instruments were found.

The liquor squad made a raid on a Market street place Saturday night, which they characterized as the "chamber of horrors." This place has been under suspicion for some time but the officers were unable to secure egress to the dive. Saturday night a man was sent to the door and when the guard flashed a light into his face to see who he was, the officer made a dive at the door, and broke in. They had to crash in the door of a rear partition and inside they found several men drinking. One man dropped a pint bottle and Sergt. Winn got hold of it. Officers Moore and Cooney jumped over the bar and each secured a quart bottle.

The "chamber" was in solitary darkness, pierced only by the light of a single candle, so that its exterior appearance was that of a deserted place. But, according to the officers, young men and boys were being served with potent liquor behind its apparently deserted walls. For some time past they have seen young fellows in that neighborhood who were very drunk.

After this the squad went to a garage on Moody street where they secured a case of genuine Scotch whiskey. It is said that the value of the case of whiskey is $120. Arrests will follow this raid.

CHELMSFORD SCHOOLS

The public schools in the town of Chelmsford will open tomorrow for the fall term. Three of the former teachers of the high school staff are not to return this season—Miss Eleanor Wills, Miss Supple and Miss Tetramint. Ralph P. Coates, who resigned at the close of the school year, has reconsidered and will return. The new teachers elected to the faculty are Helen M. Quigley of North Chelmsford, Marion F. Hendry of Lawrence, Mabel A. Cochran of Lawrence and Marion Watkins of New Bedford. This will make an addition of four teachers at the high school.

Deny Death Report of Ex-Crown Prince

DOORN, Holland, Sept. 5. (By the Associated Press.)—Rumors circulated in Berlin yesterday of the death of former Crown Prince Frederick William of Germany, who is staying here with his father, were denied today by the latter's personal physician. The absence of any important occurrence at the former kaiser's residence, was emphasized by the departure of the Burgomaster of Doorn this morning for a fishing trip. The Associated Press correspondent saw Frederick driving his automobile at 7 o'clock last night.

Publisher of Labor Paper Arrested

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 5.—Jacob Cohen, editor and publisher of the Labor Review, was arrested last night following the filing of a criminal information against him by S. E. Murray, United States district attorney. Cohen is charged with violating injunctions granted several railroads recently by Federal Judge J. W. Ross, by the publication of an editorial in his paper on Sept. 2. He was released on bond for appearance Sept. 18. The editorial was a denunciation of non-union men for taking the places of the striking union shopmen.

Primaries In New Hampshire Today

CONCORD, N. H., Sept. 5.—Candidates for governor and congress were nominated in the New Hampshire primaries today. There is no senatorial contest this year. Arthur G. Whittemore of Dover and Winsor H. Goodnow of Keene sought the republican nomination to succeed Gov. Albert O. Brown, republican. The democratic choice was between Mayor Fred J. H. Brown of Somersworth, John C. Hutchins of Stratford and Albert W. Noone of Peterboro.

TO SELECT LEAGUE STEERING COMMITTEE

GENEVA, Sept. 5.—(By the Associated Press) A brief noonday session constituted the first part of today's program of the League of Nations Assembly, with selection of a steering committee as the main business. This committee will include the presidents of the six committees chosen yesterday (together with the six vice presidents to be elected today.

A general discussion of the league work in connection with the report of the secretariat was scheduled for the afternoon session. The first item in this report deals with the registration of treaties, which may give rise to a discussion as to the amendment of article 18, fixing the status of treaties and their value between the dates of signature and registration.

The questions to follow concern blockade and amendments to the covenant. In regard to the latter, the assembly leaders have agreed that no amendment shall be considered this year, not even the Canadian proposal to eliminate Article 10.

The blockade question, however, may give rise to an interesting debate as to the system of putting the economic weapon into effect, which has never been clearly defined.

PROF. TIERNAN HAS MERCHANT ARRESTED

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Sept. 5.—Professor John T. Tiernan, instructor in the law department at the University of Notre Dame, was ready today to present proof of his charge that Harry Poulin, local clothing merchant, is the father of Mrs. Tiernan's infant son born last November. Prof. Tiernan obtained a warrant for the merchant's arrest last Saturday and a hearing has been arranged for this afternoon in a justice of the peace court. Whether Poulin will waive a hearing in this court apparently had not been determined early today.

To The Men of Lowell

We are to open in Lowell the kind of a store you have been waiting for—a home of fashions for men—one of the most modern clothes-shops in the State.

Unusual merchandise, clothes and fabrics of individuality, of finest quality and in wide variety, will characterize this establishment. Our stock will be as comprehensive and as complete as that of our main store in Boston.

Our "made to measure" clothes are admittedly the equal of those produced by the best known and most fashionable tailors in the country. Only because of the volume of our business, these may be had at considerably lower prices than usually prevail.

Our "ready to wear" garments have earned an enviable reputation for style, fit and finish. These will be sold at prices to suit the average purse and lower than ever before quoted in Lowell.

Through efficient service and unaffected courtesy we hope to win your approval and continued patronage.

We cordially invite your inspection—without obligation.

In complete readiness Saturday, September 9.

STRIKERS' TAG DAY WAS BIG SUCCESS

With all reports not yet in, the Tag day, conducted last Saturday for the benefit of the local railroad strikers was a great success and the headquarters announce that over $1200 was collected. The committee in charge is very grateful to the people of Lowell for the fine response they made to this appeal.

From early Saturday morning till late in the evening, the solicitors, numbering over 250, were on the streets, and 26 more were on duty in the town of Billerica. Headquarters were in the Odd Fellows building on Middlesex street and here the 20,000 tags were given to the workers. Luncheon was served to the solicitors at noon at headquarters.

When opened, the boxes were found to contain many bills of $1, $2, and even $5 denominations and larger donations were received from outside organizations and local business firms. The solicitors appeared at the Lowell-Lawrence baseball game at Spalding park where they received a hearty response and the boxes were quickly filled.

The Tag day was directed by Walter Candler, president of the strikers' organization, and he was assisted by James Clancy, Thomas Golden, Frank Collins, Charles Flanagan, Matthew Vaughn, Thomas Guimane, Bernard Gilbo, and Edward Curran.

Kellogg's SHREDDED KRUMBLES

deliciously flavored WHOLE-WHEAT

Right on the job!

You like to meet men and women who have the punch of health in their make-up! Such men and women win!

Do you realize that the health and contentment of these physically and mentally equipped people are largely due to proper nourishment, not only today, but in childhood?

It is for you to decide whether your child is to be the puny type of man or woman in the years to come—or the kind of men and women you like to meet!

Give your children Kellogg's delicious whole-wheat KRUMBLES—with the full, enticing whole-wheat flavor for the first time in food history—and you will build in them red blood and bone and tissue! KRUMBLES supply all the food elements the body demands and balance the denatured foods that flood home tables! Buy KRUMBLES at all grocery stores.

The only whole-wheat food with a delicious flavor!

TRUCK KILLS 18 MONTHS' OLD BOY

Christos Emanouil, 18-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Stefanos Emanouil of Littleton road, Chelmsford Centre, was fatally injured early last evening when run over and crushed by his father's automobile truck. Multiple internal injuries caused the boy's death at the Lowell Corporation hospital at about 11.30 p. m.

The accident occurred in the dooryard of the Emanouil home at about 7.45 o'clock. While the father was in the barn unloading vegetables, the boy was playing with several companions in the yard. In the fast gathering dusk he wandered beneath the truck, and when his father backed the machine out of the barn one of the heavy wheels passed over his body. The boy was unconscious when picked up. He was hurried to the hospital, but died without regaining consciousness.

STRIKERS HEAR REV. KARL P. MEISTER

"In order to have industrial democracy, the employers must be Christianized, the employes must be Christianized, the stockholders and the investors must be Christianized and the consumers must be Christianized," declared Rev. Karl P. Meister in his sermon to industrial workers at the Centralville M. E. church Sunday morning. The service was in the form of a Labor day service and was attended by a large number of textile strikers and friends of the labor movement.

The textile workers gathered at Trades & Labor hall in Central street at 9.30 o'clock and marched to the church in a body. In the course of his sermon Rev. Mr. Meister dwelt upon the ideals of industry, dividing that subject into four parts, namely: "The Value of Human Personality," "Brotherhood and Co-operation," "Justice," and "The Ideals of Service and Love."

LOCAL Y.M.C.A. CAMPERS REACH PHILADELPHIA

The group of Lowell Y.M.C.A. campers who left this city by auto last week, arrived in Philadelphia Thursday, having visited Providence, Narragansett Pier, New Haven, New York City, Coney Island, Newark and Princeton, N. J. The campers met a cordial reception everywhere they went, the boys' secretary in Philadelphia personally conducting them on a sight-seeing tour of the Quaker City.

The return journey will bring the group home via Springfield and Worcester. The party includes Devan Sargent, Harold Dunsford, Harry Sargent, Archie Pickins, Charles Howard, Harry Lomas, Livingston Lomas, Richard Knowles, George Spalding, Arthur Lomas, T. Williams, Alfred Gerard, Shackford Dexter, James Moore and Fulford Dexter.

SPANISH WAR VETERANS ANNUAL OUTING

Despite the rain the annual outing for Gen. Adelbert Ames camp, 19, U.S.W.V. which was held at the Martin Luther grounds in Tyngsboro yesterday, was a success. Of course the heavy showers of the forenoon interfered with the program to a great extent, but the lost time was made up in the afternoon and most of the sporting events were carried out. A feature of the day's program was a baseball game between teams captained by McBride and Dempsey, the former winning by a wide margin.

The various prize winners in the sporting events were as follows:

[illegible] race under 16 years and over 10 [illegible]s, Ellis, first; Ward, second; Leary, third. Girls' race under 16 and over 10 years, Burman, first; Burchall, second; Ellis, third. Boys' race under 10 years, Leary, first; Burns, second; Clark, third. Quoit pitching, Dodge and Crowley. Little girls' race, M. Grady, first; A. McAleer, second; Harrington, third. Young women's race, S. McBride, first; D. Ellis, second; L. Lewis, third. Married women's race, Mrs. Young, first; Mrs. Ellis, second; Mrs. McAleer, third. Married mens' race, Crowley, first; Dempsey, second. Fat women's race, Mrs. Whiting, first; Mrs. Buckley, second; Mrs. Crowley, third. Young men's race, Leary, first; Conniff, second; Daugherty, third; Mrs. Coleman won the award for being the prettiest woman in attendance and took the hope chest. The grand prizes donated by Sarre Brothers for the auxiliary and camp were won by Mrs. Grace Tobin and Mrs. Patrick Burns.

Prizes were donated by the following: Mayor Brown, Sarre Brothers, Arthur Salmon, Talbot Clothing Co., Frank Ricard the jeweler, Dickerman & McQuade, Henry Collins, Wood-Abbot Co., Collins the florist, Prince-Cotter Co., Mrs. Gilmore, W. H. I. Hayes' store, Macartney Clothing store; Falls & Burkinshaw, Max Carp, Mrs. Coleman, Lull & Hartford, Mrs. McBride, Pawreau Bros., Bartlett & Dow and Ideal Comb Co.

The following committee had charge: John P. Cryan, chairman; John F. McBride, George Anderson, Dr. C. B. Livingston, F. W. Chaney and Frank Boyle; the committee of women was made up of Mrs. Sarah McBride, chairman; Mrs. Rose Coleman, Mrs. D. Conniff, Mrs. James McBride and Mrs. C. B. Plugree.

WEATHER IDEAL FOR LAWN PARTY

The annual lawn party conducted by St. John's T. A. B. and Ladies' auxiliary of North Chelmsford at McCabe's field Saturday, was a success in every way. The weather was ideal, the attendance was large and the program was very enjoyable, while the receipts of the event were very substantial.

A feature of the program was the baseball game between St. John's and Forge Village of the Stony Bridge Twilight league, the former winning by a score of 6 to 2. Other sporting events were conducted and the midway proved a big attraction. In the evening general dancing was enjoyed in the town hall, where the drawing contest was closed, the winner of the $5 gold piece being Edward Champigny.

The general committee in charge included the following: Misses Grace Cummings, Elizabeth Nolan, Anna Cummings, Gertrude Welch, Florence Welch, Josephine McEnaney, Josephine Hafey, Loretta McEnaney, Mrs. Emma Whitehead, Mrs. Elizabeth Miner, Mrs. Lena Rafferty, Mrs. Lulia Scollan, Mrs. Katherine Sicord, Mrs. Florence McQuade, Mrs. Mae Boudreau, Edward Brule, Patrick Welch, Leo Prue, George Prue, Burtman Rousseau, William Hoheir, George Rafferty and Albert Ready.

BY BOB DORMAN

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 5.—The annual track and field championship of the A.A.U., which will be held at Newark, N. J., Sept. 8, 9 and 11, will furnish one of the best contests since the war.

Entries from all parts of the United States have been received. It is expected several new world's records will be established.

The fact that the Montreal A.A.C. will enter a team will lend an international flavor.

Another interesting feature will be the competition of several full-blooded Indians, both Haskell Institute and the Phoenix Indian school having made entries.

A. Patasoni of Haskell and Maso Polingzioma of Phoenix, both veterans of the track, will be seen in action.

Promises a Thrill

The quarter mile event promises to be a thriller, with such stars as Larry Brown of the University of Pennsylvania; Allan Woodring, the Olympic champion; Bill Stevenson of Princeton; Jake Driscoll of Boston; George Schiller of Los Angeles; Harold Ray, the Metropolitan champion, and many others of lesser fame.

California will be represented in the meet with a strong team, the outstanding member of which will be Charley Paddock, the champion 100-yard runner.

Pat McDonald, the giant policeman athlete of the New York A.C., will endeavor to regain his shot-put title from Clarence Houser of Los Angeles, who defeated him last year. McDonald is certain he will succeed, but Ralph G. Hills, the giant Princeton athlete, may put over a surprise and walk away with the event.

Long List of Stars

Johnny Murphy, the Olympic jumper; Gus Desch, world's record holder in the hurdles; Harold Osborne, the greatest all-round athlete ever turned out in Illinois; Carl Anderson, the star hurdler of the Illinois A.C.; Hohhman, of the best men in the country with the javelin; Paulu, the sprinter, who demonstrated last June that he was one of the country's fastest men; Captain Edwin R. Roberts and First Lt. Eugene L. Vidal, who will represent the army; Earl Johnston, present holder of the five and 10-mile senior championships; Payne of the Cincinnati Q. and A.C.; R. W. Harwood, the pole vaulter, and Barney Wefers, Jr., the sensational young star of the New York A. C.

Bill Brennan Versus Harry Wills!

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—At last the fans are to be given what looks like a treat in the heavyweight division, Bill Brennan against Harry Wills. This has the earmarks of a legitimate battle, and will be the next big fight scheduled, according to the New York promoters. Both are in somewhat the same position. Brennan has hard work to find any opponents to meet him among the white hopes, while Wills daily is finding it more difficult to induce any of the colored scrappers to step into the ring with him. With the incentive of a match with Dempsey spurring them on, the battle should be one worth seeing.

YANKS' LEAD CUT TO GAME

Browns Close in on Leaders By Winning Twin Bill From Indians

Sisler Has Real Holiday—Makes Seven Hits in Nine Times at Bat

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Rain cancelled the Labor day activities of the league-leading New York clubs. While the Giants retained their six game lead due to the fact that St. Louis and Pittsburgh split a twin bill, the Yankees has their margin reduced to a single game by the St. Louis Browns' double victory over Cleveland.

George Sisler, batting leader in the American league, was the mainspring in the Browns' offensive that brought victories by scores of 12 to 1 and 10 to 8. Sisler rammed out seven hits, including three doubles and a triple in nine times at bat, scored seven runs and drove in several others. Ken Williams clouted out his 33rd homer, and tied Tillie Walker of the Athletics for the American league record.

The Chicago Cubs dropped to fifth place by losing twice to Cincinnati 4 to 3 and 5 to 0, due to the brilliant pitching of Couch and Keek of the Reds. Pittsburgh retained second place by a half game over St. Louis by taking the afternoon game 6 to 5 after dropping the morning tilt, 5 to 3 to the Cardinals.

Fabre and Robertson, twirled the White Sox to a double victory over Detroit 3 to 2 and 6 to 3, while Washington and the Athletics divided their double header. Brooklyn dropped two hard-fought battles to Philadelphia 5-4 in the first game and 7 to 6 after a 16 inning struggle in the second. In the final contest, Behan, a recruit, held the Dodgers scoreless for 10 innings and tallied the winning run in the 16th on Rapp's hit.

NATIONAL AMATEUR GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

THE COUNTRY CLUB, BROOKLINE, Sept. 5.—Thirty-two leading American and British golfers who qualified yesterday for participation in the national amateur championship started early today in the first round of match play. The course was heavy due to yesterday's rain, and clouds and fog made an unpromising outlook for the day.

Jesse P. Guilford of Boston, present champion, whose remarkable 70 made in the downpour yesterday, gave him 144 for qualification, and Marcus Greer of Philadelphia, former champion of the Province of Quebec, attracted a large part of the galleries to their contest.

Another match that was a center of interest was between Willie Hunter of New York, former British champion, and runner-up last year in the national tournament and L. M. Lloyd of Greenwich, Conn.; J. G. Anderson of New York was paired with Chick Evans, Jr., of Chicago, former champion, and Bobby Jones of Atlanta with F. J. Beadle of Philadelphia.

The fortunes of Cyril J. H. Tolley, best in the medal score of the British golfers, who came through the qualifying rounds, were closely followed in his match with E. C. Newton of Brookline, the only country club player to pass the first great test.

GAME CALLED OFF

The Labor day game on the Textile campus between the C.M.A.C. and the Boston Tigers (colored,) was called off because of the resemblance of the grounds to an irrigation plant, due to the heavy rain. The postponement was a disappointment to the locals and their followers, who were anxious for a return victory over the Tigers, as the colored boys have a 5-0 win over the C.M.A.C.

SOUTHPAWS HAVE BEST OF IT BY A SHADE

BY BILLY EVANS

Are left-handed batters more difficult for pitchers to fool than right-handers?

I am often asked that question. The fact that the leading hitters of the majors and minors are mostly left handers is the reason.

For years Ty Cobb, a left hander, has held sway in the American league. While no player has so dominated the National league, still left handers have been in the majority.

At the present time Rogers Hornsby, a right-handed hitter, is setting the pace in the National league. He led the organization in hitting last year.

First Time in Years

Harry Heilmann, a right hander, also was the batting champion of the American league in 1921. It was the first time in years that two right-hand-hitters carried off the major league batting honors in the same year.

As a rule the right-handed hitters have as much, if not more, power to their drives than the left handers. However, it has always seemed to me that the left handers mixed up their style more than the right handers.

Left-handed hitters, because of their position at the plate, have a step or no advantage over right handers in the dash to first. This often enables a batter to score a base hit on a ball on which the right hander would be thrown out by a scant margin.

Just a Shade

Having this slight advantage in running, the left handers, as a rule, do more bunting, and attempt to place the ball more than the right handers.

Recently, in a game at New York, I saw Cobb turn in a bit of thinking and hitting that showed why he has led the American league in batting year after year.

McNally was playing third base for the Yankees. Cobb, in the two previous games, had been pulling his drives to right field. He had hit one ball into the short right field pavilion and bounced a couple off the wall.

McNally, noting that Cobb had fouled the first pitch to right field, and seemed to be trying to hit in that direction, moved several feet out of position in the direction of second base.

On the Watch

Cobb, who is constantly scanning the field for a place to hit, shifted his stance on the next ball pitched and pulled the ball just inside the third base line for a two-bagger. Had McNally not shifted it would have been an easy drive for him to handle.

Left-handed hitters, as a rule, have higher averages because they shift their style to better advantage than do most of the right handers. I make that statement, working on the theory that the batting ability of the players concerned is equal.

SWIMMING BACES — AT BATH HOUSE

The swimming races at the municipal bath-house on the Pawtucket boulevard, postponed yesterday on account of rain, will be held next Thursday at 2.30 p. m. There will be special events for both men and women, including a 100 and 200 yard dash for men; a 100 yard swim for women; a 100 yard race for boys 12 to 15 years of age; a 100 yard race for boys under 12 and similar events for girls of corresponding ages. Attractive loving cups will be offered to the winners as well as beautifully engraved medals. Charles McGrady will be referee, assisted by Louis Turner, William Callahan, Gustave Normandin, Officer McManus and Instructor James Liston.

WILLIE RITCHIE TO RE-ENTER RING

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5.—Willie Ritchie, who was lightweight champion of the world from 1912 to 1914, is to re-enter the ring this fall, according to word from Belmonte, Cal., where he is playing in the California state golf tournament.

He will go east early next month, according to present plans, to place himself under some New York promoter.

HONOR ST. LOUIS BROWNS

Public Reception With Gold Watches for All Players and Team Officials

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 5. (By the Associated Press.)—The Browns, upon whom St. Louis fans have set hope to bring to this city the first pennant in more than 30 years, are to be given a public reception here this evening, at which each player, Business Manager Bob Quinn, Manager Lee Fohl and the team's secretary is to receive a gold watch.

PETER MANNING SEEKS TO LOWER N. E. MARK

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 5.—Peter Manning 1:57¾, world's champion trotter, will start against time at Charter Oak park this afternoon, in an effort to lower the trotting mark for New England. An early sun today gave promise of good conditions at Charter Oak after the rain yesterday. Tommy Murphy will pilot Peter Manning and hopes to beat 1:59¾, made by this horse at Readville last week.

The Grand Circuit events carded for today were three trotting races held over from yesterday, including the Soby Memorial for 2:08 trotters, with a purse of $3000.

TOOK HOME BACON FROM HAVERHILL

The Abbot Worsteds of Graniteville showed their followers that they could win games away from home by visiting the Haverhill stadium Saturday and defeating the Haverhill Professionals by a 4 to 0 score. Al. Davidson, the Abbot mound mainstay, was in the box and allowed but four scattered hits, while he connected for two safe hits, one of them a two-bagger. Sullivan, behind the bat, caught him in his usual style and threw well to the bases. Loftus contributed the fielding feature of the game by making a shoe-string catch of a hard liner off Butler's bat. A somersault was required to complete the play. For Haverhill, the outstanding features were pulled off by Leary, Harkins and Faulkner, but the Abbots could not be stopped and one run in the sixth and three in the eighth spelled a shut-out for Haverhill. The score by innings:

INTER-CITY SERIES GAME POSTPONED

Owing to the rain yesterday, the second game of the championship series between the Highland Daylights and the Lawrence K. of C. will be played at Lawrence, probably O'Sullivan park, next Saturday. If the old New England league park cannot be secured, the game will be staged at Pacific park, the second best grounds in the city. If the Knights win this game, the series will stand 1-1 and the toss of a coin will decide the scene of the rubber. If Louis Lord's outfit plays up to its form of last Saturday, it looks as though a third game will not be necessary. The Daylights surely looked the goods and the alibi advanced by the losers that they were unaccustomed to the Spalding park grounds holds equally as well for the Lowell boys, as Saturday was their first appearance as a unit on the Spalding lot this year. In the Lawrence game, Lynch will umpire behind the bat and Grady on the bases.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

Before a crowd of several hundred fans, the St. Peter's Cadets defeated the Merrimacks at Shedd park, Sunday, 4 to 3. Both teams played good ball but the Cadets had the edge. The excellent twirling of Gibbons, of the winners, featured the game.

The Ramblers defeated the Carlisles at the Chamber street grounds, Sunday afternoon, in a 20 to 13 slugging match. Gath and Meyer made their first appearance in Rambler uniforms and played well. The Ramblers will play the French Zouaves next Sunday on the South common at 2 p. m.

BOYLE DEFEATS HAMLIN

Local Boy Shows Way to Nashua Pride in Fast Ten-Round Bout

The local boxing season of 1922-1923 was formally opened by the Moody club at the Crescent rink last night and seldom, if ever, has a more auspicious get-away been recorded.

The card was without doubt one of the best presented here in many years, the crowd one of the largest on record, the decisions o.k. and the running off of the program well nigh perfect.

The feature event on the high class card brought together Phinney Boyle of Lowell and Louis Hamlin of Nashua and it proved a real thriller from bell to bell, with Boyle being awarded a well earned decision. In attendance was a big delegation from Nashua. Seven large auto trucks conveyed the New Hampshire fans to Lowell and during the progress of the main bout and one of the others in which Kid Desrosiers, also of Nashua, appeared, they made their presence felt in no uncertain manner.

The main event found both gladiators in fine form and they had to be, for they traveled over the ten round journey at a bewildering pace.

The pair got right down to vigorous action in the very first round. Not a second was wasted in feeling out the other fellow. In fact, Hamlin jumped right at his opponent and carried the fight to the local boy. Hamlin's aggressiveness brought the Nashua fans to their feet and they cheered him to the echo. Boyle, however, while apparently content to let his opponent do the leading, did not lose an opportunity to counter advantageously. When Hamlin tore in, Phinney side-stepped and shot across his right and seldom did he miss his objective. Hamlin, however, had the edge as the round closed, but this opening stanza was the only one in which the visitor had any decided advantage. He evened up things in several of the later sessions, but all the others went to Boyle.

The Lowell boy, who attained his reputation within the hempen ropes as a boxer, last night showed that he possessed real fighting ability and many times during the thirty minutes of action, he stood right in the centre of the ring and engaged his opponent in terrific exchanges.

Boyle's superior knowledge of the game proved too big a handicap for the aggressive, game and hard-hitting Nashua lad. Hamlin tried hard all the way and gave the Lowellite a fine battle. His aggressiveness, however, proved a style familiar to Boyle and invariably the latter would force him to miss his mark and then come back with left jabs to the head and right crosses to the body. Boyle showed the value of experience and his craftiness kept him out of reach of many of Hamlin's furious swings. Boyle often drew a lead from Hamlin only to duck or pull away and then retaliate with an avalanche of blows to head and body.

There was not a dull moment during the entire ten rounds, the final stanza being one of the most sensational ever seen in a local ring. Hamlin realized he had to drop Boyle to win and he waded in with reckless abandon in a gallant but futile effort to accomplish the task. Boyle did not remain content to box his opponent and ease through to the decision, but he too tried hard to end hostilities decisively. From the tap of the gong until the final clang, when Referee Martin Flaherty had to step in and pry the battlers apart, punches flew fast and furiously from all angles and the hectic battling sent the fans home well satisfied and pronouncing the season's opening show a hummer from beginning to end.

The eight round event preceding the Boyle-Hamlin bout gave Jimmy Demas and Benny Nelson, local boys, a chance to add to their laurels. Their offering was a peachy number, with Demas landing the award. Jimmy proved a whirlwind boxer and Nelson starred as an infighter. Demas' greater speed and agility triumphed. He opened up a big lead at the outset, showering Nelson with blows to head and body with machine-like rapidity and regularity. He is a wonderful performer at long range and he threw more punches at Benny than the latter has seen in many a day. But as the bout wore on, Nelson appeared to have solved his opponent's attack and also to have found a good defense. He stepped in under Demas' extended left and every time he broke through he landed telling blows to the body. But Demas would not be denied and in the last two rounds he emulated the famous Dundee and bounded in an out, landing and getting away most successfully. The award in his favor was a popular one.

In the other bout, scheduled for eight rounds, Kid Desrosiers of Nashua added a number of admirers to his already long list by showing the way to Danny Murphy of Lawrence, the Nashua battler winning in the seventh via the kayo route. Murphy made a great hit with his "Wild Man Gould antics" and he also proved a great assimilator of punishment. This bout provided many enjoyable moments and also flashes of classy fighting. Desrosiers tore at Murphy at the tap of the first gong and remained on the aggressive throughout. In the fifth, he dropped his opponent twice and polished him off in the seventh with a clout to the wind that sent the Lawrencian to the mat to remain while the referee tolled the fatal ten.

In the first bout of the evening, Johnny Nelson won over Benny O'Neil after six peppery rounds of action.

Martin Flaherty refereed all bouts and Frank Murphy of Lowell and John McDougall were the judges. Eddie Rogers was the announcer.

It was announced that the winner of last night's main event, Phinney Boyle and South Boston Johnny Downes, will meet in the next show on Thursday evening, September 14.

GLAD TO SEE BEST MAN GET HIS DUE

By N.E.A. Service

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 5.—The Coast league baseball fan is a good sportsman, glad to give credit where credit is due, regardless of whether the player is with the home team or drawing salary on another line.

Such at least is the showing in a "most valuable Coast league player" contest held here by the Seattle Star.

A Seattle player, Billy Lane, won the contest, hands down, but he was one of only two Seattle players to finish in the first ten.

Willie Kamm, Seal third sacker, was the runner up to Lane for honors. Paul Strand was third high, with Bill Stumpf, Seattle utility infielder, trailing him.

Not a Shortstop

Every team in the league was represented in the first ten except Sacramento and Portland. After Stumpf, in the order mentioned, came Red Killefer, Los Angeles, manager; Jakie May, Vernon, pitcher; Red Smith, Vernon third sacker; Paddy Siglin, Salt Lake second baseman; "Buzz" Arlett, Oakland pitcher, and Bert Ellison, San Francisco first baseman.

Not a shortstop finished in the first 10. And no catcher placed among them.

Stumpf and Ellison were the favorites for "all-round" ability. In every letter concerning them, the writers spoke of their ability to play many positions as well as bat effectively, each making a valuable reserve force for his team.

High in the List

Lane might not be chosen as the most valuable man in the Coast league by fans in other cities, but he would probably be placed high in the lists by the thinking fans. In the four or five years he has played with Oakland and Seattle, the "Rabbit" has hit around .300, and as a lead-off man, has worked pitchers for more free trips to first base than any other player.

A "Billy Lane" day was held at Seattle Park this week, with special ceremonies, presentation of a trophy by the mayor of Seattle, and all the rest of that sort of thing.

CRESCENT FIVE WINS

In the first bowling match of the season Fred King's Crescent five won two strings and the total over Hayden's All Stars on the Crescent alleys, yesterday afternoon. The match drew a big crowd of rooters and some good scores were put up. H. Brown of the winners was the high man, bowling 106, 113 and 106 for a three string total of 331. Grady of the defeated quintet had a single of 117. The totals were as follows:

Crescent Five—King 271, Bamford 308, H. Brown 331, Eastman 293, Flynn 281. Total, 1484.

All Stars—Grady 299, Panton 279, Thurber 291, Whitelock 292, Hayden 296. Total, 1157.

LOWELL GETS THE JUMP

Highland Daylights Defeat Lawrence K. of C. in First Game of Series

The first game of the important inter-city series between the Highland Daylights and the Lawrence K. of C., played Saturday at Spalding park, resulted in a decisive 8-to-3 win for the Highland Daylights. The contest did not provide the anticipated thrills as the boys from Lawrence worked contrary to championship form, being charged with six costly errors and failing to connect advantageously with the hypnotic slants of "Cozy" Dolan, Louis Lord's choice for mound action. Dolan vindicated his Mentor's choice by holding the opposition to six segregated hits in nine full innings, while he performed with brilliant consistency or consistent brilliancy in the field.

Prior to the commencement of activities, Frank Ricard, the local jeweler, stepped on the field to receive a beautiful bouquet of flowers "from the boys." Mr. Ricard then presented the prizes to the winners of the popularity contest conducted during the Twilight season by Mr. Ricard in connection with The Sun. The four winners, Gath, Condon, Pare and Souza, received a big ovation as the presentation was made. Ben Kaveney, Lawrence sport scribe, acted as announcer while His Honor, George H. Brown, mayor of Lowell, pitched the first ball to Smith J. Adams, councilor of the same municipality.

"Buster" Lucy heaved 'em for the "Casey's" and while he was touched for nine safeties, he was not wholly responsible for the landslide of runs. Lucy looked like a good pitcher with plenty of speed and a nice cross-fire but his temporary lapse of control in the fifth and eighth innings turned the wavering scales of fortune on the Daylight's side. For the visitors, Capt. Donald Smith lambasted the horsehide three times with impunity for a total of six bases, while Charlie Marcotte's three-sacker was the best contribution to the extra base department on the side of the Highland Daylights. In the field, Parkey Daley made a pretty classy catch of a liner that was ticketed for points east and seemed in a hurry to get there. Taken in the ensemble, Dean and Smith were the bright lights for Lawrence and nine men played well for the Daylights.

Bradley was first up for the Knights and flied out to "Long John" at second. Keegan followed with a hit past short and stole second, scoring the first run of the series on Don Smith's first of three two-baggers. The game bore a Lawrence trade-mark in this frame as the Daylights failed to register. In the second, Daley led off with a single through third and went to second when Lucy overthrew to first. Marcotte and Freeman were easy outs, but Dolan came through with a single to right center, scoring Daley with the tying count.

As supernumerary evidence of the locals' superiority, another run was added in the third on Bridgford's second single, J. Smith's sacrifice and an error by Delaney in right. Three runs iced the battle in the fifth. Williams walked but was retired at second on a fielder's choice resulting from Smith's roller to short. Breen singled to right, placing John on third and when the Lawrence catcher threw to second to get Breen stealing, Smith beat it home in safety while Breen rested on second. A double steal was recorded in consequence. Daley was passed and Marcotte effected a three base concussion of the ball to left, scoring both runners. The rubber fell a Lawrence spike for the second time in the sixth. D. Smith was hit by a pitched ball, stole second and scored on Dean's single.

In the eighth, Long John's namesake again doubled, stole third and came home on a passed ball, making the third and final run for the Knights. In the Daylight half, errors by Dean and Higgins, who took Ferrin's place in center, and hits by Smith and Dolan accounted for three more runs, enough for one day's fun. The score:

SETS NEW GOLF MARK

Guilford Makes Record in Defending Title, Does 18 Holes in 70

COUNTRY CLUB, BROOKLINE, Sept. 5.—A champion led his field of contending title seekers yesterday when Jesse P. Guilford of Woodland Golf club, came home through the mists and rain, boggy fairways and water logged greens, winner of medal honors in the qualifying round of 36 holes in the national amateur golf championship tournament which is to decide his successor. His score was 144—74 in the perfect conditions of Saturday, when the first 18 holes were played and 70 under the difficulties caused by rains that fell constantly all day yesterday.

His round of yesterday afternoon not only constituted a new amateur competitive record for the Country club course, supplanting the 71 made by Bobby Gardner of Chicago on Saturday. It equalled the professional record held by the British master, Edward Ray, and went to make the aggregate of 144, which equals the lowest medal score ever made in national amateur title tournaments. No qualifying round in any previous title competition was conducted under marine conditions to equal those of yesterday.

Guilford came by his honors as medalist in a competition remarkable under the conditions of play that prevailed. Only a stroke removed from him was Bobby Jones, the wonder boy golfer from Atlanta, who went around yesterday in 72 to complete a card of 145. Jones a few minutes before had broken a tie between Great Britain and the United States for low scores, Cyril J. H. Tolley, British amateur champion last year had set the medal mark for the day at 143 with a 71 under the wet conditions of the morning. Chick Evans, another champion asserting himself, trudged over the treacherous ground several hours in the afternoon and tied Tolley also with a 74. First Jones and then Guilford bettered this mark. It took 162 to qualify for the last of the 32 holes and five men had to play knockouts for the last three places.

JOIE RAY WINS MILE

GLOUCESTER, Sept. 5.—Joie Ray, the Illinois miler, won the mile handicap event of the Olympic club holiday meet here yesterday, Ray, whose opponents were William Sheehy of Boston and Jack Gordon of Princeton, finished in 4 minutes, 5 1-5 seconds.

Charleston Wins League Pennant

CHARLESTON, S. C., Sept. 5.—The South Atlantic association closed today with Charleston winning the pennant by a safe margin. Charlotte, by defeating Columbia in a double header, goes into second place, Spartanburg finished fourth, Augusta fifth and Greenville last. This is the second pennant ever won by Charleston.

JOE LYNCH SUCCESSFULLY DEFENDS TITLE

RINGSIDE, MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., Sept. 5—Joe Lynch, world's bantamweight champion, successfully defended his title against Pal Moore, the Memphis, Tenn., challenger, in a 10-round, no-decision contest here yesterday. Moore was all but knocked out in the seventh round when he was floored twice for the count of nine. He also was dropped in the third round, but did not take the count.

Lynch had the better of the first and third rounds, knocking Moore to his knees in the third with a short right-hand punch to the chin. Moore was up in a second, however. Moore filled the air with gloves in the second, landing 30 punches while Lynch had difficulty connecting with 11. The fourth round was fairly even, but Moore had the advantage in the fifth and sixth as a result of his flashy boxing. He cut Lynch's mouth in the sixth. Lynch kept trying a land short right-hand punches and Moore backed into the ropes to keep out of danger.

Lynch continued to score points in the eighth and ninth, as Moore was boxing cautiously.

Billy Wells, welterweight champion of Great Britain, outpointed Dennis O'Keefe of South Chicago in 10 rounds. They boxed at 147 pounds.

The 10-round contest between Jimmy Clabby of Hammond, Ind., Australian middleweight champion, and Jimmy Darcy of Portland, Ore., went the limit, with Clabby having the edge in boxing. Darcy was 12 pounds overweight, entering the ring at 163 pounds, while Clabby scaled 156 pounds.

Dempsey, who was scheduled to meet Bill Brennan here yesterday, boxed two sparring partners two two minute rounds and had both of them weary, although big pillowy gloves were used. Jack Thompson, a big negro, faced Dempsey the first two rounds, and Andre Anderson of Chicago caught the champion's punches in the last two.

"WETS" AND "DRYS" WATCH PRIMARIES

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 5. (By the Associated Press.)—Returns of today's primary election in Wisconsin will be eagerly scanned by "wet" and "dry" organizations of the state, since candidates representing these different forces are seeking nominations for legislative offices.

The campaign interest generally is centered in the republican race, the democrats having few contests.

The Wisconsin Anti-Saloon league is advocating the nomination of W. A. Ganfield for United States senator, over Senator R. M. La Follette, and endorsement of Attorney General William J. Morgan, over Governor John J. Blaine, for the gubernatorial honors.

DECIDING SINGLES FOR THE DAVIS CUP

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—Favored by a promise of fair weather, the deciding singles matches of the challenge round for the Davis cup tennis trophy, postponed yesterday because of rain, were scheduled this afternoon on the courts of the West Side Tennis club.

America relied on Willis M. Johnston and William T. Tilden in the defense of the international cup against the Australian challengers, Johnston will play Gerald L. Patterson, captain of the invaders, in the first match at 3 o'clock and Tilden will oppose James C. Anderson in the other tilt.

With two matches out of three to its credit, the result of victories in the singles and a defeat in the doubles, America needed but one more triumph to clinch possession of the trophy for another year. The Australians faced that task of having to emerge victorious in both contests to carry the emblem back with them to the Antipodes.

Both Americans were strong favorites to win, although the possibility of slow turf, because of rain, was believed to be a factor in Patterson's favor in his match with Johnston.

Tilden's defeat, with Vincent Richards, in the doubles Saturday, at the hands of Pat O'Hara Wood and Patterson, was the first reverse of his three years' record as a Davis cup performer.

LOWELL DOGS WIN AT CANOBIE LAKE

Lowell was well represented at the Boston Kennel club dog show held at Canobie Lake park yesterday and the local dogs fared well in the award of prizes. "Little Boy Blue," toy poodle owned by Mrs. Tillie Brackett, was adjudged the winner in his class and his mistress was presented a silver cup.

In the English bull class, "Lady Beaconfield," owned by Victor Lapierre of 124 Shaw street, took three firsts and a second, and "Chunkie Boy," owned by Lena Lachance of 26 Cascade avenue, took four firsts and one third in a field of 11 entries.

"Gold Dollar" was the shining star, winning a silver trophy for the best Boston terrier in the show together with four firsts. John Davis of Gorham st. is the owner. "Dandy Boy," a Boston terrier owned by Joseph Foley won first prize in the puppy class and second prize in the breeders' class, first prize being won by "Gold Dollar."

"Queen of Hearts," a Boston terrier owned by Mrs. Kirkpatrick, won four firsts in the female classes and four specials. "King Omar" won one first. "Lady Dolly Dimple" won second. "Fairy" won third. These are all Boston terriers owned by Mr. James Kirkpatrick of Epping street. Mrs. Leavitt's "Just" won a special prize for the best puppy under 12 months. A black and tan owned by Bob Patterson won four firsts. Benny Buck won everything with his pair of setters. Mr. Noble won second prize with his Boston terrier. Taken all in all, Lowell was well represented and took away quite a number of prizes.

SEVERE CRITICISM OF U. S. ULTIMATUM

HAVANA, Sept. 5.—Severe criticism of Major General E. H. Crowder's step in presenting an ultimatum, as personal representative of President Harding to the Cuban government, setting a definite time limit for enactment of reformatory legislation, was voiced in congress yesterday by the president of the senate, Aurelio Alvarez.

Senor Alvarez termed the incident a violation of the permanent treaty between the United States and Cuba in that it constituted intervention in the internal affairs of the island. He also condemned the Zayas administration for submitting to this alleged infringement of the national sovereignty.

The senate approved two of the five measures in the Crowder program—those providing for reorganization of the federal system of accounting and for the suspension of certain provisions of the civil service law to permit the president to shift the personnel of various government departments in the interests of honesty and efficiency.

$2000 A DAY

Big Fortune Comes to This Girl Overnight

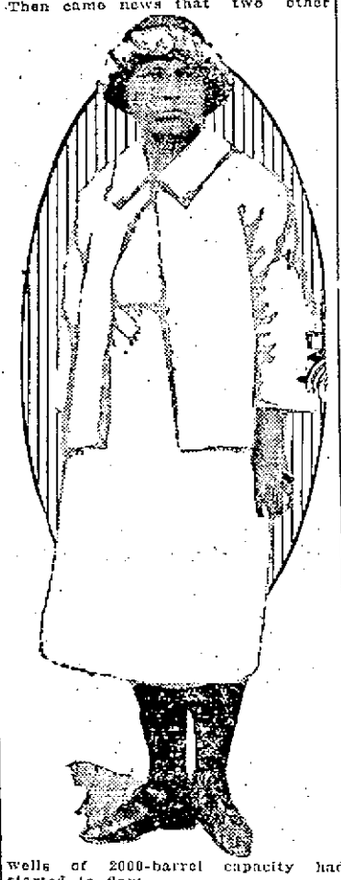
By N.E.A. Service

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Sept. 5.—Sudden wealth has not given Exie Fife, "overnight" Oklahoma Indian heiress, a desire for a gilded palace nor a retinue of servants.

Instead she wants a bungalow. And she will take care of it herself, she says.

Exie recently went to bed practically broke. Her supper had all but exhausted her meager bank account. She awoke in the morning to discover that a 5000-barrel oil well had been drilled in on the allotment made her by the government in the Bristow field!

Then came news that two other



wells of 2000-barrel capacity had started to flow.

So now, Miss Fife has an income of about $2000 a day. This is expected to increase to $5000, government agents say.

What would be the first thing the heiress would do? That's just what she did—she purchased a car, price $5000.

But no jewels, flapper clothes or bobbed hair for her, says Miss Fife.

The inevitable marriage proposals are flowing in almost as much profusion as her oil, but she has opened scarcely any of them.

Plans for her new bungalow are being drawn by government agents and a contract soon will be awarded by the Indian agency. It will cost only a few of the thousands of dollars Miss Fife is banking every day.

Previous to the money deluge, Miss Fife lived at Fame, McIntosh county, in one of the customary three-room box-like structures of the reservation.

Shake Off That Backache!

WHY let that dull, nagging backache make you old and miserable? Get rid of it! It's time you stopped worrying and complaining and gave some attention to your kidneys. Present day life, with its hurry and worry, is mighty hard on the kidneys. And weak kidneys cause many queer aches, pains and bladder irregularities. Your backaches; you are lame and stiff, nervous and unstrung. Your head aches, you are dizzy, suffer sharp, rheumatic pains and feel weak, tired, nervous and depressed. Don't wait! Neglect may mean some serious kidney sickness. Begin today with Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's have brought new health to thousands of weak, tired, ailing people. They should help you. Ask your neighbor!

Read How These Lowell Folks Found Relief:

A. H. ROGERS, Machinist
20 Wilson Street, Says:

"Heavy lifting and colds settling in my kidneys affected them and brought on attacks of backache. When I stooped my back seemed to give way and terrific pains took me through the small of my back. My kidneys acted irregularly and the secretions were unnatural. I used Doan's Kidney Pills from Burkinshaw's Drug Store and they soon rid me of the backache and fixed up my kidneys in good shape."

MRS. W. SPEAD
7 Lagrange Court, Says:

"I was laid up with kidney disorder caused by a cold. I could hardly straighten when I stooped, due to the terrible lameness in the small of my back. I could hardly get out of bed in the morning. I was so lame and my kidneys acted unnatural. I suffered from terrible pains in the top of my head and it seemed as though the top of my head was coming off. I heard of Doan's Kidney Pills and used them and they soon helped me. I continued until Doan's cured me of all symptoms of kidney trouble."

PETER SHEEHAN
11 Lyon Street, Says:

"I strained my back and suffered from backache. When I stooped, sharp pains caught me across my kidneys and doubled me up. My kidneys acted too often and the secretions were unnatural. I read of Doan's Kidney Pills and after using three boxes bought at Bailey & Co.'s Drug Store, I was cured of the trouble."

Orange County Team Wins Polo Match

RUMSON, N. J., Sept. 5.—(By the Associated Press)—The Orange County team, an American four, won its way into the semi-finals of the national open polo championship by defeating the team of the All-Ireland club, 7 to 4, in a slowly paced game on a wet and soggy field. Orange county held the lead after the third period.

SERIOUSLY INJURED BY AUTOMOBILE

An automobile operated by Myer R. Rittenberg of Brookline, struck down and seriously injured Miss Charlotte McDaniels of 408 East Merrimack st. Miss McDaniels was struck while crossing Merrimack street, opposite St. Anne's church, where she attended services. The mudguard of the machine hit her and knocked her under the wheels, causing many serious cuts and probable internal injuries. She was taken to St. John's hospital where she was reported as resting comfortably today, although the extent of her injuries is not definitely known. Motorcycle Officer Hamilton arrested Rittenberg on the charge of operating a motor vehicle in a manner to endanger the lives of the public.

MUNICIPAL EMPLOYES' UNION

President Dan Moynihan occupied the chair at the last meeting of the Municipal Employes' union, 14,265, which was held in the hall of the organization in Central street. Routine business was transacted, new members were initiated and several communications were read. It was announced that a drawing contest will be held at the next regular meeting.

Two Newark Buildings Collapse

NEWARK, N. J., Sept. 5.—Two four-story buildings collapsed in the downtown section of Newark today. Warning of the impending fall was given last night when the floor in one of the structures occupied as a Chinese restaurant, was shaken while 50 diners were present. As the floor settled sharply, the diners leaped from windows to safety. Investigation of the cause of the accident was begun by city officials. It was said that excavations being made in the restaurant cellar were believed responsible.

Recognize Patterson as Champion

PARIS, Sept. 5. (By the Associated Press.)—The French Tennis Federation recognizes Gerald Patterson of Australia as the grass court tennis champion of the world, despite his defeat last week in the Davis cup matches at Forest Hills by William T. Tilden 2nd, of Philadelphia, it was said today. The French Federation also will consider Henri Cochet as the hard court champion by virtue of his victory early this summer in Brussels. The Federation reserves liberty of action with regard to the suggestion recently made that the world championship tournaments be held alternately in America and England, with the Davis cup matches to be played every four years. It is suggested that this matter be referred to the international lawn tennis federation.

Mrs. Wainwright Victim of Poison

MINEOLA, N. Y., Sept. 5.—Traces of poison have been found in the vital organs of the body of Mrs. Catherine J. Wainwright of Springfield, Ill., according to a report made to District Attorney Weeks today. An investigation which was begun because of the circumstances surrounding her death in Nassau hospital, several weeks ago, had been interrupted pending the result of the analysis. The poison was self-administered, District Attorney Weeks now believes.

Dempsey Off to Close Match With Wills

MICHIGAN CITY, Ind., Sept. 5.—Jack Dempsey and Manager Kearns left today for New York prepared, they said, to close a match with Harry Wills. "If Wills and the promoters are ready for action, I will cancel all the other negotiations and give Wills the opportunity the public and the promoters wish to see," Kearns said. "We are ready to take on Wills any time."

Found Guilty in Kidnapping Case

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 5. (By the Associated Press.)—Col. Enrique Goldbaum Padilla was found guilty, early this morning by a military court martial of usurpation of authority in connection with the recent kidnapping episode of A. Bruce Bielaska, former head of the bureau of investigation of the American Department of Justice. Col. Padilla was sentenced to 10 years imprisonment.

"Mother" Jones Recovering From Illness

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—"Mother" Jones, leader in many industrial battles, is recovering from the effects of her recent illness and may soon be expected "back in the ranks," according to her friends.

Bunkhouse Fire of Accidental Origin

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Preliminary reports to the department of justice indicate that the fire which destroyed the bunkhouse of the Pennsylvania railroad at Pittsburgh with a loss of seven lives, was of accidental origin.

Labor Day Remarkably Quiet

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Basing their opinion on the absence of a single report of disturbance, officials of the department of justice declared today Labor Day had been remarkably quiet throughout the country. William J. Burns, chief of the bureau of investigation, said reports from his agents had disclosed nothing of importance developing from the activities of the day.

Sutherland Confirmed as Justice

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Former Senator George Sutherland of Utah, was nominated today by President Harding to be associate justice of the supreme court of the United States, and the senate within 10 minutes after the name was received, confirmed the nomination in opene executive session and without the usual reference to a committee.

HOPES TO FLY 2100 MILES IN 24 HOURS

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Sept. 5.—Lieut. James H. Doolittle, Kelly Field aviator, who early today was somewhere between Jacksonville, Fla., and San Antonio, Tex., en route to San Diego, Cal., in an effort to span the 2100 miles between the Atlantic and Pacific coasts, within 24 hours, is the third United States army flier to attempt the flight.

With a strong wind behind him, Doolittle hoped to reach Kelly Field, just outside San Antonio, this morning, covering the 1100 miles in less than nine hours.

After a 30 minute rest here and breakfast with his family, he planned to set out on the last lap of the transcontinental journey. In a previous flight, accompanied by Lieut. Leland S. Andrews, also of Kelly Field, Lieut. Doolittle covered the distance between San Diego and San Antonio in 11 hours and 40 minutes without a stop.

LIVING CONDITIONS IN RUSSIA IMPROVE

LONDON, Sept. 5. (By the Associated Press.)—Living conditions in Russia have enormously improved, the crops promise to be excellent, typhus, cholera, and other epidemic diseases have been checked, the material welfare of the population is encouraging, there is no evidence of famine, numerous railroads and steamship lines are operating, and the government is functioning effectively.

This is the epitome of reports brought from Russia by Edward M. Flesh of New York, director of the United States Grain corporation, who has made a six weeks' survey of conditions in Russia for Secretary of Commerce Hoover. Mr. Flesh is sailing for the United States Sept 12.

Mr. Flesh said the term, "A.R.A." (American Relief Administration), had become a part of the Russian language and was the most potent of all passports. The mere mention of America, he said, stirs religious fervor and gratitude among all classes of Russians.

TO SAVE AUSTRIA FROM DEMORALIZATION

GENEVA, Sept. 5.—(By the Associated Press.)—The negotiations being undertaken with a view to saving Austria from utter demoralization as a result of her financial distress, reached an active stage here today. Leading delegates to the council and assembly of the league of nations have been engaged in extensive exchanges of views preliminary to the hearing of Chancellor Seipel of Austria by the council of the league tomorrow. These conversations revealed general agreement that the first step to be taken would be to give political stability to the present Austrian regime so that the capital that might be invested in the enterprise of re-establishing Austria's economic machinery would not be at the mercy of revolution or reaction.

EX.-CONG. BELL KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

SAN RAFAEL Cal., Sept. 5.—The body of Theodore A. Bell, attorney, former congressman and prominent figure in the national councils of the democratic party for the last 20 years, who was killed near here last night in an automobile accident, will be removed to St. Helena, Cal., where in early manhood he made his first successful political fight, winning the district attorneyship of Napa county when he was 22 years old. The place of interment will be near Mount St. Helena, overlooking the vineyards which he sought to sustain by advocating an amendment to the Volstead act, permitting light wines and beer.

MATRIMONIAL

Miss Mary F. O'Neil and Dr. William F. Ryan, two well known young people of this city, were married at 9.30 o'clock this morning at the rectory of St. Peter's church. Rev. Daniel J. Kelleher, Ph.D., was the officiating clergyman. Miss Elizabeth O'Neil, a sister of the bride, was the bridesmaid, and Mr. Thomas B. Ryan, of Fairfield, Vermont, a brother of the groom, was the best man. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride, 65 South Highland street. The happy couple left shortly after on a wedding trip to the White mountains, and will be at home to friends after Sept. 15.

Halpin—Reilly

The marriage of Mr. John T. Halpin and Miss Anna P. Reilly took place last evening at St. Patrick's rectory, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Dr. Supple. Mrs. Bertha Whitcomb was matron of honor, while Mr. Thomas Keefe was best man. The bride wore white silk georgette crepe trimmed with rare silk lace and veil with hat effect and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses. The matron of honor was attired in white canton crepe with blue silk lace trimmings, hat to match and carried pink carnations. The bride's gift to the maid of honor was a string of pearls, while the groom's favor to the best man was a pair of gold cuff links. The couple left in the evening on a honeymoon trip to New York, Philadelphia and Atlantic City and after Oct. 1 they will be at home to their friends at 192 Fletcher street.

Favreau—Barthenult

A wedding of interest to the residents of West Centralville took place yesterday morning when Mr. Venance Favreau, a well known member of the firm of Favreau Bros., electrical contractors, and Miss Parmelia Barthenult, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theotime Barthenult of 242 Cumberland rd., were united in the bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed at a high nuptial mass celebrated at St. Louis' church at 9 o'clock by Rev. F. X. Gauthier. The choir under the direction of Olier J. David with orchestra accompaniment, rendered Millard's mass, Miss Ida Mongrain presiding at the organ. The bride was handsomely attired in crepe de chine with veil caught up with orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and lilies of the valley. She was given away by her father, Mr. Theotime Barthenult, while the groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Alberic Favreau. At the close of the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride and at noon the happy couple who were the recipients of numerous wedding gifts left on a two weeks' honeymoon trip to New York. Upon their return they will make their home at 989 Lakeview ave.

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—A firm tone prevailed at the opening of today's stock market, but most early price changes were of a fractional character. The absence of many traders from the floor because of the holiday resulted in relatively light dealings. Shares of coal and grain carrying railroads were in good demand, Chicago and Northwestern advancing 1¾ points and gains of substantial fractions being recorded by Union Pacific, Canadian Pacific, St. Paul, Great Northern preferred, Northern Pacific, Reading and Erie. Republic Iron and Steel, with a gain of 1⅜ points, led the list of steel shares. Popular copper shares lyike Utah and Kennecott, rose fractionally on light dealings. Studebaker opened a point higher, but the other popular speculative favorites, Mexican Petroleum and Baldwing, displayed a reactionary tendency, American Tobacco up 3 points, featured the list of specialties.

Outside buying of high grade industrial shares caused a further extension of early gains in the late afternoon, American Woolen, Baldwin and Norfolk and Western each advanced more than two points to new top prices for the year, while Consolidated Gas equalled its previous high at a net gain of nearly 4 points. The closing was strong.

LOWELL CASES BEFORE THE GRAND JURY

Evidence of ten Lowell cases was heard by the grand jury at a session held in this city this morning. The session was conducted in the civil session court room in the court house in Gorham street, and was opened by Justice Hammond of the superior court, while prayer was offered by Rev. N. W. Matthews of the Gorham Street P. M. church. District Attorney Saltonstall and Assistant District Attorney James C. Reilly, the latter of this city, conducted the prosecution, while Capt. Petrie of the criminal bureau presented the local cases.

The cases heard were as follows: Alphonse Chouinard and Michael Themis, carnal abuse of female child; George W. Tice, abduction; Adam Guilmette, manslaughter; Charles Thomas, larceny; Thomas J. Faustino, abuse of female child; Lee F. Allen, abuse of female child; Selim Omar, abuse of female child; Augustin Fitzgerald, breaking and entering and larceny, two counts; Paul H. Abbott, breaking and entering and larceny, three counts; Rudolph J. Dupont, breaking and entering and larceny.

MATRIMONIAL

A pretty wedding took place yesterday morning when Mr. Leo Desloges and Miss Clarice Couture, two well known young people were united in the bonds of matrimony, the ceremony being performed at a nuptial mass celebrated at 7 o'clock, at St. Jean Baptiste church, the officiating clergyman being Rev. Athanase Marion, O.M.I. The bride wore canton crepe with veil caught up with lilies of the valley and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and lilies of the valley. She was given away by her father, Mr. Henry Couture, while the groom was attended by his father, Mr. Paul Desloges. At the close of the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, 1 Clark street, the repast being followed by a reception. In the receiving line with Mr. and Mrs. Desloges were Mr. Ovila Lemay and Miss Yvonne Desloges and Mr. Joseph Harvey and Miss Donalda Poudrier. Musical and literary numbers were given, those taking part being Miss Eva Lefebvre, Joseph Harvey, Mrs. Maria Carl, Miss Delina Letourneau, Wilfred Lefebvre, Miss Cecile Lefebvre, Miss Fleurette Rompre, Miss Beatrice Couture. At noon the happy couple, who were the recipients of numerous wedding gifts, left on a honeymoon trip to New Bedford, Hartford, Conn. and Wallingford. Upon their return in two weeks they will make their home at 9 Aiken street. Last Friday evening Mrs. Desloges was tendered a miscellaneous shower at the home of her parents and was presented numerous gifts. The affair was in charge of Miss Amelda Poudrier, Miss Yvonne Desolges and Miss Alma Belleville. On the same evening the groom was tendered a bachelor party at the camp of the Lakeside campers at Willow Dale, and was made the recipient of a purse of gold. The arrangements for the event were in charge of Joseph Harvey.

The board has three plans of a new bridge before it, ranging in total cost from $46,000 to $60,000. Also, it is understood that there is approximately $40,000 available for bridge construction, but before the public service board adopts any one of the three plans submitted it desires the mayor's assurance that the money will be forthcoming.

"Something must be done to the bridge immediately," said Dennis J. Murphy, chairman of the board, today "and the special meeting has been called to settle it."

HEADLIGHT INSPECTION

Inspector McNeece of the state highway commission will be in Lowell early tonight and will give a demonstration on headlight inspection to the officers at the police station. Mr. McNeece is an expert in this line and will show the officers just how to determine whether the headlights on automobiles are within the legal requirements. He has been sent out by State Registrar Frank A. Goodwin to instruct the officers of the various cities in this line of work so that they might apprehend the violators of the headlight law. Mr. Goodwin intends to wage a campaign against these persons and bring them to time, as many accidents have been caused by dazzling headlights which blinded approaching motorists. After the demonstration, the inspector will go out with several of the officers and do practical work along this line on the highways leading to the city.

BRIEF BUT IMPORTANT WIRE DESPATCHES

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—"Babe" Ruth laced out his 29th home run of the season today in the first inning of the Yankees' first game with the Boston Red Sox.

BRAVES FIELD, Boston, Sept. 5.—In the game with the New York Giants here today, the Braves scored a run in the first inning without the aid of a hit. After Lovell flied out, Kopf and Cruise both walked. Ryan was taken out and replaced by Virgil Barnes. After Cruise was forced by Roser, Kopf and Roser worked a double steal, the former scoring.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Rev. Terrence J. Sheely, S. J., spiritual director of the Laymen's League for Retreats and Social Service on Staten Island, died in St. Vincent's hospital today after a brief illness.

BOSTON, Sept. 5.—Another move in the contest of state and federal authorities to determine the legal possessors of 26 cases of liquor seized in a small boat off Magnolia, recently, was made in federal court today when Judge Morton issued an order restraining Chief William S. Sullivan of the Manchester police from delivering the liquor to the state, pending decision on a libel asking its forfeiture to the federal officials.

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Sept. 5.—At the final session of the convention of the Walther league of New England, of the Evangelical Luther church here today, Walter Reschke of Holyoke, Mass., was elected president. Other officers elected included: John Krausher, Holyoke, Mass., secretary, and George Bode, Kingston, N. Y., treasurer.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—A report from Federal Prohibition Director Linville of Oregon, on the death of Agents Grover Todd and Glen Price, in a raid at Portland, brings the total of known mortalities among federal dry law enforcement agents killed in the line of duty to 24, it was announced today by prohibition headquarters.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 5.—Twenty-four hours after rumors of his engagement to Miss Sara Boylan, 17, of Canaseraga, circulated in that little village, Leon Stone, 35, a business man of Arknort, an adjoining town, was found dead in a ditch with a bullet in his brain, according to advices from Hornell today.

ROME, Sept. 5.—Orders have been given for an Italian battleship to proceed to Smyrna for the protection of Italian subjects in the zone of operations.

In representative Greek quarters here, the complaint is voiced that the Greek reverses in Asia Minor are due to the assistance given the Angora government by foreign countries, especially France, but in part by Italy.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept 5.—Labor day traffic was handled successfully and without undue delays, says the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad statement today on the shopmen's strike. The statement says it was necessary to provide 335 coaches, 112 parlor and sleeping cars and 450 locomotives over the norma requirement.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—If the industrial situation is "in the clear" by that date, President Harding will go to Detroit for the laying of the corner stone of the new Masonic Temple on Monday, Sept. 18, and will be in Cleveland the following day to receive the 33rd degree, Scottish Rite of Free Masonry, it was stated today at the White House.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—The proposal for a one year suspension of cotton planting in the United States as a means of eliminating the boll weevil was suggested in the senate today by Senator Smith, democrat, South Carolina, who predicted wholesale abandonment of cotton farms throughout the south, unless governmental action were taken to aid in destruction of the parasite.

LAWRENCE, Sept. 5.—Organizer F. J. Gorman of the United Textile Workers of America, said this noon that 60 members of the organization had been told, upon reporting for work at the Patchogue-Plymouth mills, that all could not be placed for two weeks. An indignation meeting was called and the matter will be taken up at a joint meeting with the central labor union tonight.

KENWOOD DEFEATS DRACUT

The Kenwood fire department baseball team defeated the Dracut Centre nine in a fast game played at Kenwood yesterday afternoon, the score being 14 to 9. A return game between the two aggregations will be played at the Centre a week from next Sunday and it is said that the Centre team will be strengthened for the occasion.

FIRST CLASS SCANDAL

Disclosures Follow Investigation Into the Ishii Failure in Japan

OSAKA, Japan., Aug. 15.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press)—Investigation into the Ishii failure, a few months ago, which cost the banks of Japan some 70,000,000 yen loaned to Ishii for his stock exchange speculations, has developed a first class scandal.

It is charged that Ishii was able through the connivance of bank officials to borrow from several banks on the same securities and two bank managers have been arrested on the charge of allowing improperly secured large loans.

The prosecutors are probing the affairs of other banks from which Ishii borrowed millions on now worthless securities.

NEW YORK, Sept. 5.—Officials of the Japanese consul's office here said today that the Ishii referred to in despatches from Osaka dealing with his failure, involving several Japanese banks, was Snoti Ishii, a Tokio banker, and rice operator.

The failure occurred about three months ago and was followed by drastic police action against the banks concerned.

VISITED LOWELL MEN AT DEVENS

Despite the rain many Lowell people went to Camp Devens yesterday to visit the boys of M Co., 181st Infantry, now on a tour of duty at the Ayer cantonment. Mayor George H. Brown made the trip, representing the municipal government. It cleared sufficiently early in the afternoon to make the visit well worth while and Capt. George H. Crowell and the men of his command were kept busy greeting friends from home.

GOV. BAXTER REFUSES TO MAKE PROMISES

AUGUSTA, Me., Sept. 5.—Governor Baxter today in a letter addressed to the "women of Maine" in reply to petitions from women's organizations of the state for promise of what he will do if elected governor again, for the "health, education and moral safety of Maine's children" refused to make any promises and referred to his record as the state's chief executive on the questions referred to. He said that the record of a public official should be more convincing than his promises.

To Ratify Coal Agreement

well under way by the end of next week, Mr. Reed predicted.

Senator Reed said there undoubtedly would be some radical opposition to the settlement proposal, but he was certain it would be approved by a wide margin. Nothing, he declared, has developed which might block ratification of the agreement.

Development of a plan whereby the voice of the public may be heard, "in conflicts between employer and employe, such as in the coal situation, was declared today by Secretary Hoover to be one of the most vital issues before us."

Discussion of means of anthracite distribution probably will be taken up at a conference here tomorrow, Mr. Hoover indicated.

Priorities already in effect under the interstate commerce commission's service order, he stated, give householders preference in the shipment of anthracite and the main problem now is the question of rapid distribution of hard coal as production is resumed.

Coal loadings Sept. 1 totalled 26,826 cars, according to reports received from the rail carriers of the country by the Association of Railway Executives. This was a reduction of 2201 cars from the preceding day, but represented an increase of 2269 cars over the average daily loading for September last year and was 9763 cars above the average daily loadings in August, 1922.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 5.—Any officer of the government who issues or causes to be issued "any illegal injunction, not in good faith and with the wilful intent" of depriving a person of his rights or intimidating him, would be held to have committed malfeasance in office under a bill introduced today by Representative Huddleston, democrat, Alabama.

WILD ANIMALS MOWED DOWN IN BIG HUNT

FAIRBANKS, Alaska, Sept. 5.—Caribou, rabbits, geese and bears, which moved down from the mountains surrounding this town yesterday, were mowed down in vast numbers by residents who joined in a community hunt. Miss Evelyn Houcke, assistant postmaster, was the target of a maddened caribou which charged at her automobile after the girl had fired one shot. Her second shot brought down the animal.

Two hundred automobiles and all the horsedrawn vehicles in town carried hunting parties. The movie men were out shooting caribou too. Several were killed by school children.

Old timers say the invasion of wild animals at this season is caused by the approach of cold weather.

TAKING A SPIN AROUND THE WORLD

Filled with wanderlust tempered with the desire to win a $25,000 prize, William J. Conroy, of Hollywood, Cal., stopped in Lowell today, on his walking trip around the world and back. Conroy is out to break Happy Jack's record of seven years for such a trip and if successful will receive the $25,000 award from the Fox News Co. of California.

He has been on the road now since Sept. 20, 1921, when he left the sunny city of Hollywood, and started forth with courageous heart on one of the most arduous trips known to mortal man. Imagine walking round the world and back again, facing climatic conditions, hunger, illness and injury, and hard luck. But youth is free from worry of the future and is able to quickly adapt itself to any condition that arises.

He has walked through 45 states since he left his native heath and at present is four months ahead of Happy Jack's schedule. Edgar De Hayes started with Conroy from Hollywood but dropped out of the endurance test when he struck New Brunswick, N. J. In that city Conroy picked up Irving Stephens, who thought that he would like to make the trip and receive the plaudits of an admiring world at the finish, seven years from now, but he only lasted as far as Boston. Conroy is still at it and figures that he has walked over 4000 miles in the last year.

Traveling from Lowell, he will strike into New Hampshire, across to Vermont and then to Maine. After arriving in Maine he will be done with the United States, having traversed the entire 48 states. He then intends to strike out for Nome, Alaska, the land of ice and snow, and travel from there to the nearest point of Asia by boat before the waters become encased in their coat of ice. From Asia he plans to walk through Russia and Siberia and thence through the countries of Europe. When he covers the entire European continent, he will make his way back to the United States and to his city of sunshine, Hollywood, where he will claim his reward.

His schedule will bring him into Alaska during that time when the Arctic is at its worst and when the mercury in the thermometer is frozen by the terrific cold. When questioned about this, he smiled and said that he crossed the Rocky mountains during last winter and guessed he could get along up there. This tow-headed fellow of 22 years seems to be made of the same mould as the hardy adventurers of old and is ready to face the world and all its hazards with a smile.

According to the conditions of the trip he must secure the signatures of the mayor and chief of police of every city that he passes through and must be able to show them on his return. He earns enough money on his trip to keep him going by the sale of postcards which tell of his proposed trip and how much of it he has accomplished. He travels bare headed at this time of the year and carries a camping equipment with him. When evening comes, he seeks some convenient barn, or if none is handy, rolls himself in his blankets in some grassy meadow and sleeps till dawn.

He says that such a trip is healthy in the extreme and that he has not suffered one ailment in his year of wandering. He confidently expects to beat the record of his predecessor, Happy Jack, by several months, wandering in to Hollywood in September, 1923, to receive the accolade of victory.

Willard Mack's Fourth Wife Leaves Him

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 5.—Willard Mack, dramatist, producer and actor, who is ill in the Stanford University hospital, is reported by the San Francisco Examiner today to have informed friends that his fourth wife, Beatrice Beebe Mack, actress, has left him. The Examiner says Mrs. Mack left last Thursday without explanation for Los Angeles, accompanied by her mother and her two children. His wife had been playing here and in San Jose in his play "Kickin." The newspaper quotes Mack as having declared to friends there would be no reconcilation. Mack's former wives were Maude Leone, Marjorie Rambeau and Pauline Frederick.

HELLO, MRS. LEE? CAN I SEE YOU ALONE FOR A MINUTE? I HAVE SOME VERY SPICEY NEWS FOR YOU!

BIG NIGHT FOR RALLIES

Mayor Sullivan of Worcester, Ex.-Gov. Foss and Gaston Speakers Heard Here

The Hon. Peter P. Sullivan, mayor of Worcester and a democratic candidate for the governorship of Massachusetts, held three enthusiastic rallies in this city Saturday night, speaking at Tower's corner, city hall and Paige street where large audiences listened attentively to the policies he propounded and the radical changes he proposed if chosen to represent the commonwealth in the governor's chair on Beacon Hill.

Mr. Sullivan was accompanied by his campaign manager, John B. Hannigan, also of Worcester and a very able and interesting orator. The latter acted as chairman at all the rallies and introduced Mayor Sullivan in appropriate style, giving a comprehensive review of the gubernatorial candidate's life and political record. He emphasized the fact that the Worcester mayor is a self-made man, a liberal-minded and a faithful public servant who believes in letting actions speak louder than words. "His campaign committee," said Mr. Hannigan, "is the citizenry of Massachusetts."

Candidate Sullivan stated that this was his first appearance, politically, in Lowell, but that he felt at home in the Spindle City, where he has a legion of friends. "Although my name, alphabetically, is the last on the ballot," he said, "there is a story in the bible which says 'the last shall be first,' and Peter F. Sullivan believes in the bible." Continuing, the speaker pointed out that he is mayor of a republican city, but despite this fact, he feels confident of carrying his own city by 20,000 votes, if given the nomination at the primaries, as Worcester is 99% behind him.

No pledges will be offered, he stated. "Other candidates, for whom I bear the kindest wishes, are making pledges concerning tax rates and tariffs, etc., but will they abide by these pledges? They talk of a living wage, why not a saving wage also?" Mr. Sullivan then proceeded to criticize the so-called billboard prosperity of the republican party and exhorted his hearers not to be swayed by propaganda of this nature, and cited cases in Worcester where real prosperity and peace have been maintained between capital and labor. Industrial troubles and strikes could be averted if only the governor interceded with mill owners and took the necessary preventive measures. Mr. Sullivan promises to do this if elected to the honorable position as head of the commonwealth. He said he did it effectively in his own city where the factory owners are wealthy, but explained that it was labor made them so. In concluding, His Honor emphasized that he entered the fight after some of the others, but he claimed that the sentiment of the western part of the state is strongly with him and that if he is able to carry Lowell and Lawrence, his victory is assured. "Any democrat can carry Boston," was his concluding remark, "but what I want on election day is a telephone call from Lowell, saying I've carried the city two to one."

Ex-Governor Foss

Ex-Governor Foss appeared on the stump in several rallies here Saturday evening as a candidate for the nomination for governor. He made a lengthy speech at city hall in which he reviewed his administration as governor, told of the things he had accomplished and outlined what he would accomplish, he said, if again elected governor. His speech was radically socialistic as he advocated government ownership of all public utilities and more pensions, and especially for the aged on reaching that period of life in which they can no longer pursue remunerative callings. Mr. Foss criticised the republican regime stating that if he were made governor he would clean the rascals out.

Gaston Speakers Heard

Several speakers were heard in the interest of Col. William A. Gaston, candidate for the nomination for United State senator. Cornelius Desmond, Jr., presided and made a stirring speech in support of Gaston's candidacy, showing that gentleman's consistent democracy, his loyalty to the people and his admiral equipment to represent Massachusetts in the high position of United States senator. In conclusion he introduced Hon. J. H. Sherry of Peabody.

Mr. Sherry entered into a vigorous discussion of the campaign issues, dealing with the wool schedule and other features of the tariff bill that will prove burdensome to the people. He charged that Senator Lodge made the statement that he represented all of the people as well as Massachusetts, although the other senators representing different states and different lines of industry, fought hard to secure every possible advantage in the new tariff law for their respective states. In this Senator Lodge assisted them to the detriment of his own state and all New England. The speaker then indicated what Col. Gaston would do if he were elected to take the place of Senator Lodge. He pointed out how Sen. David I. Walsh put up a vigorous fight for New England interests and said that the discrimination against New England and Massachusetts would stop if this commonwealth were represented in the senate by Hon. David I. Walsh and Col. William A. Gaston.

Other Speakers

Arthur K. Reading, candidate for district attorney, addressed the gathering in his own behalf although it contained very few republicans. He argued that he was the logical candidate and rather reflected upon the candidacy of his opponents, mentioning in a slighting way the two Lowell men who are candidates. He criticised James C. Reilly as lacking the experience necessary for the important office of district attorney and devoted much of his time to an explanation of an indictment brought against himself by a former district attorney, which he charged was wholly unjust. Possibly it was and his explanation of it seemed to so indicate, but evidently he did not convince the court that he was not guilty of the technical charge brought against him. It may be said in behalf of James C. Reilly that he has not to defend himself against any such charge.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our many friends, who by their expressions of sympathy and floral tributes, helped to lighten our great sorrow in the death of our beloved one.

PETER PANAGKOS SHOT

Police Seek Man Charged With Shooting—Old Feud Cause of Trouble

Since Sunday night the police have been searching for Louis Gianarakos, of 385 Adams street, who is alleged to have shot Peter Panagkos, of 52 Fenwick street, last Sunday night about nine o'clock at the corner of Fenwick and Market streets. Panagakos is in the Lowell Corporation hospital with a bullet wound in his abdomen and is in a weakened condition.

During the excitement that followed the attack and shooting, Gianarakos made his escape. Friends, however, say that he did not have much money with him and would not be able to get very far.

The doctors at the hospital report that Panagakos is somewhat improved over his condition since Sunday night when he was operated on. The bullet, which lodged near the spinal column, has not been removed yet because of the man's weakened condition.

The fracas occurred as Panagakos was on his way home from a coffee house on Market street where he had spent the evening with friends. It is alleged that Gianarakos waited for him in a darkened doorway and fired as the man approached. Panagakos fell to the sidewalk, crying out Gianarakos had shot him. The injured man was taken to Chagrulyn's drug store nearby and the ambulance was called. He was removed to the Corporation hospital and immediately operated on by Dr. A. R. Gardner.

The cause of the shooting is said to be a year-old feud between the two men, arising from an attack on Gianarakos by Panagakos armed with a knife. He was arrested at that time, February, 1921, and in the following December he was sentenced to serve one year in jail. He was released from jail a few weeks ago, after having served seven months of his one year sentence, and this was the first time that Gianarakos had seen him.

Through an interpreter, Panagakos stated to Sergt. Jas. Kennedy that he had spent the evening in the coffee house of Harry Ellcopoulos, and when on his way home was accosted by Gianarakos, who stepped from a darkened doorway, and fired the shot, after mumbling a few words.

CITY IN MARKET FOR VARIOUS ARTICLES

The city of Lowell was in the market today for 15 water hydrants, 20 tons of hay, 10 miles of fire department cable wire, laboratory and gymnasium equipment for the new high school and numerous other articles of routine nature.

Three bids were received on the hydrants, as follows: Fred Hondlette and Son, Boston, $65 each; Ludlow Valve Mfg. Co., Troy, N. Y., $61.40; Eddy Valve Co., Waterford, N. Y., $61.50.

To supply 10 miles of cable wire for fire department use, W. T. S. Bartlett bid $435; R. V. Pettingell Co., Boston, $463 and J. A. Thomson, $420.65, or 11¾ cents per pound.

W. Smith bid $25.00 per ton on 20 tons of hay for the street department. The only other bidder was J. Bowers, $30.

There were six requisitions covering laboratory equipment. To supply gymnasium equipment for the high school, W. T. S. Bartlett bid $2116.60 and the Narragansett Machine Co., $2200.

FUNERALS

GREEN—The funeral of Thomas F. Green took place yesterday morning at 9.30 o'clock from his home, 103 Andover street, and was largely attended. At the Immaculate Conception church at 10 o'clock a solemn high funeral mass was celebrated by Rev. Owen P. McQuaid, O.M.I., assisted by Very Rev. L. F. Tighe, O.M.I., as deacon and Rev. Charles Barry, O.M.I., as sub-deacon. Present within the sanctuary was Rev. Denis A. Sullivan, O.M.I. The choir augmented for the occasion sang the Gregorian chant under the direction of Charles P. Smith. At the offertory "Domini Jesu Christe" was given by Thomas P. Boulger and after the elevation Miss Margaret Knowles sang "O Salutaris." At the conclusion of the mass Thomas A. Ginty sang "Pie Jesu" and after the absolution Miss Isabel McKiernan sang "O Meritum Passionis." The solos in the mass were sustained by James E. Donnelly and the solos in the Libera by Mrs. Hugh Walker, who also presided at the organ. The solos in "De Profundis" were sustained by David P. Martin. The church was well filled with friends and relatives as the deceased was well and favorably known throughout the city. The bearers were Frank Reed, Jeremiah Dooley, Daniel Hogan, Hugh McQuade, George McNulty and Eugene Crane. There were many floral and spiritual offerings. Burial was in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery where the committal prayers were read by Rev. Fr. McQuaid. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Thos. A. Ginty, under the direction of Undertakers James F. O'Donnell & Sons.

NEWTON—The funeral of Christina Newton took place this morning at 8.30 o'clock from her home, 223 Worthen street and was largely attended. The cortege proceeded to St. Patrick's church where, at 9 o'clock, a mass of requiem was celebrated by Rev. James A. Supple, D.D. The choir, under the direction of Mr. Michael J. Johnson, rendered the Gregorian chant, the solos being sustained by Miss Frances Tighe and Mr. D. S. O'Brien. Mr. Johnson presided at the organ. The church was well filled with friends and neighbors whose sympathy for the stricken family was very apparent. SALE OF BUILDINGS TO BE REMOVED

Situated at No. 9 First Street, and No. 11 First Street and No. 17 First Street, and No. 21 First Street, Centralville, and No. 773 Middlesex Street, opposite the Franklin School—

ON THURSDAY, THE SEVENTH DAY OF SEPTEMBER, 1922
AT 3 O'CLOCK P. M.

Commencing at No. 9 First Street and following in the order named, the Middlesex Street building to be sold on the premises after the sale of the Centralville buildings.

The above buildings are ordered sold as they stand at date of sale at public auction to whomsoever will bid the most by order of the Park Department of the City of Lowell, upon the express conditions that the said buildings shall be removed from the premises upon which they are now situated within 20 days from date of sale.

The building at No 9 First Street is a dwelling house of 2½ stories in height, and is about 22x61, and has twelve rooms, bathroom, toilet and open plumbing, and piazzas, front and side.

The building at No. 11 First Street is a 2½ story house and has 13 rooms, open plumbing, bathroom, furnace heat, electric lights, and piazzas front and side and is about 226x61.

The building at No. 17 First Street is a full 2½ story slated roof dwelling containing 13 rooms, with bath, hot and cold water, having a modern steam heating plant and is about 25x24.

The building at No. 21 First Street is a 3-story slated roof dwelling, having 10 rooms and two toilets, modern open plumbing, bath, large open unfinished attic on the third floor, has electric lights, open fire places and large piazzas and is about 50x27.

The building at No. 773 Middlesex Street, is of the cottage type, one story in height, containing five rooms and is about 16x30.

The above buildings are to be sold as personal property and in separate lots on their respective sites upon the express conditions as above stated, that said buildings shall be removed from the land upon which they now stand within 20 days from date of sale.

In almost each instance the houses are supplied with copper hot water boilers, piped for gas and water, and the building at No. 11 First Street has furnace heat and the buildings at Nos. 17-21 are supplied with steam boilers. This is a most unusual opportunity at the present high prices of building materials to secure already constructed dwellings that can be made ready for occupancy in very short time.

TERMS: A deposit of 50 per cent of the purchase price shall be required of the purchaser of each lot as soon as struck off. The balance in five days from date of sale.

By order of
PARK DEPARTMENT of the City of Lowell,
John W. Kernan, Supt.

Occupants of Market Street Block Driven Out By Early Morning Fire

Members of four families were driven to the street early this morning when fire broke out in the block owned by Harry Demaras at 457 Market street. So menacing did the fire appear that a second alarm was sent in by Chief Saunders as a means of protecting closely adjacent property.

The fire was discovered shortly after 1 o'clock by Patrolman William Murphy and Constantine Koulsonikoles and before the firemen arrived they had aroused at least a score of persons who were sleeping on the second and third floors. Their prompt work in the smoke-filled building made escape possible for the members of the four families living there.

Apparently the fire had its origin on the ground floor in the rear of a restaurant owned by Christos Ziogkos and George Zoulelos. Evidently the flames spread rapidly through the restaurant before breaking through the outer walls as the interior was a roaring furnace when the first alarm apparatus arrived. Two pieces of apparatus standing at the curb were scorched as the flames shot out from the building and several hose lines and electric light wires were burned.

Escaping gas added fuel for the flames and before the firemen could begin effective work the fire had worked its way into the upper floors. At least half the block was gutted before the fire was under control.

The adjoining block was the scene of a two-alarm fire a few weeks ago when the fruit store of Harry Eliacopoulos was burned. This fire resulted in an investigation by the state fire marshal, but Chief Saunders said after last night's fire that he saw no evidences which would call for an investigation of the Demaras property.

SUPERIOR COURT OPENS

Fall Term of Criminal Session Opened Here Today —Lowell Cases

The fall term of the criminal session of the superior court opened in this city this morning with Justice Hammond on the bench. Prayer was offered by Rev. N. W. Matthews of the Gorham Street P. M. church and the list of jurors was called. Nine of those called for jury duty were excused for various reasons and then there was a brief recess during which time Justice Hammond went into the other court room and opened the grand jury session.

In the course of the forenoon the following cases were called and disposed of:

John J. Jajuja and Barbara Molta, statutory offence. Both pleaded guilty and the man was fined $100 and the woman $25.

John Perry, alias, statutory offence. He pleaded guilty and was placed on probation.

William J. McGlinchey pleaded guilty to a charge of keeping liquor and was fined $50.

Charles Bergeron, who pleaded guilty to a statutory offence, was ordered to pay a fine of $100.

Francisco Paulino admitted his guilt to a charge of drunkenness and was placed on probation.

George Jeogas failed to put in an appearance when his case for liquor keeping was called and he was ordered defaulted, a capias being issued for his arrest.

Shortly before noon court adjourned until tomorrow morning at East Cambridge.
